Thursday Will Be Big Night. Tomorrow night will be the "big night" of the fair, with every building, brilliantly lighted, open to visitors, and some spectacular night thrills on the track. Yesterday's events were of a much higher class than those of the opening day, with the cowboys and cowgirls apparently more on their mettle. Some interesting roping and bulldogging exploits were than on the first day.

Explosions Due

Dear Friends:

I guess you've heard and noticed a good deal about hotel dignity. Well, it seems to be a hotel's nature to be dignified. They seem to think it is beneath their dignity to descend into the kitchen and discuss food, or to the laundry and discuss cleanliness, or to a guest chamber and discuss ventilation. I'm here to explode all that tommyrot. I propose to uncover secrets that were never before told about a big hotel and the life that people lead therein. Therefore, look for some revelations -elucidating all the Multnomah's ramifications from beginning to end.
