Complete Register of British Workers

Bill to Be Introduced in Commons Next Tuesday Will Probably Be Passed Without Opposition.

London, June 26.—(I. N. S.)—No more important step has been taken since the formation of the coalition government than the announcement made yesterday in the house of commons that the bill for the formation of a national register of British workers will be introduced next Tuesday. At least those who think that the government is in deadly earnest about the war, the bill is most certain to be an agreed measure and it should be passed through both houses in a few days. The government anticipates no difficulty will be met in the returns. The details of the bill will not be made known until Tuesday. It may be taken for granted, however, that it will provide for complete register with definite age limits of those who and it is hoped the women—of the country with full information as to age, occupation and capacity for service.

Stores May Still Give Trade Tickets

Salem, Or., June 26.—Stores can continue to issue tickets entitling the purchaser to so much in trade or money, according to the attorney general's office, and the act effective May 22 applies only to trading stamps. If a store gives cash register slips entitling a purchaser to cents in trade when he has accumulated tickets to totaling 50, or 50 cents in trade when he acquires $10 worth, there is nothing in the stamp act to prevent it, is the way the attorney general views it.

Locally a number of stores had quit giving tickets, asserting that the stamp act prevented their issuance, and it is said this condition prevails in a number of towns.

Larry M. Sullivan Visits Old Friends

Ex-Sailor Boarding House Master Arrives From Los Angeles on the Steamer Bear.

"You have arrived at a station in life's river where it becomes necessary for you to stand on your own feet," said ex-Senator Charles W. Fulton to the 144 members of the graduating class at Jefferson high school last night, the largest and youngest class of students to graduate from any Oregon high school. "There are many lines to take," he continued, "and one of them leads to that city called 'Success.' The others lead to the more populous but less popular places. The learning and instruction which you have received, constitutes only the beginning. It is but the foundation on which the structure of your future life must rest. It is possible for every person to make his life a success, but there is nothing in this world that I know of worth having that does not need work to secure it. One thing will impress on you, and that is self-reliance. It is well enough that you should seek advice, but after all do not expect any one to help you over the steep places in life's big way, because it is you that is responsible for your failure or your success in life.

Be True to Self. "At the same time be true to yourself. Potentius told his son, 'to thine own self be true, and it will follow as the night the day, thou canst not then be false to any man. You must associate with one person all of your life, and you know how unpleasurably it is to associate with a person whom you can't respect. Therefore, I say, be true to yourself, for that person is your life long companion. Be true to yourself, for else as to what is right or wrong, for your own conscience will tell you. There is another admonition I would give you: Be steadfast of purpose. No one can do a thing worth anything in the world, it takes all the men in the world, and then some, to accomplish anything."

The German prizes were to have been presented by Otto Schumann, but on account of his illness, they were presented by Charles J. Schnell, Principal Hopkin Jenkins presented the scholarship. O. M. Plummer, of the board of education, presented the diplomas after a short address. An entertaining program was given between the speeches. The numbers were all given by members of the class, except the school orchestra.

PATHE PLANS MANY INNOVATIONS IN FIELD OF MOTION PICTURES

L. E. Franconi, Representative of Pathe Weekly, Is in Portland.

Stopping in Portland for a few weeks is L. E. Franconi, personal representative of Charles Pathe and the man to whom the world owes its thanks for having placed news in motion pictures. Pathe Weekly was the pioneer about five years ago. Since then three other companies have followed suit but Pathe is still in advance, as far as the west is concerned. He now shows a special Pacific coast edition with its regular weekly that spans the globe. Although born in San Francisco, Mr. Franconi is paying his first visit to the coast for 21 years. His mission marks an innovation in motion pictures for he is bringing word to the exchanges that in September the house of Pathe will begin releasing all of its big American productions hand colored. Pathe is the only company that has made successful hand tinting of film. The company constantly furthers research along this line and Mr. Franconi hints at the no distant possibility of their achieving the practical taking of motion pictures in natural colors.

Larry M. Sullivan Visits Old Friends

Ex-Sailor Boarding House Master Arrives From Los Angeles on the Steamer Bear.

Larry M. Sullivan, ex-sailor boarding house keeper and politician, arrived here this morning on the Bear from Los Angeles. He was met at the dock by Mark Schlusser, a local rental agent. Sullivan declined to say what his mission is in Portland. Since leaving Portland after the closing of the Portland club, Sullivan has had many adventures. He started the L. M. Sullivan Trust company at Goldfield, Nev., during the mining boom. Money came in so fast that Larry could not count it. When the golden flood stopped, the trust company failed. Sullivan was next heard of as a detective. He prosecuted in the McNamara dynamiting cases. Recently he was indicted in Los Angeles in connection with federal lottery exposure. But trouble doesn't bother Larry. "You're feeling well, thank you, as well as he did the day he fought mysteriously for the day, you cannot follow the day he was nearly elected councilman of the Second ward. He won the Republican nomination in the primary of 1905. In the June election he was defeated by H. W. Wallace, 606 to 527.
