Clay Worker Has Idea Patented

Willamina, Or., May 22 .- For several years Marvin A. Nicol was a mechanic in the Pacific Face Brick companies' plant here. While working he noticed that the working of the Muller wheel in the process of grinding the clay, had a tendency to wear out the center of the wheel much faster than the outside. Accoringly he began work on an invention to remedy this defect. His invention consists of a twin tire or the wheel, made of heavy steel and so arranged that it can be put on and taken off. The tires are held in place by a lug device, which is also patented. In this way when the tires become worn on the inside they can be taken off and reversed, which practically doubles their life, as well as making the wheel run more smoothly.

A patent has been issued by the U.
U. S. government and Nicol is now trying to place his invention on the market. The clay industry is one of large proportions and men competent to judge are of the opinion that his invention will materially benefit clay manufacturers. Mrs. Cosper Long in Service.

Sun Shines on Throngs and Diversi fied Entertainment Provided for All.

Oregon City, Or., May 22.-Farmers of Clackamas county and merchants and people of Oregon City are better acquainted than they were yesterday as a result of the general good feel-ing which prevailed today throughout the annual Rose Festival, Booster Day and Stock Show, The primary object of this annual festal day is to hold a "get-together" meeting between Oregon City and the rest of Clackamas county, and that object was attained yesterday. More farmers were in the city than have been here before for a

The sun shone for the entire day. The school children's pageant on the courthouse green attracted more attention than any other one feature on the program. Dressed in bright colors, the children danced folk dances. The art exhibit of the schools and photographic display in the Weinhard building entertained crowds all day. The decorated vehicle parade in the afternoon was a big success. Louise and King Harold in the royal coach, and the decorated single vehicle from Glen Oak farm drew the
