

JOHN D. FOUNDATION, COMMISSIONERS SAY, IS PEOPLE'S MENACE

Third Section of Industrial Relations Report Denounces Foundations, FEW CONTROL THE MANY

Final Control of American Industry Rests With Small Group of Men, States Report.

Chicago, Aug. 26.—(U. P.)—Scathing denunciation of the Rockefeller and Carnegie foundations, and the declaration that the lives of millions of wage earners are subject to the dictation of a relatively small number of men, featured the third section of the Manly report of the industrial relations commission, made public here today.

The entrance of the Rockefeller foundation into the field of industrial relations, through the creation of a special division, was declared to "constitute a menace to the national welfare, to which the attention, not only of congress, but of the entire country, should be directed."

"Backed by the $100,000,000 of the Rockefeller foundation, this movement has the power to influence the entire country in the determination of its vital policy," the report declared.

The investigation into industrial conditions which is being made by the Rockefeller foundation is not in good faith, it is declared, but was originated to promote the industrial interests of Rockefeller.

John D. Jr. Is a Target.

John D. Rockefeller Jr. is charged with having planned to utilize in his campaign literature which he knew contained false statements. That he proposed to influence the public press is declared to be "clearly shown by the employment of an experienced publicity expert as a member of his personal staff."

Except, perhaps, for improvements in safety and sanitation, the labor conditions of corporation controlled industries are a menace to the welfare of the nation," the report said. "In order to prevent the organization of employees for the improvement of working conditions, elaborate systems of espionage are maintained by the larger corporations which refuse to deal with labor unions, and employes discharged for union affiliation are discharged."

"The domination of the men in whose hands the final control of a large part of American industry rests, is not limited to their employes, but is being rapidly extended to control of the education and 'social service' of the nation."

Foundations Are Scored.

"This control is being extended largely through the creation of privately managed funds for indefinite periods, and the concentration of these funds in the hands of a few individuals, as well as through controlling or influencing the public press."

"The development of control over the teaching of professions in the universities is declared to constitute a serious menace."

"As a remedy for the foundation evil, congress is urged to enact a law providing that all 'incorporated, non-profit making bodies, whose charters empower them to perform more than a single specific function, and whose funds exceed $100,000,000, shall be compelled to secure a federal charter.'"

This charter, it is urged, should limit the funds of the foundations, specify their powers, provide for rigid inspection of finance and complete publicity, and that no "line of work" not specifically mentioned in the articles of incorporation shall be entered without the unanimous consent and approval of the board of trustees, or unless the process is directly informed of each intention.

Few Men Control.

"The final control of American industry rests in the hands of a small group of wealthy and powerful financiers," it is stated.

Under the heading "Unions and the Law," the report takes up the question of trades unionism discussed in the first section of the Manly statement. The enactment by congress and the states of legislation embodying the principles contained in the British trades disputes act is recommended. This legalizes the strike, lockout, boycott, blacklist, bringing in of strikers and peaceful picketing, removing all restrictions upon both sides.

Detailed plans are outlined and urged upon congress for a permanent national mediation commission to be appointed by the president in disputes involving interstate commerce. The plan includes a provision for permanent advisory councils of employes and unionists to work with the commission.

BOY'S FALL WAS FATAL

According to a Paris physician premature baldness is due to some trouble with the teeth.

Don't Wash Your Hair With Soap

When you wash your hair, don't use soap. Most soaps and prepared shampoos contain too much alkali, which is very injurious, as it dries the scalp and makes the hair brittle.

The best thing to use is just plain purified coconut oil, for this is pure and entirely greaseless. It's very cheap, and beats soap or anything else all to pieces. You can get this at any drug store, and a few ounces will last the whole family for months.

Simply moisten the hair with water and rub it in, about a teaspoonful is all that is required. It makes an abundance of rich, creamy lather, cleanses thoroughly, and rinses out easily. The hair dries quickly and evenly, and soft, fresh looking, bright, fluffy, wavy and easy to handle. Besides, it loosens and takes out every particle of dust, dirt and dandruff. (Adv.)

WAR SUMMARY BY J. W. T. MASON

Former European Manager of the United Press.

New York, Aug. 26.—Operations in Gallipoli indicate the complete failure of the first and second land offensive movements toward subduing the Dardanelles. They will be substituted by a third plan which is being now developed.

The first military effort of the allies to open the way toward Constantinople was in the form of a double attack on Gallipoli, on the Asiatic side. The French disembarked on the Asiatic side and the British forces effected several landings in Gallipoli. This parallel attempt was unsuccessful, however. The French were driven back into the sea, and the British were unable to hold the shore positions.

In the second plan, the English and French forces concentrated in the southern tip of Gallipoli, and made this their sole offensive point. They instituted a forward movement along the line occupied by the French on the Dardanelles side, and the British on the Aegean side, but the movement was again a failure.

In the third plan, the attempt to reach the narrows from the south has been postponed, while a new effort is being made to drive across the peninsula from the west. This is the means of the new operations in the Suvla bay district. The distance to be covered from the south or west is practically the same—from six to eight miles. The advantage of the new offensive movement is that a larger force can be employed.

For the first time the allies are now in a position to operate with a force proportionate in strength to that of the Mohammedans.

WOMAN'S DECREE OF DIVORCE IS SAID TO BE OF NO ACCOUNT

Adeline Lawbaugh, Never Filed Her Papers, It Is Now Revealed.

INVESTIGATION IS BEGUN

Clerk Hennessy Declares, However, That He Is Sure Gatens Heard Part of the Evidence.

Mrs. Adeline Lawbaugh of Blue Rock, Wash., has what is supposed to be a perfectly drawn divorce decree, supposed to be signed by Judge Gatens, which is worthless. No such case as Adeline Lawbaugh against Edmund M. Lawbaugh was ever filed in the circuit court, as far as the court records kept by County Clerk Coffey show. As the result of the discovery, Coffey announced this morning that he would make a complete investigation to determine who he is at fault.

The discovery was made when Lawbaugh wrote asking Coffey regarding a divorce secured by his wife. Search of the records showed no such case, but Deputy Frank Hennessy, who is clerk of Judge Gatens' court, found a record of the trial of a case of that title in his record book.

The trial was held May 29, while arguments were being made in the trial of Albin L. Clark, who was convicted of election fraud charges. Mrs. Lawbaugh and Mrs. Goldie Nickells testified, according to the trial book, and as nearly as can be determined, court Reporter A. M. Butler, now dead, took the testimony.

Mrs. Nickells was summoned to find what she knew of the case, and she said that Mrs. Lawbaugh paid Attorney Hugh Brady, who represented Mrs. Lawbaugh, $25 for fee and $22 for expenses. From these amounts, as far as can be learned, but $5 was paid out by Brady, and that, it is believed, Butler received for taking the testimony. As far as can be learned, the testimony taken was never transcribed.

Mrs. Lawbaugh has made efforts to find Attorney Brady to get an explanation, but has been unable to locate him. He is said to be away from the city on a vacation.

According to Hennessy, Brady came into court during the trial of the Clark case and said that he had forgotten to get the papers in the case and did not know the number. Without investigation or any effort being made to get the papers in the case, the trial was held and the decree was signed. Hennessy said that he was sure Judge Gatens heard some of the evidence, and Hennessy's record shows that Deputy District Attorney J. A. Collier was present representing the state.

Hennessy said that he had learned Mrs. Lawbaugh is coming to Portland with her decree and such receipts as she has. Speed and accuracy in investigation will probably await her arrival.

Mexicans Fire Over Border at Regulars

Brownsville, Texas, Aug. 26.—(U. P.)—Mexicans fired on American soldiers from across the river near Santa Maria for two hours last night, wounding two horses, according to reports here today. The American troops returned a few shots.

TRAIN CREW IS BOUND OVER

Examination Waived on Charges of Manslaughter.

The five members of the crew of the extra freight train which crashed into a freight train on the Southern Pacific tracks near Riverdale last Friday night, waived examination on charges of involuntary manslaughter before District Judge Bell this morning. They know the number of the train and were bound over to the grand jury. The charges were filed as the result of the findings of the coroner's jury, which held the crew responsible for the accident, which caused the death of H. P. Best, conductor, and H. E. Potter, brakeman, who were killed in the wreck of the caboose of the regular train and were bound over to the grand jury. Those held were: P. J. Kothoff, engineer; F. C. Scruggs and Hoscoe Stanton, brakemen; F. E. Ortschild, conductor, and E. Erickson, fireman, of the extra. Kothoff and Ortschild were held under $1000 bonds each as the principal defendants and the others

To Face Charge.

James H. Marble, known about Portland as the "Millionaire Barber," was brought back from Cleveland, Ohio, this morning by T. H. Maguire, clerk of District Attorney Evans' office, to face a charge of obtaining $500 on a mortgage on furniture belonging to his mother by pretending it to be his property. Marble tried for a week to secure freedom, but the extradition was allowed. While away Maguire visited his former home, Toledo, Ohio. Marble gained fame as a witness in the trials of E. C. Von Klein about two years ago.

To Aid Fire Department.

The county commissioners directed Captain H. Fresse of the St. Johns ferry to do everything in reason to aid the Portland fire department in responding to fires in Linton or vicinity with apparatus from St. Johns. Fire Chief Dowell complained to the board that the boat had failed to answer a call after leaving its slip recently, and that as the result it was 20 minutes before the apparatus could respond to the call.

Says He Found Many Bottles.

Joseph W. Stinson found 50 empty whiskey and beer bottles in his home when returning early one morning, according to his divorce complaint filed against Lillian H. Stinson. In charges that she was under the influence of liquor at the time that the children were uncared for, that a lamp and piano stool were demolished, and that a shelf in the kitchen was torn down, G. W. Leonard has sued Minnie Leonard for divorce, alleging cruelty.

Welsh Coal Miners Are Back at Work

Three Collieries Are Closed Down When Men Go Out for Increased Wages in the Mines.

Newport, Wales, Aug. 26.—(U. P. S.)—Two thousand coal miners struck here today for higher wages and better working conditions. The walkout resulted in the closing down of three collieries.

Workers at Hafod Return. Cardiff, Aug. 26.—(U. P.)—After a conference with confederation officials, the 1000 coal miners of Hafod who went on strike yesterday returned to work today. The mine operators declared all danger of a general strike such as was threatened several weeks had been averted.

It is understood the federation officials advised the strikers to return pending a conference in London between union leaders and Minister of Munitions Lloyd-George. The men struck because they alleged the agreement under which they returned to work after the recent walkout was not being lived up to.

Two Thousand Strike.

Cardiff, Aug. 26.—(U. P.)—Two thousand miners in the Llanthyllid district, dissatisfied with the award in the recent strike, walked out today. The employees in two other collieries quit at the same time.
