

Club Activities BY VELLA WINNER

More thoroughly delightful event has transpired this week in club circles than the surprise reception tendered Mrs. Alice Weister, retiring president of the Portland Psychology club Wednesday afternoon at the beautiful new home of the Weisters, corner Fifteenth and Blakely streets, by the circle leaders and members of this large and very prominent club. Over 100 women made up the party which gave Mrs. Weister this delightful surprise. Dainty tables were carried, punch was made and a collation served. The outstanding feature of the afternoon was the presentation to Mrs. Weister of a handsome Persian rug, which the women designated is to cover the floor of her study in the home. Mrs. H. McKenzie made the speech of presentation, expressing the affection and admiration which the members of the club feel for their former president. Each woman then stepped upon the rug and added her word of love and greeting to the honored guest. To all of these messages Mrs. Weister responded, thanking the women for their magnificent gift, but most of all for the kindly thought which prompted its giving, and the afternoon demonstrations of loyalty and affection.

Mrs. Alice Weister, retiring president of the Portland Psychology club.

Mrs. Weister expects to devote the greater part of her time for the next year to writing in the home. Mrs. Weister is a woman of the specimen of exquisite oriental art which they had chosen to remember her with would be an unending inspiration and reminder of years of association with the women presenting it.

Woodstock to celebrate Fourth. The Parent-Teacher association and school of Woodstock are standing sponsors for a big Fourth of July celebration scheduled for that district for next Monday morning, afternoon and evening. The program will begin at 10 a. m., with the raising of a new flag at the schoolhouse, this will be followed by music and recitations for which prizes will be awarded. At 4:30 a basket lunch will be enjoyed. At 5 o'clock a peace talk will be given by Mrs. Monroe Farmer. There will be music, folk games and baseball to fill out the afternoon. In the evening there will be a program by the school children and students. Pictures shown on the side of the school building and the evening will conclude with dancing on the cement walk.

Klamath Falls Club Election. The Women's Library club of Klamath Falls has elected the following officers: President, Mrs. R. E. Wattenburg; First vice president, Mrs. O. A. Stearns; Second vice president, Mrs. C. V. Fisher; secretary, Mrs. Emma Bainter; treasurer, Mrs. E. M. Graves. The club now has a membership of 54. Six home economic lectures have been given during the year; 10 afternoons have been devoted to needlework, and many families have been given assistance through the philanthropic department. The library attendance during the year has been 25,572. The number of books circulated was 10,323. Twenty-five books have been purchased, 70 have been donated and 70 worn out. Eight daily and weekly papers are taken and 250 pamphlets have been placed in the library.

Better Library for Vernon. The Vernon Parent-Teacher association which was largely instrumental in obtaining the Vernon branch library over two years ago, has been promised better quarters by the library association. The Vernon association is desirous of having a new building similar to the one at Astoria, which the library association leases at Lents and Sellwood. The entire expense of the new quarters will be met by the library association and the promise has been given that they will be ready for occupancy by fall.

Lavender Picnic. The Lavender club and branch number one of the club joined in a delightful picnic yesterday at the Peninsula park field house with 44 members present. The members who have celebrated birthdays during the past month, were the guests of honor, there being 10 of these. Luncheon was served at 2:30 the women having brought some favorite dishes the whole making a most appetizing banquet. The afternoon was enjoyed under the trees and the day will long be remembered as a very happy one.

Portland Sailed From First Long Voyage

Harold Adams Relates His Experiences While Before the Mast. SHIPPED ON WINDJAMMER Education Received Here Under National Expert Forum of Great Value in Handling Vessel.

Harold Adams, the first graduate of the Portland school of navigation, is back in Portland after 11 months' real experience as a sailor, and despite hard knocks, is still convinced that the seafaring life is the only life for him. Adams is the son of Mr. and Mrs. H. B. Adams of 274 Twenty-first street north, and has always shown a predilection for the sea. With the experience of three cruises with the Oregon naval militia, and instruction under John McNulty of the United States navy branch hydrographic office, he shipped before the mast on the Norwegian bark Alcides last August for Falmouth, England.

The Alcides left the river September 5, and went into Falmouth for orders after a run of 126 days. She was dispatched to Limerick, Ireland, and while running up the River Shannon ran aground on Ahascragh island, but was freed by the tide.

Vessel Struck by Mine. Here, after being aboard 157 days, her crew were paid off and her cargo lightered, the crew being left to their own devices. The bark when floated was dispatched in ballast. The Alcides had not gone far, however, before she struck a floating mine and was sunk, and so young Adams feels that it is just as well that he drew what was coming to him.

Things have certainly been going since we shipped on shore, since we left Portland," remarked Adams this morning. "We were under charter with a cargo of wheat for 30 shillings, but found we were to carry 100 tons of 60 shillings to be the rate, and now it is over 80.

At Limerick I saw 8000 of Kitchener's soldiers drilling, and at the same time I saw a German submarine. I heard 'Tipperary' for the first time. The soldiers were singing it as the boat left, while their wives and sweethearts were crying on shore.

Two Big Features Majestic's Offering. Two three-part features, a short drama, and Hearst-Selig Weekly make the generous offering at the Majestic. The Path to the Rainbow, is the attractive title to a Robin Romance of a guardian and his ward—only in this case she marries another man and he another woman, to the entire satisfaction of all concerned. Ormi Hawley is the attractive ward.

Favors Child Birth During Bridal Year. Indianapolis Doctor Denounces Women Who Preach Against Motherhood in First Year of Married Life. Chicago, July 2.—(U. P.)—Dr. Alfred A. Ogilvie of Indianapolis, who denounced the teaching of some mothers in a speech before the annual convention of the institute of homeopathy, today explained to the United Press what he meant when he said some brides were taught to resort to "any measure" to prevent child birth during the bridal year. He also rapped some Daughters of the American Revolution for having too many ancestors to brag about, but no progeny.

Owl Drug Company Pays Dividends. The payment of the seventeenth semi-annual dividend to several hundred owners of 5 per cent preferred stock of the Owl Drug company, and the issuing of a message by the company containing a most optimistic view of the business situation, are some of the events of the week in the Pacific coast financial circles. The confidence of the Owl Drug company in the immediate future is still further shown by the fact that a few weeks ago they opened another store, the chain now consisting of 21 stores in eight cities on the Pacific coast. It is stated that the company intends to extend its business still further by opening stores in cities where it is not now represented.

will play Samaritan lodge. The dance pavilion has been procured and will be open during the entire day. The committee on arrangements has the assurance that July 2000 members will attend from the vicinity of Portland.

Interest Continues Until Very Finish. The Wild Olive, with Myrtle Steadman playing the title role at the Peoples, is one of the best productions that has been turned out by the Moresco studio. There are spots when the story is only ordinary, but it has the virtue of growing in interest right up to the very finish with a number of plot twists and turns that give it good dramatic value. The basis of the story is the wrongful accusation and conviction of a young college man for killing his uncle, a timberman of the mountains. He is assisted in escaping from his guards and is given help in making a final disappearance by a young woman whom he knows only as 'The Wild Olive.' Through her direction he goes to South America, where he becomes successful under another name. Later the pair meet in New York under circumstances that bring the big situations of the story.

Many Picnics Announced. Fraternal picnics announced are: Knights and Ladies of Security, Kirtpatrick Council, Crystal Lake Park, Saturday, July 3; United Degree teams, W. O. W., Crystal Lake Park, Sunday, July 4; Fresh club, Sunday, July 4, Bonneville; Knights of the Macabees, Sunday, July 4, Estacada Park; Loyal Order of Moose, at Oregon City, at Gladstone Park, July 5; Odd Fellows and Rebekah picnic at Bonneville, Monday, July 5.

Drills Will Be Featured. The largest picnic and celebration the Woodmen of the World have ever given on the Fourth of July will take place at Crystal Lake Park next Sunday. The United Degree teams of Portland have charge, and they will pass on the drills with the companies going to San Francisco in August to compete for the $1000 prize.

Judge Morrow Appointed. Judge Robert G. Morrow, past dictator of Portland lodge No. 221, Loyal Order of Moose, has been appointed chairman of the judiciary committee of the supreme lodge, which meets in

A Parisian idea in the bolero with its lower edges turned up and faced with striped silk. The bottom of the skirt is also faced with stripes. A wide waist belt of putonia or deep rose suede is a delightful finish to a costume of pretty colored gaberdine. The silk lining of the coat should match it.

ABILITY Ability doth hit the mark where presumption over-shooteth and diffidence faltereth short.—Cusa. FRATERNAL NOTES Odd Fellows and Rebekah Lodges Plan Big Outing. Special Train Engaged. The Odd Fellows and Rebekah lodges of Multnomah and adjoining counties have completed arrangements for the grand Odd Fellows picnic at Bonneville, July 5, and a special train has been arranged to leave Portland at 8 a. m. A special train will bring the Odd Fellows from Forest Grove, Newberg, Sherwood and Tualatin, and other points on the west side into Portland. Hon. W. A. Carter, past grand master, and Robert Andrews, grand patriarch, will be the orators of the day.

Caramel Ice Cream One cup scalding milk; do not boil; put on stove in a heavy saucepan; add one large spoonful granulated sugar and stir over fire until it melts, turns brown and boils; pour this into the boiling milk, stir over fire a minute, strain and let cool. Scald one quart cream; add two well beaten eggs and one-half cup sugar; stir and cook until thick and creamy; then add the cooled milk and cream, and stir until thick; take from fire; strain; and then cool, add one teaspoonful vanilla extract and the caramel; freeze, and set stand about two or three hours.

THE SHOPPER Truly a picnic find and the thing we enjoy most next to the picnic itself is planning for this merry out door party. After you have decided on the time and place for your picnic and the personnel of your party, plan your lunch and its accompaniments. See that your basket or box is lined with waxed paper and include besides all the good sandwiches, salads and other good 'eaties' which every housewife knows so well how to prepare, a set of crisp paper napkins, including tablecloth, napkins and doilies. They may be secured at any of the big department stores, or you may with dainty decorated borders, thus adding a festive touch to the meal. Then supply yourself with paper plates, tin spoons and tin cups, or aluminum or granite drinking cups, and if the party is small you will be interested in the new inexpensive thermos bottles for carrying hot and keeping it at the temperature it was when poured in. These bottles are in leather cases fitted with straps so they can be slung over the shoulder and carried without any trouble.

In the same shop where I noticed the thermos bottles for carrying hot and keeping it at the temperature it was when poured in. These bottles are in leather cases fitted with straps so they can be slung over the shoulder and carried without any trouble. One of the special features will be the singing of national airs of the United States and of Sweden, the Swedish airs being sung by the Swedish members in their native language. The grand officers of the encampment, subordinate and Rebekah branches, will be present and will take part in the exercises. There will be two ball games, Hassalo lodge will play Orient lodge, and Sherwood lodge Cretonne belts are quite the latest acquisition to the cretonne family, which is becoming more numerous every day. We have the coat and the blouse, the smock and the mid-length, a rather when the cretonne belts are being shown, including the very wide girdle effects made with self-covered buckles, and then there is a rather novel one, the cretonne kid piped with the gaily flowered cretonne.

Wrist purses are quite the latest novelties I have seen. The complete tiny strap slipped through one coin purse—just fit to carry for car fare, also ideal to wear on the golf course, everything must be strapped tight.

BEAUTY HINT What is more beauty than well kept nails. It is disgusting to see a woman well dressed, head neatly groomed, a smooth skin, and then look down and see dirty, uneven nails and ill cared for cuticles. There is really no excuse for badly kept fingers because it costs so little to keep them in good condition. You need not have your hands manicured regularly; once they have been properly manicured by a professional of the art and the nails made a good shape, it is quite simple to manœuvre them yourself. The following implements are required: A good file, a pair of cuticle scissors, an emery board, an orange stick and a small pot of some good polish. To manœuvre the nails, first file them then soften the tops of the fingers and the cuticle by holding them in very hot, soapy water for five or 10 minutes. Rub on a little grease all over the finger tips, then clean out the nails. Push back the cuticle with your orange stick—this should be done when the cuticle is soft. Polish with a polish when the cream has been added. Dark, ugly stains left on the hands after paring potatoes, fruit, or other vegetables takes weeks to wear off unless you use a polish at the time. These stains should be removed before bringing the hands in contact with soap or soapy water, because the latter imbeds the stains in the skin in such a way that they cannot be banished afterwards. Lemon, vinegar or sour milk will take stains away. Always use hot or all soap when you use soap and water and thoroughly dry the skin.

FASHION'S HAND MAIDEN Old-time picture gowns have the corsages falling off the shoulders. Summer gowns of muslin are captivating, a most optimistic view of the business situation, are some of the events of the week in the Pacific coast financial circles. high heels are absolutely indispensable. Valenciennes lace is a favorite trimming for summer lingerie frocks. A few weeks ago they opened another store, the chain now consisting of 21 stores in eight cities on the Pacific coast. The loose, unbuttoned smock makes a charming design for the small boy's suit. Crepe de chine is invaluable for the traveling outfit, not only does it make
