One of the most attractive events of the week was the surprise party given by Mr. and Mrs. J. Woodach at their new home in Irvington, honoring Miss Ida Wollins on her twenty-fifth birthday. About 75 guests were present. The serving room was very beautifully decorated in yellow, the color scheme being carried out in a number of yellow chrysanthemums. Several violin selections were rendered by Master Ben Dorfman, assisted at the piano by Miss Thelma Simon. Miss Hella Bloom and Miss Simon also gave several vocal selections. After a delightful luncheon at which Miss Anna Wollach assisted, the guests enjoyed the balance of the evening dancing in the attractive ball room. Miss Wollins' engagement to Maurice J. Woodach has recently been announced.

Helen Arlene, the little daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jesse T. Jones, of 1181 East Lincoln street, celebrated her second birthday on Saturday afternoon, November 13, with a party for a few of her little friends. After spending a pleasant hour at games, refreshments were served. The table was artistic in pink and white, with starburst and garlands of roses, and individual candle lighted birthday cakes. Each little tot found its place with a Kewpie place card.

Those enjoying the afternoon's pleasures were Lenora Spindel, Valda Feldman, Bernadine Martin, Herbert Milton Carqueville, Jr., Helen Margaret Bilyeu, Wanda Maxine Landon, Oleta Spindel and Raymond Dow Martin.

Mark Wasn't Going. Mark Twain was talking to some friends when the conversation finally touched upon the authorship of the Shakespeare plays. "When I got to heaven," said the great humorist, "I'm going to ask Will Shakespeare whether he really wrote these plays." "But," said one of the party, "perhaps Shakespeare will not be in heaven." "After a moment of contemplation Mark said: 'That's so. You ask him.'"

'AND CHERRY'S GRANT CREDIT ON ALL THESE MARVELOUS VALUES!'

"Doesn't it seem almost like a fairy story," Frances, to see these lovely things and to know that we can actually buy some of them TODAY, in this store, for less than a quarter of the price in our purser?" That's a part of a conversation someone overheard in Cherry's beautiful clothing store yesterday. You know the place, no doubt—that tremendously popular shop at 382-391 Washington street. It's a store that's always popular, on account of Cherry's liberal installment payment system. But there are special drawing cards just now. Graduated suits, fur-trimmed and in all the smart shades, at $24.50. Natty little street suits—with fur also—at $19.50. A grand array of lovely dresses, reduced to as low as $12.50. And fur in fascinating variety—to all of which Cherry's famous Credit System applies. And new Plush Coats with collar and cuffs handsomely trimmed with fur, and a lining guaranteed for five years. Their address is 382-391 Washington street, in Pittcock block.—AdV.

There Is But One Pianola

Made Only By the Aeolian Company Sold Exclusively By Our Stores

¶ The success and widespread acceptance of the Pianola has led the press and others to use its name as a term for all player-pianos. The chief sufferer from this confusion is the purchaser, who, supposing he is buying the famous Pianola, secures instead merely an ordinary player-piano.

¶ Before buying, you should understand that the Pianola was the first player-piano—that it is an exclusive product of The Aeolian Company—that its sales exceed the sales of any of its imitators—that it has been exclusively indorsed by practically every musical authority of the present day—and that it is the only player-piano which enables the untrained performer to duplicate the playing of a skilled pianist.

¶ The Pianola line embraces only six Pianos—the Steinway, Weber, Steck, Stuyvesant, Wheelock, and Stroud. Prices from $875. Purchasable on moderate monthly payments and liberal allowance made on your present piano taken in exchange.
