

THREE SOUTHERN COLLEGES WOULD JOIN NORTHWEST

Dr. Stewart Says Californians Want an All-Coast Conference.

Dr. E. J. Stewart, athletic director of the Oregon Agricultural college, who took in the national championship at San Francisco, brings the information north that the movement to create an all-coast conference has taken concrete form with the announced intention of Graduate Managers E. H. Behrens, of Stanford, John Stroud, of the University of California, and W. B. Boward, of the University of Southern California, to attend the Northwestern College conference executive meeting in Portland this fall.

"The California instructors are anxious to see an all-coast conference," said Dr. Stewart, "so that athletics on this way may be placed on as strong a basis as those in the east. An all-coast conference could be made as strong as the middle western conference and the eastern intercollegiate conference. California needs the northwest, and the northwest needs California, and the two sections are more closely united athletically now than ever before."

Dr. Stewart saw his great middle distance runner, Guy Hobgood, push Hanneb Kohlmeier to the limit to win the five mile race, the Corvallis man finishing a couple of feet behind Millard, who was a foot behind the great Finn. A yardstick would have covered the trio.

Eight or nine entrants in the race had national reputations, Hobgood being the lone exception. For about two and a half miles the runners were bunched and then Kohlmeier started out to kill the others off. Millard is deserving of great praise for the race he ran, for the day before he won the five mile race and the task of doing two five mile races at top speed was a hard one.

Hobgood had trained for the one and two mile races and had only a week between the Far Western, in which he won both mile and two mile, to lengthen out for the five mile race.

In all the three races, James E. Millard and Hobgood were never more than six or eight feet apart, and when they came into the stretch they did it abreast.

Doc says if the weather had been calm, the three runners would have set a record that would have endured for years as it was the first time since coming to American soil that Kohlmeier has been pushed to the limit. The runners went into the heavy blow from the back stretch 15 times and in spite of it did the five miles in 25 minutes, 53 1/2 seconds. Kohlmeier on a calm day and with a fast track had done the five miles in 24 minutes and 15 seconds.

Stewart says it was the greatest race that he ever saw and others assert that it measured up to historic quarter mile of the national championships at Seattle in 1909, when Earl Gish won the race by inches and one could have placed a foot rule on the ground at the finish line. James E. Sullivan said it was the greatest race he ever saw, and one can only conjecture what Sullivan would have thought of the San Francisco five mile race.

Stewart is on his way to Corvallis to prepare for the opening of college next month.

Amateur Is Now Professional Dancer Accepts Engagement

Elizabeth Chapin, clever Portland girl, will hold prominent position on Empress bill—Made debut here at Press Club entertainment last spring in "Cleopatra" dance.

From an amateur try-out into a professional engagement was the step made last night by Elizabeth Chapin, young Portland dancer.

Manager Conlon was so delighted with her work and the appreciation of the audience that he made haste to offer her a contract as soon as she left her dressing room at the Empress. The agreement provides that she shall have next to last place on the bill, considered honor position for one person acts.

Miss Chapin appeared last night in her "Cleopatra" and "Barcarole" dances, both of which she does in bare feet. Her costumes were designed by her mother, and the picture she made in the "Cleopatra" costume, even before she had begun to dance, brought a burst of applause. The dance itself, as interpreted by Miss Chapin, is a motion poem, all compact of the inspiration and romance with which painters and poets have ever invested the character of "the serpent of old Nile."

The "Barcarole" dance is interpretative of one of the "Tales of Hoffmann," and as it was the first time since coming to American soil that Kohlmeier has been pushed to the limit. The runners went into the heavy blow from the back stretch 15 times and in spite of it did the five miles in 25 minutes, 53 1/2 seconds. Kohlmeier on a calm day and with a fast track had done the five miles in 24 minutes and 15 seconds.

St. Louis, Mo., Aug. 13.—(I. N. S.)—Just after the 13th inning game yesterday, in which the Cubs defeated the Cardinals, Mrs. Schuyler Britton, owner of the St. Louis club, stopped Umpire Byron behind the grandstand. Just what Mrs. Britton had to say to the umpire could not be heard or learned, but from the attitude taken by Byron while talking to the woman manager it was evident that a tongue lashing was being given him.

He stood hat in hand, and listened, seldom finding an opportunity to get in a word. Byron had had a tough time with the players of both clubs and one of his decisions, which brought a strong protest from the Cardinals, enabled the Cubs to score the victory.

Mrs. Locke to Sell Interest in Phillies
Philadelphia, Pa., Aug. 13.—(I. N. S.)—Fred T. Chandler, a Philadelphia leader, who succeeded Mrs. Locke as leading stockholder in the Philadelphia National league team. The transaction is expected to be completed by the end of this week.

Mrs. Locke, whose husband was a prominent member of the syndicate that purchased the Phillies from C. P. Taft and Charles Murphy several seasons ago, came to Philadelphia to close the deal for the sale of her stock in the club, which she has retained since her husband's death. It was understood that the price for the club would be $50,000.

Just what proportion of the stock will be transferred is not known, but at the time of the purchase the late W. H. Locke was the largest individual stockholder and, with President Baker as an ally, could vote a controlling interest in the club.

Steinmetz yesterday won the singles championship in the Murrumbidgee tennis tournament, defeating H. Werschkul after four hard sets, 4-6, 6-4, 6-4, 6-4.

Owing to the non-arrival of Jones, Pearce and Burrell were awarded the men's doubles semi-finals from Harrison and Jones by default. Tomorrow Pearce and Burrell will meet the winner of the match between H. Werschkul and Helnecke and the Werschkul brothers.

All of the remaining finals will be played tomorrow.

St. Louis, Mo., Aug. 13.—(U. P.)—Indications that the St. Louis Cardinals would attempt to draft Roy Corban, a shortstop, were received today in a telegram to Cliff Blankenship, manager of Salt Lake City, from Eddie Herr, scout of the Cardinals.

"I was about the condition of Corban's arm. It was sore when I was on the coast. Has it improved?" the telegram read.

Blankenship replied that Corban's arm is strong as ever.

With a record breaking entry list, the second annual Willamette river swim of the Multnomah Amateur Athletic club will be staged tomorrow afternoon. Promptly at 1:30 o'clock, the swimmers will be started from the Oregon Yacht club on their water journey of a little over three miles. The finish will be at Kellogg's boat house at the foot of Yamhill street.

Present indications are that the weather will be as good as was expected. Unless there is a real hard rain storm, the event will be held as scheduled.

Gold watches will be presented to the first man swimmer to finish and also to the first woman swimmer. The first junior swimmer crossing the line will receive a bathing suit as his prize.

Norman Ross, twice winner of the Christmas swim and winner of the first annual long distance race, is favorite in tomorrow's event, but it is expected that some of the other contestants will give him a battle for the honors.

CLABBY WILL GO TO AUSTRALIA TO FIGHT L. DARCY

Contest With the Australian Champ Will Take Place Next November.

Chicago, Aug. 13.—(I. N. S.)—Jimmy Clabby, the Hammond middleweight, one of the claimants of the title, will leave next month for Australia to meet Les Darcy, conqueror of Eddie McCoarty, for the undisputed middleweight championship of the world.

Manager Larnie Lichtenstein yesterday said that Clabby had been in Milwaukee for the last few days conferring with Tom Andrews, American representative of Showy Baker, the Australian impresario. According to Lichtenstein, Andrews and Clabby have agreed on terms, and the result is that the Hoosier fighter, his manager and trainer will leave for the antipodes next month.

If Clabby wins over the Australian, he may make several other fights on the island, but he has signed up for only one. According to present plans, the Clabby party will leave for the coast early next month and sail about September 15. Lichtenstein said the contest would take place in November and that the weight will be 168 pounds three hours before the fight.
