Man Struck by Auto Still Unconscious

J. A. Porter, 35 years old, who was struck by an automobile driven by R. T. Walgren, son of J. Walgren, 634 Thurman street, at Twelfth and Stark streets at 11:15 o'clock last night, is still unconscious at the St. Vincent's hospital, and the extent of his injuries has not been determined. It is not believed he is fatally injured.

Young Walgren was arrested by Detectives Hoyle and Moloney and Motorcycle Patrolmen Tully, Morris and Ervin, charged with failing to stop and render assistance to his victim. J. R. Nelson, who was in Walgren's automobile, was detained as a witness. Another man and two women who were with Walgren were not held.

An Englishman has invented a machine which is said to perform the work done by a hand polisher on furniture.

MONTANA DAMSELS PAY HOMAGE UNTO ROSES OF PORTLAND

Fragrant Flowers Vast Improvement Over Scrub Oak and Sage Brush.

"Oh, those roses! What a change from scrub oak and sage brush." Such was the composite exclamation of some seven young women from Miles City, Mont., who are on their way to the San Francisco exposition as guests of the Shore-Newsome company. They spent three hours here Wednesday afternoon and were disappointed when train time came.

The party is chaperoned by Miss Gertrude J. Fritz and Dr. Sadie Souder. While their private car was being switched around the terminal

ENGINEER IS KILLED WHEN HE JUMPS OFF RUNAWAY ENGINE

Jesse Russell Employed by Spaulding Logging Co. 15 Years, Victim.

Salem, Or., May 28.—Jesse Russell, engineer of a logging engine for the Spaulding Logging company, was crushed to death under his train late yesterday. He lost control of the train on a steep grade, three miles west of Black Rock, and jumped, but struck an embankment and was thrown back under the wheels. Fireman William Lentz jumped and escaped injury. Conductor I. H. Vinson stayed on the train and was not injured.

Russell, who was unmarried, and about 35 years old, had been employed

"HOLSUM" Bread

Meat and fancy foods run up bills and run down health. Why not get back to good old-fashioned bread and butter—that's a remedy for poor digestion and the high cost of living. But be sure of the bread.

Don't take just anything that's labeled bread. Be careful that the bread you eat is made of pure materials and that it is made in a clean bakery. You may avoid these chances by just saying HOLSUM to the grocer man.

It is baked in a bakery which is as clean as your own kitchen and where bread is made almost entirely without that personal human handling and contact so common in ordinary bakeries. HOLSUM Bread is Made Clean—Sold Clean—Delivered Clean
