

What Society is Doing

BY NONA LAWLER

MRS. ALFRED TUCKER entertained informally Wednesday afternoon in honor of Miss Priscilla Goodenough of Hood River today, whose engagement to Harold Tucker was recently announced at Hood River.

Mrs. Warren M. Knight and Mrs. Carl Wernicke served punch in the library, assisted by Miss Stephanie Strain.

Presiding in the dining room were Mrs. S. S. Montague, Mrs. Jesse Stearns, Mrs. H. S. Butterfield and Mrs. H. L. Shepard, assisted by Miss Genevieve Butterfield, Miss Elsie Lee, Miss Catherine Davis and Miss Carol Montague.

Assisting the hostess were Mrs. C. N. Huggins, Mrs. H. H. O'Reilly, Mrs. James N. Davis, Mrs. C. B. Baker, Mrs. R. W. Montague and Mrs. Hicks C. Fenton.

Miss Huggins and Virginia Fenton received the guests at the door.

Society Women Take Interest in Floral Parade.

The executive committee of the board of patronesses of the floral parade, of which Mrs. Helen La. Corbett is chairman, Miss Henrietta Failing vice chairman and Miss Valentine Prichard secretary, are desirous of securing names and addresses of all Portland society and club women who will enter decorated cars in the festival pageant June 10. Names should be telephoned to Miss Prichard at Marshall 2478. The festival headquarters, Main 2800 or A-3676, will also take entries. This committee wants to get in touch at once with pony riders or drivers of pony carts.

Miss Helen Stokes Wed.

Of interest to her many Portland friends is the marriage of Miss Helen Stokes to Eugene Eric Vaik of Los Angeles which took place at that city Friday, May 21. Miss Helen Stokes and her daughter were passing the winter in the southern California city and the young couple met shortly after their arrival last fall. All the appointments of the wedding were quite simple. Miss Stokes has passed the summer here for several years with her sister and brother-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. James E. Davidson. Mr. Vaik is popular socially in Los Angeles where he is engaged in business.

Rosenfeld-Lang Wedding.

The wedding of Miss Gladys Lang and Dr. James Rosenfeld, which will be solemnized next Wednesday, is one of the important social events of next week. Both Miss Lang and Dr. Rosenfeld are popular members of the younger set. Owing to the recent bereavement in the family of the bridegroom-elect, they have not accepted any prenuptial entertaining. Mr. and Mrs. S. W. Dittenhofer of St. Paul have arrived from the east to be guests of Mr. and Mrs. Isadore Lang until after the wedding. Mrs. Dittenhofer is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lang.

Post-Nuptial Reception.

Dr. and Mrs. A. W. Moore have sent out cards for a post-nuptial reception at their home, 135 East Twelfth street, for the pleasure of their new bride, Mrs. and Mr. Harry B. Moore (nee Rice), Friday evening, June 4.

Classmates Honored.

A pretty affair in the social calendar of the young people was the card party given by Miss Marcella Larkins, 25 East Ninth street, north, Tuesday evening, in honor of her classmates and a few friends. "Five hundred" was played and several thoroughly enjoyable numbers were rendered, while refreshments were later enjoyed. Those present were the Misses Theresa Stopper, Lena Shannon, Irene Kinney, Tessie Manning, Tessie Martin, Ethel Küssel, Loretta Regan, Francis Wolfe, Katherine Meagher, Mary Dunn, Edna Kelly, Francis Kirby, Florence McIntire.

Home Wedding.

At the home of the bride's parents, 761 South Eleventh street, Arthur L. Coulton and Miss Eva Conner were married by Rev. A. L. Hutchison of the Third Presbyterian church last Saturday night. After a short honeymoon trip the couple will return to Portland to reside.

B. B. Club to Give Dance.

The B. B. club will give a dancing party Wednesday evening, June 2, at the B. B. hall, Thirteenth and Mill streets. The committee is: A. Boskowitz, Dr. J. J. Rosenberg, A. E. Miller, D. Solis Cohen, M. Goldstein and Julius Cohen.

Rose City Park Club Dance.

The Rose City Park club will have its next dancing party tonight at the club house. A four piece orchestra will furnish the music.

Guests of Dr. and Mrs. Miller.

Dr. and Mrs. Byron E. Miller entertained last Monday at their home, 530 Montgomery street, Dr. and Mrs. Henry C. Aldrich of Minneapolis and Dr. and Mrs. Arthur L. Caulfield.

New Arrivals.

Felicitations are being showered upon Mr. and Mrs. Frank Schults of 353 Hall street, the occasion being the birth of a baby daughter, Tuesday, May 25. Mrs. Bishop was Miss Bert Morris.

Congratulations are being sent to the home of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Schults whose home was gladdened Friday morning by the arrival of a baby girl who is to be named Rose May.

Society Notes.

Mrs. Charles G. Benson from Silverton has undergone an operation for appendicitis at Portland General hospital.

Miss Martha Brownell of Turner is convalescing following a serious surgical operation at the Portland General hospital.

Mrs. John M. Mann, who recently underwent a serious operation at the Good Samaritan hospital, is now convalescing rapidly but it will probably be several weeks before she will be able to see her friends.

Woman's Exchange

Home made pies, breads, cakes, cookies, candies, jellies, preserves, hand made infants' articles, children's dresses and dainty novelties for gifts, on sale 156 Fifth street. (Adv.)

Top—Mrs. Margaret Burrell Biddle, one of the patronesses for the Rose Festival floral parade, which event is being given this year under the special direction of prominent society women of the city.

2 Detective Films Shown at National

President Wilson, with his confessed fondness for detective stories, might enjoy the bill which opened at the National yesterday. Two of the films are detective dramas of the thrilling kind.

"The Grand" tells the story of a girl detective. She finds that another girl is being compelled to act as a decoy for a gang who are working a "badger game." She takes the girl's place and works with the crooks straight through to the place where they are in jail and the hero is freed.

In fact, our heroine goes so far and so willingly on the crooked path and becomes such an integral part of the crooked scheme that an un-motivated jury might hold her guilty with them rather than to be commended for trapping them.

"The Girl She Might Have Been" is crime and tragedy, unrelieved by any ray of hope or happiness. The girl is murdered and the crook who causes her death is killed in a struggle with her lover, the detective.

As an antidote there is a farce-comedy, "The Jarrs Visit Arcadia."

Apollo Club Concert Highly Appreciated

A large audience applauded the seventeenth concert of the Apollo club which was rendered with satisfying musical effect at the Hellig theatre last night. In addition to the choral numbers, solos were given by Paul Westinger, baritone, and Joseph P. Muller, tenor. The accompanists for the soloists were Edgar E. Courson and Charles Dieck.

The most successful choral selection was "On the Road to Mandalay," arranged by Speaks, though "Suomi's Song" by Matt was almost equally appreciated. In these songs the club had an opportunity to bring out large tonal qualities better than in many of the others which were mostly soft and fragmentary.

Bullard's "Hunting Song" from King Arthur was well received.

Other numbers were: "Maiden With Lips so Rosy," by Gall; "Marietta," by Gall; "Kerry Dance," by Malloy-Brewer; "God Bless the Love Forever," by Podbertsky; "Castilla," by Prothero; "Lamp in the West," by Parker; "Image of the Rose," by Reichardt, with solo by George E. Meade, tenor; "The Broken Melody," by Sibellus, and "Silent Recollection," by Fahe.

Mr. Muller's solo numbers were: "Thine Eyes so Blue and Tender," by Lassen; "Violets," by Downing, and "Love, I Have Won You," by Ronald. He responded to an encore with "Madcap June."

Mr. Westinger sang "The May Night," by Brahms; "Silent Safety," by Franz and "O. That Never the Sun," by Leoncavallo.

PERSONAL MENTION

Nome Merchant Here.

C. E. Darling of Nome, Alaska, and Berkeley, Cal., who with Mrs. Darling owns the celebrated dog teams driven each year in the Alaska classic by the equally celebrated "Shorty" Allen, is a guest at the Multnomah on his way north. "Shorty" lost one of the dogs this year and we only captured second," said Mr. Darling this morning, "but we ran a wonderful race just the same for he had to go 25 miles farther than the winner and was only beaten by three miles at that."

Mr. Darling, who is in the hardware business, looks for an active business year in Nome. "Several new strikes have been reported," he said, "and there is going to be more digging around Nome than ever before."

Federation President Arrives.

Mrs. Percy V. Franzbauer of Austin, Texas, president of the General Federation of Women's Clubs, is a guest at the Multnomah. She is accompanied by Mrs. A. S. Blount of Dubuque, Iowa.
