

What Society is Doing

THE young people are still holding center stage in society affairs. Last night the dance at the Waverley club given by Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Shovlin for Miss Helen Ladd and her house guest, Miss Kathryn Hardy was a most enjoyable affair and prior to the dance a group of the guests dined at the club, enjoying the hospitality of Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Shovlin, who gave a dinner for their daughter, Miss Antonette Means.

Miss Ruth Zelle the attractive San Francisco girl who has been with Miss Evelyn Carey for several weeks made her departure Saturday, and of the other visitors, Miss Virginia Scully of New York, and her hostess Miss Ruth Zelle, are enjoying a round of interesting affairs.

At the Waverley Country club tomorrow Mrs. J. Andre Foulhoux and Mrs. Harbord Nichols will be the hostesses at a luncheon for Miss Ruth and Miss Scully. Later in the afternoon they will be entertained at tea by Mrs. Richard Wilder at her suburban home at Garthwick.

Mrs. Pennybacker Passes Through.

Mrs. Percy V. Pennybacker, president of the General Federation of Women's clubs, passed through Portland yesterday on her way to San Francisco. She was accompanied by her daughter, Miss Ruth Pennybacker and her roommate from Vassar, Miss Flora C. Gann, of Lincoln, Neb., and by Mrs. A. S. Blount, of Dubuque, Iowa. They spent only a couple of hours here.

Visitors Go South.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Kupper have entertained a group of visitors for the past two weeks. The guests left Saturday for California. They were Mr. Kupper's sister and her husband, Mr. and Mrs. George K. Gann, of Lincoln, Neb., and his cousin, Miss Hazel Kupper and Miss Ayla Mabbs, of St. Louis.

Open Cottage at Seaside.

Mrs. H. M. Haller and her two charming daughters, the Misses Marie and Helen Haller, have opened their summer cottage at Seaside. They are entertaining as their house guests Mrs. Haller's sister, Mrs. Charles C. Graham, of Colorado Springs, with her daughter, Miss Jean Graham, and Miss Lavelle Young, of Portland.

Pretty Home Wedding.

One of the most beautiful home weddings of the season was solemnized at the home of Mrs. and Mr. Fred Lind, Saturday afternoon, when their only daughter, Bertha Dorothy, became the bride of Frank Hollister, the Rev. Toling officiating. The bride was lovely in a suit of tulle with a picture hat to match. The rooms were profusely decorated with Oregon grape, carnations and masses of delicate tinted sweet peas. The young couple left immediately after the wedding breakfast for Seaside and on their return will be at home at the Arline apartments.

New Arrival.

Dr. and Mrs. Alvin W. Baird are being congratulated on the arrival of a baby boy who was born July 5.

Guests of Mrs. Sterling.

Mrs. John Powell and son Robert Powell, of Marshall, Mich., are the guests of Mrs. George C. Sterling, 620 Main street.

Society Notes.

Miss Anna Benoit has returned home after a pleasant trip to Astoria and Seaside visiting with her brother and his wife, Mr. and Mrs. John Benoit. She was accompanied home by Mrs. J. Benoit's little sister, Mildred Jackson.

Mr. and Mrs. G. A. Metzger have moved to the Stevens apartments on Northrup street.

Army-Navy Orders

San Francisco, Cal., July 12.—(P. N. S.)—Army orders:

First Lieutenant Harry W. Gregg, signal corps, now on cable at Seaside, is ordered to the 18th instant, accompany Field company A, signal corps, to the Washington, on its march from Seattle to the state camp at American Lake. At the camp he will act as instructor and make required inspections of the company.

Captain Charles T. King, medical corps, now at Vancouver, is ordered to accompany the American Lake camp as instructor and to make the required field inspections.

Captain Fortimer O. Bigelow, first cavalry, is ordered to act as instructor at organized militia camp at Washington, on July 13. First Lieutenant William B. Walker, infantry, is ordered to same camp as instructor.

Leave of absence for one month granted Captain Dennis E. O'Connell, acting judge advocate, western department.

Major Peter W. Davidson, Twenty-sixth infantry, detailed member board of road commissioners of Alaska and disbursing officer of camp, with headquarters at Valley Forge, is ordered to report to the same camp as follows:

Leave of absence granted as follows by west department orders:

Captain Thomas C. Spencer, second infantry, extended on duty.

Lieutenant Colonel Charles H. McKinstry, engineers, detailed for examination to the Civil reliefing Colonel Solomon W. Hooper, retired.

Captain H. C. Plase, engineers, reported to board for examination to the Twenty-third to One Hundred Sixty-second company, Oregon National Guard, at Camp Jackson, Gearhart, to Fort Stevens. He generally praises the officers and men of the national guard for their efficient organization.

ASQUITH'S DAUGHTER ILL

London, July 13.—(I. N. S.)—It is announced that Miss Violet Asquith, daughter of the premier, is ill with a mild attack of typhoid fever. It is hoped her illness will not prove serious enough to interfere with her marriage to Maurice Bowden Carter, which was set for July 27.

Officers and Men Praised.

Congressman C. N. McArthur has returned from visit to the encampment of the Third regiment, Oregon National Guard, at Camp Jackson, Gearhart, to Fort Stevens. He generally praises the officers and men of the national guard for their efficient organization.

Vacation season at the city hall is on, with City Engineer, J. H. Johnson, away in California motoring from San Francisco to Los Angeles and San Diego. Mr. Bigelow will return in about two weeks.

SHAW HOLDS MIRROR UP TO MODERN LIFE IN HIS "PYGMALION"

Makes Faces in It Himself; Mrs. Campbell and Company Play Cleverly.

By Rex Lampman.

Nothing really happens but a rain-storm, and it gets tired and quits in the first act.

Words are not used to develop plot. What plot there is is for the sake of words.

In fact, George Bernard Shaw's "Pygmalion" is a play about a play. Last night by Mrs. Patrick Campbell, is as plotless, almost, as most of our lives.

Therein the play is true to life in the lump, and falls as a play per se.

And thus, G. B. S. achieves a literary rather than a dramatic success with "Pygmalion," in which the literary tendency in modern drama seems to have reached high tide.

There is no apparent reason for anything at any time—except that Shaw still has something to say. Which is reason enough, and something everyone should understand.

For Shaw's people are very human. They have so much to say, and say so little. They try so hard to tell each other what they do not know about the business of living.

None Each Other.

And they bore each other so.

The Shaw puppets stand around and talk at each other and to themselves. There is but one character in the play—and he is in London right now, criticizing England's action in regard to the war. All the imitations whose strings are jerked by G. B. S. are kept busy expressing his amusement and contempt with life as it is lived.

Each puppet is a type. Not an exaggerated type. Portland is full of types as pronounced. The Hells was filled with them—with us—last night.

And most of us enjoyed being "shown up," even if we didn't know what was happening.

Shaw seems to feel a certain utility in his criticism of life, but he smashes away undaunted, hopeful, perhaps, that he may crack one agonistic hard-shell before he is through.

Mrs. Campbell and company give the most excellent reading of the lines. One feels that if there were anything else for them to do they could do it quite as excellently.

Mrs. Campbell, it would seem, occupies Mr. Shaw's conception of Eliza Doolittle completely. Professor Higgins, the phonetic expert, teaches her to speak correctly. That is really all he does, or can do for her. He discovers that she has a soul. But she remains the same from beginning to end except for her bettered speech. The awakening, if any there is, is his. Mrs. Campbell makes all this very clear, without emphasis.

Interpretation is Delightful.

H. E. Harber gives a delightful interpretation of Professor Henry Higgins, and at times almost galvanizes the play into action with his St. Vitus restlessness.

The story—last, because least:

Eliza Doolittle, street flower girl with a horrible London dialect, is taken up by Professor Henry Higgins, the phonetic expert, and taught to speak English purely. He treats her as a slavey. She rebels and goes. Her lover, who is fond of her, and without saying so for he doesn't know it—argues her back.

Other characters are pushed in whenever the burden of talking for Shaw gets too heavy on Eliza and the professor.

Did they get married? I don't know. If they did or didn't matters only to G. B. S., and he'd probably make another play of it, using the same players.

Tonight Mrs. Campbell will play "The Second Mrs. Tanqueray," accounted Higgins' masterpiece. The rest of the week "Pygmalion" will be played, with matinee Wednesday and Saturday.

Rotary Delegates Will Be Guests

Many Travelers Will Be Entertained on Their Arrival in This City; Auto Tour, Dinner, Boat Trip and Frolic.

International Rotary delegates on their way to San Francisco will be entertained by the Portland Rotary club Thursday and Friday and Saturday morning.

A special train carrying the St. Paul Rotary club will arrive Friday afternoon at 3 o'clock. A two hour auto tour of the city will be followed by dinner at the Benson hotel. The Grahamons has been chartered by the Portland Rotarians for a trip up the Willamette river which will be followed by a frolic at the Oaks park.

Rotarians from Seattle, Vancouver, Victoria, Spokane, Calgary and Tacoma will arrive in Portland and be guests of the Portland Rotary club Friday and Saturday mornings.

Breakfast will be served all guests at the Benson Saturday morning just before departure for San Francisco and the convention via the S. P. & S. and steamer Great Northern.

The Portland Rotary party will include the following: Fred Spoerl, president of the Portland club, chairman of the general committee, and wife; Frank C. Riggs, international vice president, wife and daughter; C. C. Cochran, official delegate, and wife; C. C. Bradley, official delegate; C. B. Waters, official delegate; John H. Dundore, official delegate, and wife; E. B. Morris and wife; E. M. Tilden, wife and daughter; Jacob Breble, Mrs. S. D. Levy, J. A. Esberg, A. P. Calder and wife.

The convention at San Francisco is dated July 19-22.

Thousands Pay Last Respects to Prelate

Chicago, July 12.—(I. N. S.)—The last tribute to the late Archbishop James Edward Quigley, begun here today with the arrival of the body from Rochester, N. Y., were fitting to the high place which the prelate filled in the councils of the Roman Catholic church.

More than 6000 clergymen and laymen formed the escort to the Cathedral. More than a million of the faithful participated in the solemn masses and ceremonies.

NEWPORT CHAUTAUQUA SO SUCCESSFUL THAT OTHERS MAY BE HELD

Audiences Take Kindly to Entertainers Offered; Junior Organization Perfected.

Newport, Or., July 12.—The Chautauqua which opened here Saturday is well under way now, and Monday morning the Junior Chautauqua was organized by Miss Hazel W. Alexander, with a class of young folk over 18.

This class will enjoy the play hour every morning till close of the events Thursday. Thursday morning a demonstration of playground work will be given.

The Adolphian quartet, in their "Old Home" concert Saturday night, was listened to by a large audience. There was an especial hit. Their sacred prelude Sunday afternoon and the sacred concert Sunday night concluded their work here.

Colonel William Hamilton Miller, in his "Community Lecture" Saturday night, "The Neighboring City," was listened to by a large audience. He dwelt on the community development and town building theme, and suggested a get-together spirit, which, if taken advantage of, will help any community. He hit the mail order house buyer hard.

In his lecture Sunday afternoon, "When I Am 'Old Bill,'" he was a grand success, holding for the betterment of the race and against the double standard of morality, with a illustrated lecture, and was pronounced good by all who heard her.

Much interest is manifested in Whitepellet's Royal Hungarian orchestra. The orchestra will entertain the people here for two days.

The success of the Chautauqua is assured, the people are enthusiastic over their work here.

Vernon's Branch Library Discussed

At a community meeting in the Vernon school last night to discuss the matter of securing a branch library, two propositions were suggested, one by the Alberta Women's Improvement association and the other by the Vernon Parent-Teacher association. The Parent-Teacher association's plan is to induce the building of places similar to those in Sellwood, Lewis and North Portland, and let the library association secure a five year lease.

The purchasing of a plot of ground 100 by 150 feet at East Twenty-third and Summit streets for $1800 and erecting a $6000 or more bungalow, defraying the expense by popular subscription, was the plan of the Alberta association and the other by the Vernon Parent-Teacher association. The Parent-Teacher association's plan is to induce the building of places similar to those in Sellwood, Lewis and North Portland, and let the library association secure a five year lease.

Mrs. Sharp stated that the upper floor could be used for community purposes and the lower floor for the library at a rental of $35 a month.

After arguments on both plans were heard, it was decided that the meeting go on record as endorsing the plan of the Parent-Teacher association, and leave it to the Central Library association to conduct the business of the library as it sees fit.

Mrs. Sharp stated that the $10000 paid for rentals in the five years could just as well go into the community library building.

Other speakers of the evening were Mrs. E. H. Works, H. H. Bushnell and I. B. Webster.

Rev. Mr. Mount was appointed chairman of the meeting.
