Care Is Needed in the Purchase of Sali as it will. This is a graceful

Hats for Summer Wear, Writes Anne model for an older woman for it is haps there have been times when this was true when luxuriant tresses were at a premium, as they were worn flowing or in braids whose length and thickness were a subject for envy, hatred and malice among those whose hair did not possess these attributes.

Nowadays, however, when we fold all the locks we own into the smallall the locks we own into the small-est possible compass, pin them down and restrain them with nets and combs, woman's crowning giory might more truly be said to be her hat. The old saying is still useful if it draws attention to the importance of the proper dressing of the head and emphasizes the balanced relation between gown and headgear,

We sometimes tire of hearing eter-nally of the superiority of French women in matters of dress. Stout women in matters of dress. Stout champions in this country are beginning to lift their voices courageously to express their belief in the supremacy of our own women even in respect to clothes. Continuous fault finding is as injudicious as continuous praise would be, and it is unnecessary for the improvement in the art of dressing is so great and so general in this country that our women actually begin to dream of wresting the palm from their French wresting the palm from their French cousins who have born it for so

Ahead on Headgear. There is still one defail of the sci-ence of clothes, however, in which the French surpass us in which their supremacy is unchallenged. That is the way in which they hat themselves. There has been improvement on our side of the water in this respect also, but oh dear, there is room for a lot more. There are now fewer women who keep a veil tied around their hat, and, on going out don everything at once, rupning in the pins and pulling down the veil with only a perfunctory glance at the mirror, or none at all.

If you are going to wear a veil at all you might as well put it on prop-

There is a certain duty to soci ety in looking as well as one can, and the moral result of making the best of yourself physically, is one whose effect, both upon yourself and upon those with whom you come in contact. it is difficult to overestimate.

low a spot or a flower in the design to obliterate the tip of her nose or make the mouth look lopsided or obscure her eyes.

Hat Part of Costume. The point which we in this country have generally failed to grasp that the hat is a component part the costume of the whole ensemgeneous or they will spoil the efpearing in an expensive, obviously French gown, with a cheap domestic hat above it, or by making the equally ridiculous blunder of topping a plain by a wired pink bow which contended made-over gown with a millinery cre- with her tresses for the honor of ation of large size and price. Old-fashioned ideas of what constituted a complete wardrobe, which have survived their generation, are probably responsible for this misfit. Just now we are inevitably led to contrast the Civil war times with our own. The stupendous struggle going on in Europe turns our minds natural ly to our own terrible days of struggle which are within the memory of the elder among us. A more direct reason for the comparison is the recrudescence of Civil war styles which the turn of the wheel has brought us, by coincidence or design, at this time. The evening gown worn by Mrs. Lincoin upon the night of that never-to-American Cousin," might be worn tofitted basque, the flounced skirt, the widened shoulders, are all reproduced by the evening gowns of 1915. True

Many other details of dress reproduced by modern clothes from the face. period of 1860 bring the lives of those women before us in contrast to our Rise of Sportswomen first thought that strikes u is the manifold variety of the life of representative women today. Even the average woman of means and position now participates in many activities formerly left to men alone, not along business and professional lines, but in public affairs, municipal and philan-thropic, and, above all, in the distractions and pursuits with which they coupy their leisure.

In 1860 women indulged but mildly and the average woman not at all, in the amusements and exercises which we class under the name of sport. Motors, of course, were not invented, but those games and pursuits which already existed were very largely left to such of the men in the countrylew enough in number, too-who had time or inclination for them.

Nowadays, even on the public golf

One result of this has been to enlarge enormously the scope and variately of a woman's wardrobe. She must have clothes for pursuits and occasions of which her Civil war sister hardly knew the names. As she is learning to keep the details of her costume in harmony with each other; to follows that the collection of hats has increased enormously also, women or 1850 were apt to have four hats in a year, a best one and an every-day one, for winter and summer. How many of us in 1915 contemplate going through this summer with only two many of us in 1915 contemplate going through this summer with only two panes. As summer with only two panes for winter and summer. How many of us in 1915 contemplate going through this summer with only two panes for winter and summer. How many of us in 1915 contemplate going through this summer with only two panes for winter and summer. How many of us in 1915 contemplate going through this summer with only two panes for winter and summer. How many of us in 1915 contemplate going through this summer with only two panes for winter and summer. How many of us in 1915 contemplate going through this summer with only two panes for winter and summer. How many of us in 1915 contemplate going through this summer with only two panes for winter and summer, how many of us in 1915 contemplate going through this summer with only two panes for winter and summer. How many of us in 1915 contemplate going through this summer with only two panes for winter and summer. How many of us in 1915 contemplate going through this summer with only two panes for winter and summer. How many of us in 1915 contemplate going through this summer with only two panes for winter and summer. How many of us in 1915 contemplate going through this summer with only two panes for the face accentuate its good lines, in the face, accentuate its good lines, distract attention to the face, accentuate its good lines, distract attention to the face, accentuate its good lines, distract attention to the face, accentuate its poor ones, dist inery. Another model which is de-oo good to abandon altogether.

down through the brim, and an orange tassel dangled from the under side at the end of the loop, and swept the shoulder of the wearer.

Military Ideas Subdued.

Military Ideas in Feminine
Headgear Have Been Subdued to Mere Suggestions,

By Anne Rittenhouse
(Copyright, 1915, by McClure Newspaper Syndicate.)

T USED to be said that woman's crowning slory was her hair. Perhaps there have been times when the suppose of t

Of late years there have been few veils worn in Paris; by the way, French artists have a way of making themselves heard in clothes matters, and they object strenuously to Let us welcome anything which veils. The women seem to know how teaches us to avoid incongruities like to keep in perfect trim without them.

It is almost a pity that they have been so generally discarded, as it is a charming study to watch a Parisian adjust one. She does it with the fingers of an artist and the insight of a philosopher. The line across the face on the stage in a gorgeous velvet gown comes at the psychological point; if and a cheap straw hat trimmed with there is a pattern it is arranged to a 25-cent quill! No French woman on the best advantage. She does not al- the stage or off it would have done such a thing as that. If she could not afford the proper accessories, particularly the headgear, for this gorgeous gown, she would have chosen a simpler one. We still see women, alas, survivals of the age when a new "bonnit" was the most potent feminine bribe, whose idea of smart dressing is to put an over-trimmed hat on feet of each other. Most estimable top of a plain gown of quite a dif-American women have, in still re- ferent character. Only last week l cent years, excited a somewhat cyn-ical amusement in foreigners by ap-ity" suit who had topped her sallow complexion and untidy drab hair with a bright pink toque of shiny straw, surrounded with cherries and capped with her tresses for the honor of

> would have been preserved by her in-nate sense of the fitness of things from such a ludicrous contrast.

straggling the more wildly. The most are very tasteless women in France-

It has been well said that the Anglo-Saxon woman puts on her hat while the Gallic poses hers. This exactly expresses the matter. Did you ever walk along a street and long to change the angle of the hat of every other woman that you met? There is an inborn and seemingly irradicable tendency in us to wear our hats on the back of our heads,

Until recently the milliner herself, when you went to buy a hat, would day almost without a change. The start it behind you and shove it onto your head from the rear. If you feebly protested she would assure you that they were wearing them that way. there is no crinoline under the Then, of course, there was nothing flounces, but there are featherbones more to be said. For of course, they and reeds and other substitutes for were! Pre-Raphaelite saints may look but it is not becoming to the modern

A grateful, soft shade cast over the eyes is a flatterer to age, and a beautifier to youth. It will improve a pretty woman and redeem a plain one.

This is the probable explanation of the perennial popularity of the sailor. For its popularity certainly endures. Nearly half the hats on view at the best places show some adaptation of best places show some adaptation of this shape. Many, one might say most, of the hats designed for sport and for the country are of this form. Country hats are made of all sorts of materials this year. There is an interesting revival of felt, which, begun in this type of hat, is predicted for other types in the fall. Stiff enough to hold its shape, or, if of lighter weight, or believe that are used to make the crown are left under the and its shape and everybody expects us to marry. He is 23 years old and I am 20. His been going together almost two years and e in sweater colors are charming with separate skirts and blouses. Cretonne. flowery and striped, is the rage. Sometimes the pattern is cut out and applied to another material. Woolen flowers, of tightly bunched clipped wool in the colors of the cretonne are the latest trimming for the colors of the cretonne are links and tennis courts, one sees a the latest trimming for these hats. Other Uses of Wool it is rare to find a member of the younger feminine generation at least who is not actively interested in some form of game.

One result of this has been to enlarge enormously the scope and variance thread are new trim-

Old Girls and Bold Girls By Edna K. Wooley.

bold girl these days that there is a impression - particularly among men-that she typifies the modern girl. Young men complain that they cannot find modest, home-loving girls to marry. Older men complain of the extravagance, the egotism, and the heartlessness of the modern woman It's quite the fashion, indeed, to criti cize the modern girl, and if we belive all these observations born from ex-periences in dance halls, "movie" shows and on the streets, we might truly mourn the passing of the sweet and modest girl who conscientiously wished happiness for others as well as for nerself.

True, the maiden of today is neces sarily changed in some respects from the maiden of grandmother's day. One veloped in straw and velvet, or straw and tulle, is like nothing so much as considerable reason for this is that our girls have to get out into the world a chef's cap. The Chinese shapes and hustle for a living. This has bred in them self reliance and a desire which were introduced at the begintasteless French woman—and there ning of the season have gone the way of the straw student's cap and the facts which a large number of modern jockey cap of another season and be- men resent. Also, the girl of today come too popular. Their influence is thinks along broader lines—another still felt, however, as the idea was fact which many men resent. The A average mediocre man wants to do all souvenir of them is the use of tassels. the thinking necessary for wife and self, and if the average young man On a wide black straw shape a tassel was used in a new way. An orange grosgrain ribbon was tied around the can't be an oracle to a girl he has no use for her. crown in a single bow on one side. Upon the other a loop of orange silk was passed under the ribbon and then

That a girl or woman can reall; know things for herself, and that she can develop the faculty for logical thinking, has driven many a man away from the "right sort" of girl, whom he claims to admire, to the sort whose chief ambitions are to wear the short-Military ideas which cropped out in February have been subdued to mere suggestions. We all feel too deeply est skirt, the flashiest jewelry, the most face powder, keep the lates hours and have the longest string of upon the subject of the war, our beaux. He lumps the former with the thoughts are too much absorbed by it as it is, and we do not care to have our clothes reflect them. Small cloche a modern girl who is earning her own our clothes reflect them. Small cloche shapes are taking the place of tricornes and forage caps. A very shiny weave of satin has been introduced for millinery, and is combined with straw in a sort of heret shape. Birds, as trimming, are appearing on early fall models, placed flat across the top of small toques. Birds, cut out of velvet, and applied flatly to a shape are seen occasionally. Flowers also are cut out in this, way and follow the tendency to keep the trimming flat. The lines of the crown are left unadorned in the newest hats. Suede and kid and patent leather are used

The simpler afternoon hats show a revival of leghorn, and Nattier and Boucher effects in lace, roses and ribbons. Here the wide sailor finds a revival in the shape which turns smartly up in the back, and is filled in there with roses, which a ribbon passes over the top and under the hair. Not everyone can wear this shape, for it is apt to dwarf the importance of the face and make the head appear all hat, unless the countenance under it is unusually worth looking at. We should never forget that the hat is only the frame for the picture. It must be subordinated to the face accentuate its good lines, distract attention from its poor ones, intensify too pale a complexion, tone down a too florid one. Do not think of it, and consider buying it, as a pretty hat, but in its relation to your own face and head first, and then to the gowns with which you intend to wear it. Study yourself in it, and find out the most becoming tilt at which to poise it.

Batin Saller of Afternoons.

the left, blue taffeta trimmed with black and white striped silk. On the seated figure, red jersey with blue stripes and blue skirt. The black suit is of satin with high white collar and cuffs and on the right is a green merecerized silk jersey suit with attached knickers laced at the side with black silk cord.

fled, and I am sure I should be mis- heart, be satisfied before I can be erable if I felt myself a dependent. happy."

"He is truly a sentleman in every This letter deals with a modern "He is truly a gentleman in every couldn't bear to impose on any one, the modern girl hasn't kept pace with least of all him, and he must, in his the real girl of the day.

Is that an old arm chair I see.
Parading down the street.
Dressed in its armmer cretonne slip?
Well, really, I'll be beat
If it's not Mrs. Robert Brown,
In cretonne hat and cretonne gown!
She's quite the smartest thing in town.
So tear your cretonne draperies down
And make them into garments gay—
'Tis Fashion's new decree
That all who bow beneath Her sway Must very chintzy be. way and has none of the usual young man's bad habits. Perhaps I ought to be thankful just for the love he gives me. I know a great many girls would jump at the chance to marry him, But I want to make the chance to marry him, But I want to make the chance to marry him, But I want to make the chance to marry him, But I want to make the chance to marry him, But I want to make the chance to marry him, But I want to make the chance to marry him, But I want to make the chance to marry him, But I want to make the chance to marry him, But I want to make the chance to marry him, But I want to make the chance to marry him, But I want to make the chance to marry him, But I want to make the chance to marry him, But I want to make the chance to marry him, But I want to make the chance to marry him, But I want to make the chance the chan I want to be square with him. I large class of men finding fault with

STRIKING COSTUME WITH FLARING SKIRT, CUFFS

When the tired business man comes home these nights he's going to have an awful time to tell his wife from the cook, that is, of course, if he's lucky

for Summer

By Anne Rittenhouse.

Black and white is more effecti used than ever before and they fo a combination that can be made for more striking than cremeon and are green, if one wishes to make it so.

Silk sports hats, with wide, shading rims, sometimes figured and some plain, are featured by Points are much used in the ne frocks—there are pointed tunics, and skirts cut in deep points at the bottom and points in some form app on many bodices.

Bead embroidery is still used. In new frock the whole bodice, save the sleeves, is covered with bead-embroid ered daistes.

Silk Jersey suits are worn f. sports. There is a sweater jacket an ekirt, usually a sash or scarf to mate and often a jaunty little cap, may with a point on each side, one endir in a tassel, the other fastened downth a silk-covered button.

Prediction is made that for at tumn wear voile and etamine i heavy, coarse weave are to be fatured. These are both desirable fabrics, for they have an element of durability that makes them econo

Lacings appear in some of the new frocks and blouses. Sleeves are some times laced from the elbow to the wrist, sometimes from the shoulder to the elbow. Lacings appear down the front of blouses and at the collar. The lacings are contrasting color, usually Wool embroidery is still used of summer frocks. It usually show crude, bright colors that remind of the days when the Balkan we stood sponsor for so many vivid colors in our frocks.

Yoke tops on circular skirts are gaining popularity. The yoke seems to give more stability to this flaring

Over collars are worn with man of the new linen and pongee and Pain Beach cloth coat suits. These collar are made of striped linen, figure cretonne, plain and figured place and cretonne, plain and figured place and cretonne.

Furs for summer wear, worn France last summer and the summe before, are gaining ground rapidly of this side of the Atlantic this yes And indeed it is difficult to see wifurs should not be worn on cool summer days in the mountains as well on warm winter days. White fox especially suitable, because of its colfor summer wear, and is so far if ar the most popular.

Cretonne and

Chintz Worn

By Margaret Mason

New York, June 26 .- (U. P.) -Fash-

on is going to give us the slip this summer. At least, she will make us profusion, not only to trim summer frocks, but to create them entirely.

Perky little short jackets of bright cretonnes are putting the little silken jackets out of business as popular ac-cessories of the summer toilette to be and artistic picture hats are all suc-cessfully fashioned from the stuff that window curtains and bedspreads are Parasols of cretonne bloom with gay plumaged birds are cabbage-sized flowers, and gate-topped bags of chintz add yet another item to its many sartorial uses. Even our young and our automobiles are not safe from this cretonne epidemic, and bonnets, aprons and tiny cretonne baskets to match are offered as a complete beach outfit for the small kiddie, while the most upfor the summer season in smart black and white block and striped cretonnes, and even in floral and bird designs on black or gray backgrounds. Some low and vulgar punster might even go so far as to accuse Madame La Mode of metal fringe as a trimming novelty.

On both hats and frocks she is using a penchant for tassel trimming and often the tassel finishes a scarf that

Fringe has even invaded the jewelry realm and pendant earrings of scintali-lating golden fringe, necklaces of 14 karat fringe and gold bar corsage pins, fringe edged, are lovely, nestling in the film and froth of summer fabrics.

to-date motors are being upholstered

Must very chintzy be.

Fur trimmed sweater coats, too, as gaining in fashion. Made in pink an blue and pale yellow and white sill with hems and collars and cuffs white fox, they are admirable from wear with afternoon and even evening trocks at the seashore and in the seashore are seashored. Contrasting linings in coats for da and evening wear are usual. Ofte figures are used for the linings, ar some smart coats are lined with two A nem of tulle is used on some evening frocks of taffeta for young girls. The skirts are exceedingly short and full and the tulle hem extends about two inches below the taffeta.

Tulle overskirts are often b look as much as possible like the cretonne slip on the wing chair and the family davenport. Gay flowered chintz and cretonne is being used in prodigal as the same time stiffens the tulis so that it stands out in the approved fashion.

Taffeta cuffs are put on man sleeves of tulle and lace, in separate blouses or in frocks, either of tulle worn with a filmy lingerie frock.

Floppy garden hats, trim sport hats and artistic picture hats are all successfully fashioned from the stuff that

Wash silk in stripes is used for sport frocks. The blouse is made is shirtwaist style, with plain shirtwaist sleeves and usually a patch pocket and with a collar that can be worked open or closed. The skirts are shortfull at the bottom, and generally pleated about the hips, sometimes made with a yoke. These frocks are admirable for morning wear in the country.

Parasols trimmed in the inside are one of the features of the summer. The trimming takes the form of em-broidery, frilis of tulle and chiffen and applied flowers or birds of sile far as to accuse Madame La Mode of having the chintz bug, but far be it from me.

Silk handbags of black, lined will bright figure silks, are effective with dark frocks. Many of them have the colored stone for a clasp.

While in the uphoistery and drapery department, snooping around for ideas, Fashion has also seized upon silk and Slesveless silk sweater coats are welcome novelty, for they solve to problem of giving a little warm it with a lavish hand. Silk fringe in all colors is used for the entire crown of a hat whose brim is made of velvet. White silk fringe, particularly, is effective to make these soft and fluffy, fringy crowns, while the metallic fringe in gold or silver is used more extensively to edge the velvet brims of the newest midsummer chapeaux. Usually the trimming on these peaux. Usually the trimming on these hats with metal fringe edged brims is a single tassel of the same metal. The Awning stripes in silks are used is shirtwaists for morning and spor hats with silk fringe crowns also have wear.

knots around the crown and drops its enough to have both. The way all tasseled end gracefully to the wearer's smartest frocks are affecting in tasseled end gracefully to the wearer's shoulder.

As a dress trimming the short silk and metallic frings are most effective trimmings, especially edging the short glackets and highwater full skirts of the crisp taffeta dresses. Parasols and bags edged and trimmed with silk fringe to match follow closely on the fringe of fashion. Even veils have fringe borders and though you may sniff and turn up your nose at them you are bound to be carrying a fringed handkerchief soon for they certainly are up to snuff.

smartest frocks are affecting aprons of organdle and Paris no to match up their neck frills and Milady and Milady's maid will so the to do a sister act.

The apron effects are very beging, though, and add just the last touch to a demure little dress of or old blue crepe de chine with or old blue crepe de chine with coliar and cuffs of white organic mustard yellow frock of pussy traffets or an old rose of Geo creps make lovely backgrounds frilly froth of a lare trimmed panel of white net and a figure of the creps make lovely backgrounds from the creps make lovely backgrounds of the creps make lovely bac natch and the result is so

> Wealth in Pros "My brother has a schett