The house was beautifully decorated with ferns and pink roses and at 9 o'clock the couple stepped under a bow of ferns and wild orange blossoms, escorted by a bridesmaid, Miss Bessie M. COLLEGE MUSICIANS MAKE HIT IN CONCERT AT AMUSEMENT PARK

Carlo A. Sperati Introduces Splendidly Trained Players at Oaks.

Luther College Concert Band, of Decorah, Iowa, Carlo A. Sperati, conductor, was the attraction at the Oaks amusement park Saturday and Sunday. It drew large crowds.

The band is an elite home from the Panama-Pacific exposition and last night left for Seattle, where it is also booked for concerts.

The organization is composed of 44 college men, all of whom have had several years of musical training, as an organization they have traveled extensively, last season's tour taking them to Norway, where they were one of the principal musical features at the centennial celebration.

Of the 64 members, 40 constitute also the Luther College chorus and it proved a strong feature, its members being received with such applause that several encores had to be resorted to.

Conductor Sperati is not only a compelling band director, but stands high as a director of choruses. In the past years he has directed the Norwegian sangerfest chorus on the Pacific coast, having been brought out by the United States Navy.

With 64 members, the band has a complete instrumentation in every section and makes a splendid appearance.

Luther college is a Norwegian institution and while here the band members were entertained by local Norwegians.

Elfrida Heller Weinstein, the well known Portland soprano, will be heard for the first time tonight at the Oaks amusement park. Mrs. Weinstein has just returned from a successful season in New York.

Swimming proved a little more popular yesterday, what seemed to be the beginning of warmer weather. Programs will be given twice daily during the week.

Mysticism of Orient Portrayed in Film

The mysticism of the orient and the splendor of the temples of worship in India are given full portrayal in "The Moonstone," a big multiple reel feature at the Columbia. The tragic consequences that followed the theft of a huge diamond from the head of the temple idol is offset by a rattling good comedy characterized as "Mumps."

Dugene O'Brien and Elaine Hammerstein are the principals in "The Moonstone." The story begins in India, where an Englishman succeeds in stealing the idol's diamond and makes a thrilling escape to his own land. He is pursued by the temple priests and murdered. The diamond, by that time has passed on to other people innocent of wrong doing and before it finally is recovered they are placed in grave dangers.

The film is full of tense situations and holds one's interest throughout.

"Mumps" is based on a situation in which an authoress and her handsome young secretary find themselves when both are taken down with mumps and quarantined in the same house for a month.

Fire Laddies' Band To Give Excursion

The Portland Fire Department band, which received so much favorable comment in the Rose Festival parades, is to give an excursion and picnic Sunday, July 11. The band will picnic at Multnomah Park, above Oregon City, will be used and special trains will convey the people from Portland direct to the grounds.

A program of races, a baseball game, dancing and concert music by the band will be given, in addition to some novel firemen's drills. The band is a volunteer organization and its personnel is wholly of fire-fighters. This is the same band which went east last year and caused so much comment in the various eastern cities.

Why?

Do ordinary people know very little about the physical nature and the laws governing them? If they become ill, they do not know the first step to take, because they are ignorant of their bodies. If asked to go to bed, to drink, sleep, breathe or exercise, but one answer will be received, "That I may live." How each of these acts conduces to health is as mysterious as anything connected with created things. They know how to care for animals and their breeding; they have remodeled the horse a hundred times, giving him increased muscle and durability, or changed him into a greyhound for a race horse. But when it comes to the human being, much ignorance is manifested. You may have tried the different methods of healing with varying degrees of success, but you have not tried MY SYSTEM, which is different from all other systems. Work in accord with nature. I remodel your body, increasing your blood and power of endurance. I can treat the frail infant stomach or a worn-out adult stomach and make a strong, healthy stomach and body. I treat the following disorders, nervousness, indigestion, colic, insomnia, infantile paralysis, beriberi, all stomach and intestinal disorders, malnutrition, diseases of women and children, etc.

HIKERS WALK AROUND CITY

Map shows unique trip of 42 miles, which was made in 1 1/2 hours 30 minutes.

Leaving Willamette Heights at 5:20 in the morning a party of hikers walked clear around the city, a distance of 42 miles, in 1 1/2 hours and a half, finishing one of the most unique walks that ever took place in Portland. Many of the hikers were Mazamas.

The first lap of the walk from Willamette Heights to Sylvan, was completed in about two hours, the party arriving at Sylvan at 7:50. The party took the Sellwood ferry and crossed the S. P. & S. bridge over the Willamette river at 7:50, and arrived at their starting point at 9:10.

While the actual walking time was thirteen and one-half hours, the entire trip took 15 hours and 50 minutes, members of the party taking one hour and 45 minutes for lunch, and losing approximately 15 minutes in delays.
