NEW JUVENILE JUDGE OUTLINES POLICIES TO MOTHERS' CONGRESS

Parent Has No Right to Child in Improper Environment, He Says.

T. J. CLEETON IS SPEAKER

others to Meet at First Presbyterian Church. Because library hall, where the sessions have been held, was crowded at today's sessions, tonight's session of the National Congress of Mothers will be held at the First Presbyterian church, Twelfth and Alder streets.

The program tonight includes an address on "Home Credits," by L. R. Alderman, city school superintendent and a soprano 4 solo by Mrs. Jane Burns Albert.

'I want to enlist every public school eacher in Portland under the banner of the juvenile court."

Delegates to the National Congress of Mothers, in session at library hall this morning, greeted with applause this statement of T. J. Cleeton, recently appointed judge of that court, "The juvenile court is simply a de-partment of the public schools," said Judge Cleeton. "It takes up the work with the child where the teacher's au-where the teacher is helpless. "When I take up the duties of juve nile judge, the court will go into the home, where the teacher cannot go. If the teachers will tell me, as I hope they will, just what home environments are not good, the juvenile court will go in and do what it can to better thority ends. It has judicial power

those environments."

Judge Cleeton declared that "parents have no right to their children unless they give them the proper moral en-vironment at least." Where this environment is not provided, he said it is the function of the court to step in. He asked for cooperation with his parent-teacher associations, mothers' congresses and all other organizations whose objects are educaonal and moral betterment.

Cleeton for Cooperation, "My purpose," he said, "will be to organize or amalgamate all these organizations with the juvenile court, with the watchword, 'Cooperation.'" Judge Cleeton said that workers in

Mrs. Charles C. Noble of Los Angeles, chairman of the national membership committee, in making her report urged that social calls and personal invitations supplement the printings. To get members interested and hold them in the work, she suggested giving them a place on the programs and committee work.

Mrs. Milton P. Higgins of Massachusetts made a plea for increased subscriptions for the Child Welfare Magazine, official organ of the national Congress of Mothers and Parent-Teacher associations.

Mrs. Robert H. Tate of Portland making the report on child hygiene, told of the work that is being done all over the nation for better babies.

Pavors Kindergartens. Miss Bessie Locke of New York, national chairman of kindergarten extension work, urged that a kindergarten organizer be secured for Oregon, and said that arrangements might be made for the National Kindergarten association to help defray her expenses. Of 521 new Parent-Teacher circles organized in 18 states during the past year, 410 have affiliated with the National Congress of Mothers, according to the report of Mrs. C. E. Beach of Olympia, western chairman of the department of Parent-Teacher associa tions of the National Congress. Nineteen states, she said, have not reported, so that it is impossible to show the growth of the Parent-Teacher movement for the year in figures. Mrs. Beach spoke in place of Mrs. Walter Leroy Smith, national chairman Parent-Teacher extension work, who could not attend. She suggested a more active state organization whose business it shall be to write to each new Parent-Teacher association, showing the advantage of state and national associations.

More Help is Needed.

"We need more help in the office at Washington," said Mrs. W. F. Thacker, treasurer of the National Congress, following her report, in which it was shown that the total receipts of the national organization for the year are $13,319.81, with a balance on hand of $858.33. Hotel Clerks Will See the Wonders Along Highway

Hotel clerks and attendants at the information bureau of the Chamber of Commerce are to see the Columbia River highway. Following the appearance of an article in The Journal yesterday containing interviews which revealed how little the inquiry answerers know about the scenic road, H. D.
