RECLAMATION BODY RECOMMENDS FUNDS FOR OREGON SURVEYS

There is little doubt that the action ommended favorably to Secretary Lane. of General Carranza in moving his In view of Secretary Lane's expresse intention to complete the Oregon work, if funds can be found, it may be assumed with certainty that the recommendation will be promptly approved > Action of the reclamation commission, taken at a meeting in Nevada, undoubtedly means that the government will proceed with its share of the cooperative survey of water power reources in this state. The question involved was whether the reclamation service had authority to use the $10,-000 balance in the government's allotment without a direct appropriation from congress. The reclamation com-mission, which is visiting the reclamation projects in company with the members of the house appropriations committee, has decided that it has.

> In May, 1913, the state and the government entered into an agreement to cooperate in making survey of the water power resources of the state. The state had appropriated $50,000 for the sued upon his own responsibility en- purpose, and Secretary Lane, of the interior department, allotted $50,000 the government's share. The work immediately proceeded.

In August, 1914, congress passed a act requiring that, after June 30, 1915, ed without direct appropriation by congress. The comptroller of the reclama-tion commission ruled that, after June 30, there would be no more money available to carry on the government's share of this cooperative survey.

The state's share of the fund had been expended, but about $10,000 remains unexpended in the government's allotment, and the work is not yet It was pointed out to the reclamation commission that Secretary Lane's allotment of $50,000 for the survey was made before the act of congress was passed, and, therefore, the act could not affect this fund. It was pointed out that the act could not violate a valid contract already made between the government and a state. The reclamation commission has accepted this view.
