EASTERN EGGS PUT IN STORAGE HERE TO PUT

Eight Carloads From East of Rockles Reported Imported by Meat Company Because It Wanted to Hold Down Local Price.

TOTALS TO HIGH POINT

Eight cars of eastern eggs were reported received in this market for storage by a local meat company allied with eastern interests, during the last few days.

Black Tartarians.

Strawberries were not very pientiful from home sections either on Front street or on the East Side Farmers' market this morning.

Sales on both markets were reported at $1.10 terests, during the last few days. Storage stocks of eggs here are today the most liberal ever known and the movement into ice houses continues despite talk to the contrary by affected interests.

With the present heavy supply of local eggs in storage, it is figured by the trade that there is sufficient ice house goods available for all wants of the trade until at least January 1, when the market is always more of less doubtful. Therefore it is argued by the Chicago, May 27.—(I. N. S.)—May wheat trade that the importations of eastern eggs closed 5%c off; July %c up and September were not only unnecessary, but actually a de-triment to the local industry. The gr It is reported that the parties who brought the open in the eastern eggs to store here were the ones who were persistently bearish during the flush of the local season, therefore were flush of the local season, therefore were awaiting still lower prices before taking hold. When the importers really figured that the market would go no lower, it was then too late to get in the supplies wanted.

EGG MARKET HOLDS WELL Market for eggs is holding well along the street with sales general at 19c for case count, although a few are reported to be asking a fraction above this. Some that are candling select quality are asking a fraction more.

HOLIDAY ON STREET MONDAY Monday will be a holiday on Front street as it will be in the grain market and in the eastern financial centers. On the street the houses will remain open during the morning to take care of express shipments. but practically no business is expected, be-cause the retailers will close.

CALIFORNIA PEAS ARE POOR Owing to extreme poor quality, California peas are disappearing from the local trade. and local stock of better quality is making its appearance in improved supply. California stock sold at almost any price to clean up.

BRIEF NOTES OF THE TRADE Banana train arrived with fruit in good condition. Carload Florida tomatoes due here today.

Demand good.

Fresh salmon continues scarce with Columbia river at $12c and Puget sound 11c a pound.

Gooseberries continue very slow sale at 2½

CHERRIES COME FROM SECTIONS CLOSE TO HOME

Cherries from northwest sections are arriving somewhat more freely in the local market. Some very good quality is showing from the Lewiston-Clarkston country, packed in 10 pound boxes. These are finding anle slowly at $1.00@'1.25 a box.

Cherries from The Dalles are still somewhat below expectations of the trade so far as quality is concerned. Most of the fruit is uncolored and therefore unfit for sale at best prices.

From the immediate vicinity of Portland. From the immediate vicinity of Portland, cherries are coming forward in small sup-ply. The best offerings at this time are

The grain trade was unsettled today. At the opening of the market July and September wheat options were higher. May wheat was down ¼: July started with an advance of the crop outlook. Sherman county especially has come in for unstinted praise.

Cash wheat was weak. Students in the pit regard the cash article as in the weak est position in months.

There is no demand for wheat from the property of the crop outlook. Sherman county especially has come in for unstinted praise.

"I never saw the wheat crop condition in Sherman county or anywhere in central Oregon so good as at this time," says C. S. Jackson, publisher of The Journal, who was at Wasco yesterday, attending the reception given Sam exporters and interior millers have been sell-ing their surplus cash wheat for more than Values in the corn trade were somewhat higher at the opening.

The market appeared to be in a good trading position. Oats were slightly higher, wille BUTTER GOING INTO STORAGE

With increased strength shown in the butter market, greater supplies are being rushed into storage. Creamery interests are making no aggressive campaign to sell goods because of the call for storage.

VEAL MARKET IS SLUMPING

Fully another half cent has been cut off the price of veals along Front street, with extreme tops at 10½c and poor stuff selling down to 6c. Dressed hogs are better sellers than yeal at 10@10½c tor tops.

DEMAND OF WOOL MEN FOR PROPER SHERMAN COUNTY IS

OF GOOD PROMISE

While rather fair prices were offered for wool at both the Echo and Pendleton sales, the values were below what similar goods have sold for in other sections of the country. Therefore grower-holders refused to accept the bids.

Failure of both the Echo and Pendleton as well as Idaho growers to accept bids offered by wool buyers, really does not mean that the stocks will not move.

With the greatest shortage ever known in the world's fleece trade and with the more liberal as well as hurry up demand for war woolens, manufacturers will not be able to sidestep the market for any great extended period.

"Sherman county has good farmers," says Mir. Jackson. "They are farming better there now than when I lived at Pendleton 13 years ago. The ground has been placed in an unusually favorable condition and the wheat growers are getting results in good crops. Adversity has taught them the way."

With ship charter rates climbing higher and higher and establishing new high records almost every day, the market price for wheat here is affected, especially as foreign markets are showing weakness and lower prices instead of following the advances being forced by the higher freights.

WHEAT OUTLOOK IS GOOD

Ridgefield, Wash., May 27.—The weather this season has, so far, been very favorable to grain growing. There has been an exceptional amount of rain this month, showers having fallen every day for more than the past two weeks. While the weather has been deliled the temperature has been instances yielding as high as 50 bushels per acre, cats, much heavier. Much new ground has been sown to grain and is doing splendidly. In many frields the grain is over three feet in heighth and the stalks are thick
