

DEPARTMENT STORE RECEIVES GOODS IN BOND FROM THE EAST

Olds, Wortman & King Patronize Home Port in Matter of Clearances.

JOURNAL PLAN INDORSED

Suggestions That Portland Might Get Japanese Line to Make Portland Port of Call.

Every pound of merchandise that enters the port of New York bound directly to the firm of Olds, Wortman & King comes through in bond for clearance at the Portland custom house.

Without commenting on all the factors that go toward Portland's decline during the last few years, Mr. Wortman was inclined to wonder that the Union Pacific system has not taken up actively the question of direct and regular steamer service to the orient.

Much of the import goods from the far east, such as fine silks, is entered at Seattle and is hurried east to distributing and manufacturing centers of New England and New Jersey in solid bonded freight trains.

Mr. Wortman expressed the opinion that if negotiations could be made with one of the great Japanese steamship lines to make Portland a regular port of call, a decided stimulus would be felt in the customs receipts and in general prestige of the port.

In the meantime, however, he said Portland merchants who receive imports should insist that their wares be sent here in bond for clearing at this custom house.

FULL TEXT OF UNITED STATES NOTE TO BERLIN GOVERNMENT GIVEN TO PUBLIC

attention of the imperial German government with the utmost earnestness to the fact that the objection to their present method of attack against the trade of their enemies lies in the practical impossibility of employing submarines in the destruction of commerce without disregarding these rules of fairness, reason, justice and humanity, which all modern opinion regards as imperative.

"These facts, it is understood, the imperial German government frankly admit. We are informed that in the instances of which we have spoken time enough for even that poor measure of safety was not given, and in at least two of the cases cited not so much as a warning was received. Manifestly submarines cannot be used against merchantmen, as the last few weeks have shown, without an inevitable violation of many sacred principles of justice and humanity.

"American citizens act within their indisputable right in taking their ships and in traveling wherever their legitimate business calls them upon the high seas, and exercise those rights in what should be the well-justified confidence that their lives will not be endangered by acts done in clear violation of universally acknowledged international obligation, and certainly in the confidence that their own government will sustain them in the exercise of their rights.

"WARNING DOES NOT EXCUSE UNLAWFUL ACT "There was recently published in the newspapers of the United States, I regret to inform the imperial government, a formal warning purporting to come from the imperial German embassy at Washington, addressed to the people of the United States, and stating in effect that any citizen of the United States who exercised his right of free travel upon the seas would do so at his peril if his journey should take him within the zone of waters within which the imperial German navy was using submarines against the commerce of Great Britain and France, notwithstanding the respectful but very earnest protest of his government, the government of the United States.

"I do not refer to this for the purpose of calling the attention of the imperial German government at this time to the surprising irregularity of a communication from the imperial German embassy at Washington addressed to the people of the United States through the newspapers, but only for the purpose of pointing out that no warning that an unlawful and inhumane act would be committed can possibly be accepted as an excuse or palliation for that act or as an abatement of the responsibility for its commission.

"HOPES ORDERS WERE MISAPPREHENDED "Long acquainted as this government has been with the character of the imperial German government and with the high principles of equity by which they have in the past been actuated and guided, the government of the United States cannot believe that the commanders of the vessels which committed these acts of lawlessness did so except under a misapprehension of the orders issued by the German naval authorities. It takes it for granted that, at least within the practical possibilities of every such case, the commanders even of submarines were expected to do nothing that would involve the lives of non-combatants or the safety of neutral ships, even at the cost of failing of their object of capture or destruction. It confidently expects, therefore, that the imperial German government will disavow the acts of which the government of the United States complains, that they will make reparation so far as reparation is possible for injuries granted that, at least within the practical possibilities of every such case, the commanders even of submarines were expected to do nothing that would involve the lives of non-combatants or the safety of neutral ships, even at the cost of failing of their object of capture or destruction.

"The government and people of the United States look to the imperial German government for just and prompt and enlightened action in this vital matter with the greater confidence because the United States and Germany are bound together not only by special ties of friendship, but also by the explicit stipulations of the treaty of 1828 between the United States and the Kingdom of Prussia.

"Expressions of regret and offers of reparation in case of the destruction of neutral ships sunk by mistake, while they may satisfy international obligations, if no loss of life results, cannot justify or excuse a practice, the natural and necessary effect of which is to subject neutral nations and neutral persons to new and immeasurable risks.

"The imperial German government will not expect the government of the United States to omit any word or any act necessary to the performance of its sacred duty of maintaining the rights of the United States and its citizens and of safeguarding their free exercise and enjoyment.

"The program was: 1—Terrill's trumpeters; 2—song, Dr. Fred Gulick, assisted by Mr. Kreisler; 3—solo, Miss Duncan; 4—song, Miss Jennie Clow; 5—violin selection, Albert first class entertainment next month. The date will be announced later. Three Main Events Staged. San Francisco, May 14.—(P. N. S.)—Three main events will be staged in the weekly four round carnival at Dreamland rink tonight.

DOC STEWART IS WORKING KINKS FROM ATHLETES

Chicago Tossers Will Make Tour of Orient

Chicago, Ill., May 14.—(I. N. S.)—Maroon ball players will make a trip to Japan late this summer, according to a decision reached by the athletic board of the University of Chicago, which accepted the invitation given by the University of Japan, to the Midway team to play in the Orient this year.

 Oregon Agricultural College, Corvallis, Or., May 14.—Coach E. J. Stewart and his seven Oregon Agricultural college track stars arrived home today from the Pacific Coast meet held in San Francisco last Saturday. Their delay in getting back from the Golden Gate was due to washout near Red Bluff, Cal., which held them up two days. However "Doc" kept things moving for his charges and arranged stops on the way long enough to unlash his men and allow them to stretch their legs, after which a good rub down completed training for the day, outside of three "squares" which were tucked under the belt at a 10-second clip.

 Due to Coach Stewart's delay in returning and fearing that the men would be in poor condition, Everett May, manager of athletics, cancelled the track and field meet to be held with the Multnomah club on the local oval Saturday afternoon. This meet was originally scheduled for April 23, but postponed by the club officials.

 The next dual meet on the Aggie schedule is with their old time rivals, the University of Oregon, on May 27. "Doc" is going to begin driving his men with a severance that may result in some muscles or stiff legs for awhile, but will get them in the best of condition when the time comes to match up with Bill Hayward's galaxy of stars.

 The Oregon trainer's ire has been fired, since the locals placed ahead of his men in the Pacific Coast meet, "Bill" is going to leave no stone un-

 Each rider will make the one mile circuit ten times, changing horses every half mile. There are no restrictions as to riders' or horses' past records, and indications are plenty that some of the best in the country will line up for the start.

The games played will include contests with at least one California university, with the universities of Waseda, Keio and Meiji, in Japan, and perhaps with teams in the Philippines. No definite plans have been announced as yet about the time of departure of the players that will be taken on the trip.
