

EXTRA BRYAN QUITS OFFICE OVER GERMAN NOTE

Secretary of State Resigns Position in Cabinet Because of Disagreement With President Wilson over Tone of Rejoinder.

BRYAN INSISTED THAT PEACE BE MADE SURE Cabinet Meeting This Morning Was Stormy One but Rejoinder Was Not Changed.

Washington, June 8.—(I. N. S.)—Secretary of State William J. Bryan resigned this afternoon because of dissatisfaction with the position taken by President Wilson in his forthcoming note to Germany.

Intimations that serious trouble existed between Bryan and President Wilson over the latter's stand on the German crisis have been frequent for the past week, but few expected that the secretary of state would go so far as to throw up his portfolio.

It was stated late this afternoon that Secretary Bryan had resigned several days ago, but he could no longer stay in the cabinet, and so stated to the president.

Bryan, who was given credit for bringing about the nomination of Woodrow Wilson, was offered the high position from which he has just resigned as a reward for his services in the convention hall.

The crew of 38 were instantly killed, and the wreckage, striking a convent near Ghent, killed two nuns and injured many others.

Warneford, after a special order of the court, waiving the five-day law, had been secured. Secretary Connolly called in the congressmen after they refused to officiate and Congressman Tinkham assisted the assistance of Mr. Solloway.

FIGHTING IS RENEWED ALL OVER EUROPE BUT ADVANTAGE IS SLIGHT

Italian Are Advancing Into Austria and Austro-Germans Progress in Galicia.

London, June 8.—(I. N. S.)—All dispatches from the fighting fronts today indicate renewed activities everywhere, with the advantages about evenly distributed.

Italian troops in Austria appear still to be sweeping away all opposition, but elsewhere the reports are conflicting with both factions claiming victory.

German claims of great victories in Galicia appear to be unshaken. The official statement issued in Petrograd today admitted that General Von Linser had crossed the Dniester river in the great Tustun drive on Lemberg, and the belief is general that the fall of that fortress is now but a matter of days.

In an effort to offset the great pressure being brought to bear upon the Czar's troops in Galicia, the Russian have inaugurated a terrific offensive against General Von Hindenburg's Teuton army in Poland.

Millions Fight in Galicia. Nearly a million men are locked in one of the bloodiest battles of the spring campaign, and the battle field, lying north of Ostroek, is literally black with dead and wounded.

The allies were so severely defeated, says the official Turk statement, "that they have not dared to renew the fighting."

This claim, however, is disputed in dispatches received at Athens. These reports state the allies have gained from 500 to 600 yards in recent fighting, but admit the Moslems are offering desperate resistance to every foot of advance.

Vienna is silent on the operations of the Italians, but claims that Lemberg will be in the hands of the Teutons before the end of the week.

Italy's dispatches indicate King Victor Emmanuel is paying particular attention to the capture of Tolmein. The city still is in Austrian hands, but it is claimed that a ring of iron is being welded about it, and that "its capture is certain."

On the Adriatic coast, the progress of the Tyrolean Alps with the advantage resting with the Italians.

The great Austrian naval base, according to a girl claimant, has been visited by Italian birdmen, who started numerous destructive fires.

Montenegro, for the third time, has been bombarded by Austro-Germans. On the French front, both north and south of Arras, the allies have made "favorable" progress.
