WEATHER—It's going to be fair tonight and tomorrow, but not quite so warm. That helps some.

BY VELLA WINNER

MARKETING. Oregon asparagus is scarce on account of the recent cold weather, and on account of its superior quality the long, lean grass, as the dealers call it, that comes in in small quantities from Hood River and the Willamette valley is quickly picked up by discriminating buyers. Considerable California asparagus is being shipped in, but its quality is not up to the Oregon standard.

CHICKENS ARE CHEAPER than at any time in years. Their cheapness is due to the high price of feed. Many country people are getting their setting hens to market, rather than feed them. Veal is another cheap commodity in the meat line; it is the cheapest meat on the market today.

SILK COBWEB UNDERWEAR is the newest thing in underwear. I was shown a big line of these new "underwear" at a big downtown shop yesterday. It is the gauziest stuff imaginable, and will be admirable for warm days.

APPEZIZING GOOSEBERRY is now on the market in great quantities, and at prices amazingly cheap. There is no more delectable "eatie" than gooseberry pie and if possible, or in lieu of that, a gooseberry preserve is quite as good.

MOCK ANGEL CAKE. Here is a recipe for what to me is a new cake, a mock angel cake, more tasty than the usual angel cake, and not so expensive: One cup sugar, 1 1/4 cups unsifted flour, 3 teaspoons baking powder, pinch salt, sift dry ingredients together, add 1 egg, beat milk gradually, teaspoon vanilla. Very carefully fold in well beaten whites of 2 eggs. Bake in moderate oven.

MOTHER'S DAY will be observed next Sunday throughout the world. In this age of rush and bustle, isn't it a beautiful thing to have our president set aside the second Sunday in May as a day for honoring the mothers of the land. If you are so fortunate to have your mother near you, why not plan a little "mother's day" dinner for her, a family reunion if possible, or in lieu of that a gathering of a few of her own friends. Include in the menu some of the savory old fashioned viands dear to your mother's heart and center your table with spicy carnations, the "official posy" of Mother's day, and of course you will place one beside the plate of each guest.

THE SHOPPER. This gives us a promise of being a white season, insofar as further importations of dyes are concerned. Accounting, afternoon or any other—Oh, how charmingly keyed up to a picnic of intense curiosity as to what is going to happen. At least 40 members from Portland will see that it happens right, assisted by a score of others. There will be a class initiation and a grand frolic.

Social Hour Held. Oregon Comandry Knights Templar held a social hour at the Masonic Temple last night attended by many visitors and members.

NEW FADS IN GLOVES. "I'd like a half dozen pairs of long, white silk gloves, please." "I'll show you some of the latest models. Do you wish afternoon gloves, or gloves for a dance frock, or lingerie dresses, or for street wear?"

The smartly dressed woman beside me looked surprised at the saleswoman's question. It was evident she had not been watching the fashion reports as I had.

"Models in gloves; what do you mean?" I have always worn the same silk gloves with all my gowns, morning, afternoon or any other—Oh, how charmingly keyed up to a picnic of intense curiosity as to what is going to happen. At least 40 members from Portland will see that it happens right, assisted by a score of others. There will be a class initiation and a grand frolic.

When an old man falls in love and tries to appear young, he fools everybody except the balance of the people in town.

TOMORROW'S MEETINGS. 12:30 P. M.—MONTHLY LUNCHEON COUNCIL OF OREGON FEDERATION WOMEN'S CLUBS, Crystal room, Hotel Eastport. 2 P. M.—MUSICAL AND CARD PARTY by TUESDAY AFTERNOON CLUB at Irvington clubhouse for benefit of Council Federation fund. 3 P. M.—SILVER TEA by IRVINGTON PARENT-TEACHER ASSOCIATION with Mrs. E. G. Titus, Tillamook, dear to your mother's heart and center your table with spicy carnations, the "official posy" of Mother's day, and of course you will place one beside the plate of each guest.

Little Stories for Bedtime

Buster Bear Is Interested.
I am a little Quaddy! Dee, dee, chickadee!
I am a little Quaddy and happy as can be.
So sang Tommy Tit the Chickadee, as he flitted through the Green Forest. Buster Bear heard him. He cocked his head on one side and listened.

"Woof, woof!" exclaimed Buster Bear in the deep, rumbling, grumbly voice. "What is that you are saying, Tommy Tit?"

"I'm saying that I'm glad I'm a Quaddy," replied Tommy, hanging head down from the tip of a branch. "And pray tell me what is a Quaddy?" asked Buster Bear, his little eyes twinkling with interest.

"My gracious, Buster Bear, do you mean to say you don't know about the Quaddies? Well, they are the most important people in the world. Don't you see that if everybody lives up to his promise to warn all his neighbors against common danger, and to do a kindly deed whenever it is going to make life ever so much easier and better for all of us?"

"It's a good idea, a very good idea," declared Buster. "It is one of the best ideas I have ever heard of. What is the reason I can't join?"

Tommy Tit looked doubtful. "Why, in the first place," he exclaimed, "a Quaddy is a little quadruped, and you are not little. My gracious, no! I don't see how anybody as big as you are could ever be a Quaddy."

"But I'm a quadruped," declared Buster. "It seems to me that I have more right to be a Quaddy than you."

makers. Never has a season promised such devotion to a style or color as this season, offers black and white.

This silk glove is for the traveling gown—the shopping costume or the looking-habit. It is made of black and white, with a black and white wrist frill and fine black pointing. The "Queen Elizabeth" as this glove is termed, also comes in all white, in black and white, and in the fashionable neutral tints. It already has a host of admirers among the women who like to be "fit to the finger tips."

There are many new ideas shown in the stitching and pointing on the silk gloves. One rich effect is obtained by the combination of black and white stitching, giving a mottled effect. This comes on both long and short silk gloves and is one of those little inspirations that raise the most conservative costumes above the common-places.

The day has passed when we can shop for "six pairs of white silk gloves, please" as we choose our gowns and our hats.

"La Gioconda" Is Splendidly Sung.
"La Gioconda" was splendidly sung and acted last night at the Baker by the Italian Grand Opera company, with Katherine Lynbrook, dramatic soprano, in the leading role. She gave a wonderfully dramatic performance in the last act, which rested nearly entirely upon her. Luisa Cecchetti, contralto, suffered from a cold, which necessitated the elimination of a part of the second act.

Olinto Lombardi, the basso, was almost given an ovation for his splendid singing of the role of Alvise Badoero. Gerolamo Ingar was the tenor, and Phillip Benyan the baritone, both

The world has known what Cottolene is for over a quarter of a century

Cottolene established a class of its own over a generation ago. Cottolene was in the front rank of the great movement for bettering household service and for improving food products. Its manufacture and its constituents are as well known as the simplest things done in every kitchen.

Cottolene

The cottonseed oil in Cottolene is pressed from selected seed—it is a grade so choice that it is not listed on the market. It is purer, sweeter and better in food value than most salad oils. The beef stearine is the product of the finest leaf beef suet known.

It is the exact combination of these two fats which gave Cottolene its high place over a quarter of a century ago, and which has held this place for it. Cottolene is economical, but better than that it actually improves the quality and flavor of all foods cooked with it.
