Young Pitching Phenom Gets Wobbly in Winth Wnen Double With Bases Pull Saves a Shutout.

Had Jimmy Johnston placed less dependence in his fleetness of foot in the ninth inning of this afternoon's ball game at Recreation park, there would be perhaps a different story to tell than that which is about to be related.

Jimmy Johnston believed in himsel

He had confidence in his speed Therefore he tried to score from first base on Rube Gardner's ninth inning two bagger, and he was hurled out at the plate. Had Jimmy stopped at third base he could have, been squeezed" in, or he might have scored on a sacrifice fly, and the count would have been a tie.

But the score was 3 to 2 in favor of the Tigers, so there is nothing but squandering of time in speculating

Bill Piercy, the 19-year-old curve manipulator who has pitched himself nto fame by annihilating batting av erages all over the league, had the Oaks at his mercy until there came a ninth inning rally that furmished al the excitement of the game. In this final frame the Oaks staged a splendid little rally and had Jimmy J, but been t bit more discreet—but what's the use of talking about it?

Against Piercy was arrayed Harry Ables, who didn't pitch a bad game, out who was unfortunate. His misfortunes started in the very first inning, when the Tigers got actively t work and scored two runs

In the fourth inning Joe Wilholt got on with an infield hit. Purtell struck Gleischmann sacrificed, sending Wilhoit to second. Also on this sacrifice Mr. Ables committed an error and Gleischmann too was safe. Lim Berger, up next, lifted a fly to left field, so that two were down when Tub Spencer came to bat. The score stood thus at 3 to 0 till the ninth. Here Joe Tobin, batting for Marcan, drew a walk. Middleton and Johnston singled in succession, filling the bases. Ness lifted a short fly to Maggert, cf. right field. Rube Gardner was next. And Rube delivered. He sapped a clean two Koerner, bagger against the center field fence and Tobin and Middleton scored with
