

MERCHANTS ARE NOW ASSEMBLING IN CITY FOR BUYERS' WEEK

W. G. Ericson of Flora, Wallowa County, Heads Vanguard Reaching City.

WOMAN TO FOLLOW SOON

Attendance of Out of Town Dealers Expected to Surpass All Expectations.

The vanguard of the hundreds of country merchants who will be in Portland for Buyers' week, which will be from August 9 to 14, arrived today.

"Our town is going to be well represented during Buyers' week," said Mr. Ericson, at the Chamber of Commerce this morning.

The other store is run by a woman, and she is expected to arrive in Portland the first of the week.

As neither of these merchants had sent in cards of acceptance, their coming so early indicates to the Chamber of Commerce that the attendance of out of town merchants will be larger than ever this year.

During next week the visiting merchants are expected next week.

A registration booth will be opened tomorrow on the first floor at the Chamber of Commerce.

During next week the visiting merchants are not going to have a single idle or dull moment, as the entertainment committees have provided for all the time the visitors will have for pleasure.

BUSY DAY MARKS END OF NINETEENTH OSTEOPATH MEETING of laws by nation and state making compulsory the examination of school children by competent osteopathic physicians.

Such examinations are necessary, claim the osteopaths, that parents may be early informed of structural and postural defects needing correction in their children and of abnormal conditions in nose and throat.

Compulsory Vaccination Opposed. Most advanced of the resolutions, perhaps, was that favoring the enactment of legislation in the various states making compulsory the reporting of venereal diseases to boards of health, just as is now required for other contagious and infectious diseases.

Unqualified indorsement was given to national prohibition, the association placing itself on record as opposed to the liquor traffic on the ground that it is responsible for "much of the crime, vice and misery of this country."

Uncompromising opposition was voiced against compulsory vaccination.

Baby Bureau Indorsed. Allowing almost universal discrimination at present in the appointment of physicians to the staffs of municipal and state hospitals in favor of the so-called dominant school, the convention went on record as favoring legislation extending the civil service to all public hospitals.

Competitive examinations opening such positions to competent physicians of all schools instead of merely to practitioners of medicine, is asked by the osteopaths.

Support of the association was pledged toward the work now being carried on by the children's federal bureau in its baby saving campaigns, and in the securing of proper birth registrations.

Owen Bill Opposed. Two resolutions adopted by the convention are directed toward alleged discrimination in all departments of the federal medical service, opposition being voiced to what is known as the Owen bill and similar legislation, providing for the establishment of a department of public health, on the ground that it is class legislation.

Passage of such legislation, say the osteopaths, really means recognition of the medical practitioners as the official school of medicine of the United States government service. "This is unjust and unfair to the science of osteopathy, they assert, and is part of a campaign being conducted by the American Medical association to extend its own privileges and prerogatives to the exclusion of all other schools.

Charge of Discrimination. Attention is drawn to the fact that a government employe entitled to medical service at government expense was recently refused an allowance for osteopathic treatment because of the alleged monopoly existing in the government health service.

Such discrimination, say the osteopaths, violates the spirit and principles of American freedom.

Official indorsement was given to work being done by the government and the states to further the pure food movement, and to the Harrison anti-narcotic act, in that it tends to lessen the use of drugs.

Unique "Peace" Resolution. On motion of Dr. R. Kendrick Smith of Boston, head of the association's department of public education, the following unique "peace" resolution was adopted.

"As conservators of human life, we wish to go on record as opposed to the destruction of life as a means of settling international disputes.

It will be observed that the resolution does not contain the word "peace." Of local interest is the following resolution.

Resolved, That we wish to express our hearty appreciation of the magnificent hospitality extended by the people and institutions of Portland. We are especially indebted to the Chamber of Commerce for its contribution to our entertainment. We owe a debt of gratitude to the osteopathic physicians of Portland for their untiring labors for the success of the convention. Dr. E. Moore is congratulated upon his administration of the general arrangements for the convention. We wish to thank the Hotel Multnomah for its uniform courtesy and excellent accommodations. We thank the Oregon Social Hygiene association for its excellent and extensive exhibits. Never before has an osteopathic convention received the amount of consideration from the

Dr. R. Kendrick Smith of Boston will be one of the speakers. Of the convention that closed today Dr. Smith said this morning: "It was indeed most successful from the standpoint of work accomplished and from attendance. Nearly 700 osteopaths were here, and when one considers the geographical situation of Portland and the fact that business conditions are not of the best, the attendance was really remarkable."

Second Bursall Trial Near End

Salem, Or., Aug. 5.—Arguments were started this morning in the case of Clarence Bursall, accused of the murder of Charles Zimmerman, near Silverton, and it is expected that the case would reach the jury this afternoon.

The evidence of state and defense was practically the same as that of a first trial, in which the jury disagreed, but the state emphasized the testimony of Mrs. Zimmerman, widow of the deceased, who witnessed the shooting, and her daughter, more strongly.

The first jury had a prolonged controversy as to whether or not the defendant was sane at the time of the killing, and this was one of the chief reasons assigned for the failure to reach a verdict.

Oregon Woman Sought. Los Angeles, Aug. 6.—(P. N. S.)—Upon advice from Mrs. John Hooper of Midland, Or., detectives here today searched the hospital and inspecting death records in an effort to locate Mrs. Leslie Van Meter, daughter of Mrs. Hooper, who disappeared several weeks ago.

Klamath Falls, Or., Aug. 6.—Mrs. Van Meter was granted a divorce here September 1, 1912, from A. E. Crane, a farmer. She was his second wife.

She sued for custody of a child and property. Later she was caught in a rooming house with a man, the police being directed by the son-in-law, Archie Heinline, a photographer of this city, who had shadowed them. Later she married Van Meter and went to Los Angeles, where Van Meter entered the navy. Relatives here say they do not know of her disappearance.

Proved He Was Wrong Man. Seattle, Aug. 6.—(U. P. N. S.)—Within 12 hours after Governor Lister signed papers for his extradition by the state of New York, Ignatius Wise, who had secured a writ of habeas corpus from Superior Judge Mitchell Gilliam here Friday, alleging that he is not the man wanted.

Wise declares the person being sought by the New York authorities is Ignatius Wise. The charge against Wise or Wales, is about the same as that against the man who was extradited.

May Have Eloped. Los Angeles, Aug. 6.—(P. N. S.)—Police of San Diego and Santa Barbara were asked to look out for Milton Irons, 20, and Flossie Thayer, 15, whose father is said to live at Marshfield, Or. The youthful pair are believed to have eloped.

Marshfield, Or., Aug. 6.—Irons and Thayer are names not familiar here.

INDUSTRIAL ACCIDENT DANGERS A REALITY; ONE CASE IS CITED

Cruel Fate Often Strikes Blow That Renders Victim Almost Dependent.

STATE EXPERT GIVES VIEW

Experience of Man Who Suffered Loss of an Arm Is Related by Statistician.

By Ben H. Williams, Statistician State Industrial Commission.

Accidents to most people are unreal. They are the bugbear of a dream. Why should one who is destined to be a strong, healthful man have much concern about them? Such a man does not intend to become a member of the growing army of cripples.

Why should he worry? There is a man, a good man with an empty sleeve, who walks the streets of an Oregon town. His only support is the $25 per month which he draws from the state industrial accident commission. He has no other income.

Many times he has applied for a job. But they tell him that in these times there are plenty of two-handed men looking for work.

A year ago he was as other men, physically whole. He expected to remain that way. He had no idea how the swift, cruel processes by which men's limbs are torn asunder might come into his life. Then on one day this was revealed to him.

He had found a job for a few days on one of the city woodyards. Whether the work was hazardous or not did not trouble him. He had no idea of the large list of woodyard victims. He did not know that the woodyards of this state are poorly guarded and barbarously dangerous. But he did know that laborers who are injured under such conditions of work sometimes get fired. And so he wasted little time in thinking about the question of industrial safety.

During an interval in the sawing, while the sharp teeth were still revolving swiftly and unseen on the large list of woodyard victims, he concluded to oil the saw. He picked up the oil can, injected oil in the proper places and then reached to set the saw down. He never knew just how it happened. He felt his arm jump as if it had received an electric shock. He dimly remembers the thought of blood on his face, but he heard someone shout out as if from a long distance. Then the air and the world began to grow black and his brain swirled. It seems like a nightmare period of suffering at the hospital.

The doctor did his best, the nurse did her best; but the pain in that arm was terrible. It seemed that the world would go wild; and at midnight they put him under the drug. When he awoke his arm was gone. It had been amputated above the elbow.

This is the story of how one man
