

THE JOURNAL AN INDEPENDENT NEWSPAPER

Published every evening (except Sunday) and every Sunday morning at the Journal Building, Broadway and Yamhill streets, Portland, Or.

Subscription terms by mail or to any address in the United States or Mexico: DAILY One year $5.00 One month $1.00 SUNDAY One year $2.50 One month $0.25

WOODROW WILSON. America asks nothing for herself but what she has a right to ask for humanity itself.

WHAT WOULD HE REPEAT? I RECALLED the election of McCall as governor of Massachusetts as the real keynote of the situation.

Does he think "the people" want the president to make war on Mexico? Does he think they would have the president embroil this country in the European war?

Would Mr. McArthur repeal the income tax law and in consequence place a higher tax on the food and clothing of the American people?

Would he restore the old alliance between the government and corrupt business which Mr. Wilson has abolished?

Would he repeal the banking and currency law and give back to Wall street the control of American money and credit which the president has placed under the control of the American people?

Would he repeal the law under which the trade commission supervises the great trusts and prevents them from controlling markets and fixing prices?

Would Mr. McArthur repeal the Clayton law which forbids price discriminations, forbids corporations from buying competing companies, and makes it unlawful for the director of one corporation to be director of a competing corporation?

Would he restrain the president from using the money power of the government in helping American farmers move their crops?

the reciprocal relations that should obtain between river and highway navigation in the development of the Columbia river basin.

PROHIBITION—AND AFTER ON JANUARY first, if the prohibition law is enforced, every saloon in Portland will close up.

THE GOOD OMENS RETURNING from an extended sojourn in the east, Sheriff Robert L. Stevens of Portland, said:

There could be no stronger confirmatory evidence as to the great business activity that Mr. Stevens describes, than are the results of Tuesday's elections.

"A SOLDIER'S LIFE FOR ME" COLONEL in the United States army has described the soldier's life very attractively to the Chicago Tribune.

TRIAL MARRIAGES UNDER the Illinois law, no person can marry within a year after being divorced.

PROPOSED PLEDGES IN THE CAMPAIGN for Astoria rates, there are those who have lost their moorings.

WASCO-BIGGS HIGHWAY ONE year ago the state of Oregon constructed a highway between Wasco and Biggs.

THE PRESS AND POLITICAL CORRUPTION From the New York Evening Post. S PRETTY bit of evidence of the way a crooked railroad was run.

LETTERS FROM THE PEOPLE (Communications sent to The Journal for publication in this department should be written on only one side of the paper, should not exceed 50 words in length and should be accompanied by the name and address of the contributor.)

INDEX OF ADVANCING TIDE OF PROSPERITY From the Philadelphia Ledger. The railroads of the country are at last coming into the equipment market with a rush.

child to begin school work, and that there are children to whom it is a positive detriment to begin a school career in the weaknesses of years so tender.

THE PRESS AND POLITICAL CORRUPTION (Continued) The vice president and general manager of the Pacific Telephone and Telegraph company.

LETTERS FROM THE PEOPLE (Continued) Discussion is the greatest of all reformers. It rationalizes everything it touches.

A Criticism Answered. Portland, Nov. 4.—To the Editor of The Journal—The Oregonian in today's issue prints an editorial in criticism of the Woman's Political Science club.

Preparedness Suggestions. Orin, Wash., Nov. 2.—To the Editor of The Journal—As events unfold themselves from day to day my admiration for the militarists and their program grows.

Survivor's Interest. Seio, Or., Nov. 3.—To the Editor of The Journal—What right has a woman to land in Oregon that a man has bought and in his name alone before marriage.

Hets of American Wars. Portland, Nov. 3.—To the Editor of The Journal—In The Journal of today there appears a letter from Mr. Hartwell of Cherryville, Or., about the war of 1812.

Mr. Pyle to Mr. Lucke. Portland, Nov. 3.—To the Editor of The Journal—In your issue of November 2 Maximilian Lucke and C. E. Frank by a reply to my recent letter.

INDEX OF ADVANCING TIDE OF PROSPERITY (Continued) From the Philadelphia Ledger. The railroads of the country are at last coming into the equipment market with a rush.

THE POTATO'S POTENTIALITIES. Kenton, Nov. 2.—To the Editor of The Journal—What can a farmer do with his surplus potatoes?

Billy Sally's Vacation. Portland, Nov. 3.—To the Editor of The Journal—I was very much interested in your editorial on Billy Sally and the things he has seen in his 45 years steady work.

erally to better conditions at the capitol. Yet the unthinking would say that the press should have been able to accomplish this years before.

THE PRESS AND POLITICAL CORRUPTION (Continued) Another change in the Greek cabinet may mean that, after all, a change may not irreparably have lost the Balkan diplomatic battle.

LETTERS FROM THE PEOPLE (Continued) Discussion is the greatest of all reformers. It rationalizes everything it touches.

A Criticism Answered. Portland, Nov. 4.—To the Editor of The Journal—The Oregonian in today's issue prints an editorial in criticism of the Woman's Political Science club.

Preparedness Suggestions. Orin, Wash., Nov. 2.—To the Editor of The Journal—As events unfold themselves from day to day my admiration for the militarists and their program grows.

Survivor's Interest. Seio, Or., Nov. 3.—To the Editor of The Journal—What right has a woman to land in Oregon that a man has bought and in his name alone before marriage.

Hets of American Wars. Portland, Nov. 3.—To the Editor of The Journal—In The Journal of today there appears a letter from Mr. Hartwell of Cherryville, Or., about the war of 1812.

Mr. Pyle to Mr. Lucke. Portland, Nov. 3.—To the Editor of The Journal—In your issue of November 2 Maximilian Lucke and C. E. Frank by a reply to my recent letter.

INDEX OF ADVANCING TIDE OF PROSPERITY (Continued) From the Philadelphia Ledger. The railroads of the country are at last coming into the equipment market with a rush.

THE POTATO'S POTENTIALITIES. Kenton, Nov. 2.—To the Editor of The Journal—What can a farmer do with his surplus potatoes?

Billy Sally's Vacation. Portland, Nov. 3.—To the Editor of The Journal—I was very much interested in your editorial on Billy Sally and the things he has seen in his 45 years steady work.

erally to better conditions at the capitol. Yet the unthinking would say that the press should have been able to accomplish this years before.

THE PRESS AND POLITICAL CORRUPTION (Continued) Another change in the Greek cabinet may mean that, after all, a change may not irreparably have lost the Balkan diplomatic battle.

LETTERS FROM THE PEOPLE (Continued) Discussion is the greatest of all reformers. It rationalizes everything it touches.

A Criticism Answered. Portland, Nov. 4.—To the Editor of The Journal—The Oregonian in today's issue prints an editorial in criticism of the Woman's Political Science club.

Preparedness Suggestions. Orin, Wash., Nov. 2.—To the Editor of The Journal—As events unfold themselves from day to day my admiration for the militarists and their program grows.

Survivor's Interest. Seio, Or., Nov. 3.—To the Editor of The Journal—What right has a woman to land in Oregon that a man has bought and in his name alone before marriage.

Hets of American Wars. Portland, Nov. 3.—To the Editor of The Journal—In The Journal of today there appears a letter from Mr. Hartwell of Cherryville, Or., about the war of 1812.

Mr. Pyle to Mr. Lucke. Portland, Nov. 3.—To the Editor of The Journal—In your issue of November 2 Maximilian Lucke and C. E. Frank by a reply to my recent letter.

INDEX OF ADVANCING TIDE OF PROSPERITY (Continued) From the Philadelphia Ledger. The railroads of the country are at last coming into the equipment market with a rush.

THE POTATO'S POTENTIALITIES. Kenton, Nov. 2.—To the Editor of The Journal—What can a farmer do with his surplus potatoes?

Billy Sally's Vacation. Portland, Nov. 3.—To the Editor of The Journal—I was very much interested in your editorial on Billy Sally and the things he has seen in his 45 years steady work.

PERTINENT COMMENT AND NEWS IN BRIEF

SMALL CHANGE If you haven't been there, it is well to bear in mind that the San Francisco exposition closes December 4.

OREGON SIDELIGHTS Lane county claims more standard field schools than any other county of the state—22 out of the state's total of 181.

Another change in the Greek cabinet may mean that, after all, a change may not irreparably have lost the Balkan diplomatic battle.

LETTERS FROM THE PEOPLE (Continued) Discussion is the greatest of all reformers. It rationalizes everything it touches.

A Criticism Answered. Portland, Nov. 4.—To the Editor of The Journal—The Oregonian in today's issue prints an editorial in criticism of the Woman's Political Science club.

Preparedness Suggestions. Orin, Wash., Nov. 2.—To the Editor of The Journal—As events unfold themselves from day to day my admiration for the militarists and their program grows.

Survivor's Interest. Seio, Or., Nov. 3.—To the Editor of The Journal—What right has a woman to land in Oregon that a man has bought and in his name alone before marriage.

Hets of American Wars. Portland, Nov. 3.—To the Editor of The Journal—In The Journal of today there appears a letter from Mr. Hartwell of Cherryville, Or., about the war of 1812.

Mr. Pyle to Mr. Lucke. Portland, Nov. 3.—To the Editor of The Journal—In your issue of November 2 Maximilian Lucke and C. E. Frank by a reply to my recent letter.

INDEX OF ADVANCING TIDE OF PROSPERITY (Continued) From the Philadelphia Ledger. The railroads of the country are at last coming into the equipment market with a rush.

THE POTATO'S POTENTIALITIES. Kenton, Nov. 2.—To the Editor of The Journal—What can a farmer do with his surplus potatoes?

The Once Over BY REX LAMPMAN

YESTERDAY MORNING—Mrs. Annie E. Jontin called me up—and asked me if I wouldn't be a judge—at the baby show—down at the Armory—in the afternoon.

Another change in the Greek cabinet may mean that, after all, a change may not irreparably have lost the Balkan diplomatic battle.

LETTERS FROM THE PEOPLE (Continued) Discussion is the greatest of all reformers. It rationalizes everything it touches.

A Criticism Answered. Portland, Nov. 4.—To the Editor of The Journal—The Oregonian in today's issue prints an editorial in criticism of the Woman's Political Science club.

Preparedness Suggestions. Orin, Wash., Nov. 2.—To the Editor of The Journal—As events unfold themselves from day to day my admiration for the militarists and their program grows.

Survivor's Interest. Seio, Or., Nov. 3.—To the Editor of The Journal—What right has a woman to land in Oregon that a man has bought and in his name alone before marriage.

Hets of American Wars. Portland, Nov. 3.—To the Editor of The Journal—In The Journal of today there appears a letter from Mr. Hartwell of Cherryville, Or., about the war of 1812.

Mr. Pyle to Mr. Lucke. Portland, Nov. 3.—To the Editor of The Journal—In your issue of November 2 Maximilian Lucke and C. E. Frank by a reply to my recent letter.

INDEX OF ADVANCING TIDE OF PROSPERITY (Continued) From the Philadelphia Ledger. The railroads of the country are at last coming into the equipment market with a rush.

THE POTATO'S POTENTIALITIES. Kenton, Nov. 2.—To the Editor of The Journal—What can a farmer do with his surplus potatoes?

Billy Sally's Vacation. Portland, Nov. 3.—To the Editor of The Journal—I was very much interested in your editorial on Billy Sally and the things he has seen in his 45 years steady work.

THE ONCE OVER BY REX LAMPMAN

YESTERDAY MORNING—Mrs. Annie E. Jontin called me up—and asked me if I wouldn't be a judge—at the baby show—down at the Armory—in the afternoon.

Another change in the Greek cabinet may mean that, after all, a change may not irreparably have lost the Balkan diplomatic battle.

LETTERS FROM THE PEOPLE (Continued) Discussion is the greatest of all reformers. It rationalizes everything it touches.

A Criticism Answered. Portland, Nov. 4.—To the Editor of The Journal—The Oregonian in today's issue prints an editorial in criticism of the Woman's Political Science club.

Preparedness Suggestions. Orin, Wash., Nov. 2.—To the Editor of The Journal—As events unfold themselves from day to day my admiration for the militarists and their program grows.

Survivor's Interest. Seio, Or., Nov. 3.—To the Editor of The Journal—What right has a woman to land in Oregon that a man has bought and in his name alone before marriage.

Hets of American Wars. Portland, Nov. 3.—To the Editor of The Journal—In The Journal of today there appears a letter from Mr. Hartwell of Cherryville, Or., about the war of 1812.

Mr. Pyle to Mr. Lucke. Portland, Nov. 3.—To the Editor of The Journal—In your issue of November 2 Maximilian Lucke and C. E. Frank by a reply to my recent letter.

INDEX OF ADVANCING TIDE OF PROSPERITY (Continued) From the Philadelphia Ledger. The railroads of the country are at last coming into the equipment market with a rush.

THE POTATO'S POTENTIALITIES. Kenton, Nov. 2.—To the Editor of The Journal—What can a farmer do with his surplus potatoes?

Billy Sally's Vacation. Portland, Nov. 3.—To the Editor of The Journal—I was very much interested in your editorial on Billy Sally and the things he has seen in his 45 years steady work.