

REGISTRATION FOR BUYERS' WEEK NOW EXCEEDS LAST YEAR

Total Jumps This Morning to 506 or About 50 More Than in 1914.

FIRST VISIT TO THEATRE

Mr. and Mrs. Holman of Hood River See Performances at Empress and Pantages.

Registration for Buyers Week ran up to 506 this morning. This is 50 more than the total number of buyers registered during the entire week last year, and twice the number registered for the first buyers week two years ago.

Never before has Portland so completely taken advantage of the opportunity to cement its friendships with the hundreds of merchants from the towns in the great interior country which is tributary to this city.

"I think Buyers' Week is one of the finest things I ever struck," declared J. T. Holman of Hood River, dealer in groceries and hardware. My wife and I attended last year and I felt then that if the trip had cost me $100 I would have been well repaid."

Visit Theatre First Time

Mrs. Holman is with Mr. Holman again this year. They are an elderly couple, Mr. Holman being 69 years old. And last night, what do you think happened? They went to the theatre for the first time in their lives. They went with the other buyers who were guests of the Chamber of Commerce at the Empress and the Pantages. "We didn't like it a bit," declared Mr. Holman today.

Mr. Holman is a thorough booster for the Hood River valley.

Buyers All Pleased

All the buyers express pleasure with the entertainment being given them. This is particularly true of the women. Under the direction of Mrs. C. C. Chapman, general chairman of the women's committees, flowers have been sent to the visitors who were staying at the hotels, and many Portland women have made personal calls upon them.

Today noon all the visitors were guests at luncheon at the Log Cabin Baking company. Tonight there will be a jollification at the Oaks.

The members of the women's reception committee for today are: Mrs. R. E. Bristol, Mrs. William A. Henninger, Mrs. O. C. Calhoun, Mrs. J. D. Ripley, Mrs. W. F. Norman, Mrs. C. E. Day, Mrs. Robert Lutke.

Members of the men's committee for today's luncheon are: A. H. Devers, chairman; William A. Healy, A. M. Cronin, J. J. Blaine, A. M. Harndon, Carl Schallinger, F. L. Knight, H. S. Tuthill, H. C. Skinner, E. A. Hollingshead, F. C. Stettler, T. S. Townsend.

The committee which has in charge the entertainment of the visitors at the Oaks tonight is comprised of: O. W. Melike, chairman; J. D. Ripley, Dwight Edwards Jr., W. F. Norman, George E. Crawford, A. E. Jenkins, A. E. King, Charles S. Lipschuetz, D. B. McBride, H. A. Conner, J. A. Zehnbauer, S. C. Rasmussen, Walter J. Rosenfield.

Descriptions Are Glowing

The glory and richness of Oregon's towns were described in glowing terms by loyal citizens who participated in the two-minute talk contest conducted by the Portland Ad club at its luncheon at the Multnomah for the benefit of the visiting buyers. Miss Luella Baldwin, aged 11, of Reuben, was one of the speakers. Speakers on other subjects were Joe Mitchell Chapple, editor of the National Magazine, and C. C. Chapman, speaking on "Cut Prices."

Little Miss Baldwin was awarded a special prize. First prize went to A. G. Hoffman, of Forest Grove; second to T. J. Allen, of King's Valley, Benton county; and third to Mrs. A. E. Greiner, of Echo.

Others speaking on the progress and development of their home towns were Mrs. F. C. Watts, of Reuben; A. G. Means, of Umatilla; George C. Baldwin, of Klamath Falls; C. H. Irwin, of Redmond; F. E. Davis, of Dallas; U. S. G. Miller, of Newberg; J. L. Pope, of Jamieson, Malheur county; E. J. Johnson, of Powell Butte, and Henry G. Ploeger, of Myrtle Point. A prize was given to each. A. C. Clark presided.

Arguments in Dodge Case Still Continue

Attorney Clark, Who Started Yesterday Morning, Had Not Concluded at Noon Today; Review of Testimony.

Attorney A. E. Clark of counsel for the defense in the Dodge case now being argued before Circuit Judge Kavanaugh, bids fair to outdo all other attorneys in the case in point of time consumed in argument of the case. He began yesterday morning and at noon today had not finished. In all he had talked about seven hours. Attorney Thomas Mannix will close arguments for the plaintiff when Attorney Clark concludes. Attorney Clark's argument is largely a review of the testimony in which he is pointing out what he considers the important points made by the defense.

Sues for $7605 Damages.

Mary Seifer this morning sued the Portland Railway, Light & Power company for $7605 damages, alleging injury to her car on June 28, when a car struck a motorcycle belonging to P. H. Archer, on which she was a passenger. The accident occurred at Eleventh and Washington streets.

Three Divorce Suits Filed.

Divorce suits were filed yesterday by Ray R. Nelson against Bertha M. Nelson, asserting; C. H. Gaffney against Julia E. Gaffney, cruelty; Myrtle Hewitt against Porter B. Hewitt, cruelty.

Wife Sued for Divorce.

W. D. Merrill this morning sued Clara D. Merrill for divorce, alleging cruelty.

West's Picture Is Hung in Capitol

Salem, Or., Aug. 12.—A handsome oil painting of former Governor Oswald West has been hung in the house of representatives. The painting is by John Trullinger, of Astoria. In the background of the picture is shown the granting of suffrage to women. The painting is a distinct departure in many ways from others in the state house and is causing considerable discussion.

Here to Receive Pasteur Treatment

Bitten by dogs infected by rabies, Lee Dow of Jacksonville, Or., and C. Lasher of Malheur county, are taking the pasteur treatment at the hands of State Health Officer Calvin S. White. Dow began treatment yesterday while Lasher begins active treatment Sunday.

A report has reached Dr. White that a number of cattle in eastern Clackamas county are suffering from a contagious disease and that veterinarians are busy there. State Veterinarian Lytle is making an investigation.

Death of Rev. A. G. Boyd.

Rev. Andrew Gray Boyd, a Presbyterian minister, who came to Oregon 30 years ago, died this morning at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Donald Turner, 119 Ogden street. He was 78 years old.

ITALIANS FLEE AS THE LAVA POURS DOWN SIDE OF MOUNTAINS

Vesuvius, Etna and Stromboli Again Active, Threatening Many Villages.

By Henry Wood.

Naples, Aug. 12.—(U. P.)—The great volcanoes, Vesuvius, Etna and Stromboli, have suddenly become active, and are belching steam and smoke.

Lava is pouring down the eastern slope of Mount Etna from two new craters, threatening Sicilian villages. Naples and Messina are terror stricken. The inhabitants are flocking to the churches, offering prayers for the safety of the cities. Taranto and Brindisi have felt tremors and there is increasing fear that a gigantic earthquake is about to shake Italy, though scientists are taking every means to reassure the public.

Smoke Visible for Miles.

En route from Athens to Naples aboard a Greek steamer, I personally witnessed the reawakening of the great volcanoes. Passing through the Ionian sea, smoke from Mount Etna was visible for miles. The cone of the volcano, standing two miles above sea level, was shrouded in a thick cap of black smoke and steam.

At Messina, 60 miles to the northeast, the people are clamoring for the traditional procession to the Madonna Della Lettera, popularly believed to have often saved them from Mount Etna's wrath.

Stromboli Spouts Lava.

Stromboli, rising 3000 feet above the sea on one of the Lipari islands, was seen to be emitting an angry stream of lava toward the sea, while spouting ashes, flame and smoke. As far as we could ascertain from the steamer, none of the small villages at the base had been burned.

Vapors from Mount Vesuvius clouded the bay of Naples when we arrived here. Residents of villages at the base of the volcano are flocking here, they are straggling into Naples with their goods strapped upon their backs, fleeing before what, it is feared, may be another outbreak of the volcano.

Child Injured in "A Barrel of Fun"

At the Oaks, in the amusement section known as "A Barrel of Fun," Helen Coplan, the 10-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Coplan, of 694 Overton street, was injured yesterday, when a larger boy fell on her and broke her arm and dislocated her wrist. The child is resting easily today, but it was feared for a time she had suffered internal injuries. The boy responsible for the injuries disappeared, and is not known. Mr. Coplan is a lieutenant of Troop A, cavalry, of the Oregon National Guard, and now in command pending an election of a captain.

La Subitanea E Pericolosa Attivita Del Vesuvio Dell'Etna E Dello Stromboli.

Napoli 12.—Il Vesuvio, l'Etna e lo Stromboli sono diventati improvvisamente attivi; dai vecchi e nuovi crateri formati, sprigionati abbondante gas a fumo. L'Etna erutta lava da due nuovi crateri; la massa incandescente si e' riversata lungo il versante orientale, minacciando i villaggi sottostanti. A Napoli e Messina, la popolazione, in preda all'orgasmo, accorre alle chiese dove invocano il Signore perche' salvi la loro citta'.

A Taranto e Brindisi, si sono avute due leggere scosse di terremoto; quelle popolazioni temono che esse siano i segni precursori di qualche grande e spaventoso disastro tellurico, malgrado gli ultimi bollettini degli osservatori sismografici ne escludono la possibilita', o almeno il pericolo, per il momento.

Il Fumo Si Vede Da Miglia.

In rota da Atene verso Napoli, su di un piroscafo greco lo stesso, dice il corrispondente dell'United Press, Mr. Henry Wood, ho potuto constatare l'improvvisazione vulcanica. Dal mare l'isola era visibilissimo il fumo che si sprigiona dall'Etna; il cono del vulcano, che si eleva all'altezza di oltre due miglia sul livello del mare, era completamente avvolto in una densa nuvola di fumo e di gas.

A Messina e dintorni, per un circuito di circa 60 miglia, il popolo reclama, dall'autorita' ecclesiastica, che in Madonna della Lettera, sia portata in processione; esso crede di essere stato spesso salvato da essa, nelle precedenti eruzioni.

Lo Stromboli Brutta Lava.

Lo Stromboli, che sulle isole Lipari, si eleva a circa 1000 metri sul livello del mare, sprutta una gran quantita di lava, fumo e vapori salsati. La lava si e' fortunatamente riversata sul versante piu' prossimo al mare, senza causare nessun danno ai villaggi sottostanti. Neanche gli altri vulcani, l'Etna e il Vesuvio, hanno recato, fino ad ora, danno alcuno.

Woman Resents "Hello Kid;" Man To Pay $50 Fine

"Hello kid." The remark cost W. B. Baugh just $50 in the municipal court this morning on a mashing charge. Mrs. Anna Wade was the complainant. Coming from work at the Hazelwood last night, she was accosted at Park and Stark streets by Baugh, a total stranger to her. Patrolman H. A. Lewis arrested Baugh. The latter denied any knowledge of the affair this morning.

W. E. Norton Was Native of Illinois

William Elmer Norton, who died in this city at his home, 1922 East Alder street, Monday, August 9, was born in Illinois 50 years ago and spent most of his life in that state. He had lived in Portland for the past five years, and was engaged in contracting and building. He is survived by a widow and three children, Mrs. H. C. Taylor of The Dalles, Audrey and Pauline of this city. His father is W. C. Norton and his brother George is Norton of David City, Neb. The remains were in charge of W. H. Hamilton, funeral director, East Eleventh and Gilean. Services were held at the chapel of the Mount Scott cemetery today.

Smoker in Dreams; Bed Catches Fire

Going to sleep while in bed smoking and reading, a laborer who has been staying in a barber shop at 232 North Fourteenth street, awoke a few minutes after 4 o'clock this morning to find his bed in flames. He rushed into the street in night clothes, shouting fire, and when Engine 26 and truck 3 arrived a few minutes later, the bed had been destroyed. The man responsible for the fire in the meantime secured his clothes, and when the firemen went to look for him, he was gone. They were unable to secure his name. The loss was estimated at $50 to the room and bed.

"JUDY FORGOT." Forgot what? Forgot that she had a hubby; forgot that she was supposed to be the mother of three bouncing babies; forgot that she was not Trixy Gale, the famous burlesque queen, who was being pursued for abducting and marrying a young millionaire minor; forgot that she had been in a railroad wreck; forgot that she shouldn't let fat old Mr. Mugg make love to her; forgot that she had locked her door, devoted and extremely jealous hubby in a bathroom a hundred miles away; forgot—but why nominate the things Judy forgot when the real question before the house is: "What didn't Judy forget?"
