

GENERAL ROUGH AND TUMBLE FOLLOWS THE VOTING AT PENDLETON

Police Resort to Guns and Clubs to Quell Disturbance Over Challenger.

Pendleton, Or., Dec. 7.—The election last night was followed by a riot which the police broke up with clubs and guns. The windup was the arrest of E. W. McCommas and Dr. E. J. Somerville, politicians, who had taken a leading part in the candidacy of Dr. Best. And during the arrest McCommas' head was laid open by a blow from a club of Chief of Police Manning.

The trouble started soon after 10 o'clock as a demonstration against Dudley Evans, one of the challengers at the polls.

No violence was manifested as Evans walked down the street to the city hall, but there the crowd was joined by Somerville, who made a speech. Evans walked on down to the Hotel Pendleton, unharmed, but as soon as he entered the hotel the crowd broke into jeers and Somerville forced his way into the hotel, starting a short fight. The crowd started to follow until Officer Omar Stephens drew his gun and club and forced it back.

At 11 o'clock the crowd started back down the street and Somerville, joined by McCommas, started trouble with Chief Manning and Stephens. Stephens was kicked and struck, and Manning went to his defense with a club, McCommas being the first to feel it. McCommas and Somerville were taken to the station and, when the crowd started to storm it, Manning held it back with his revolver.

It was 1 o'clock before leading citizens had persuaded the crowd to disperse.

Dr. Best's majority over Montgomery was 232. He carried the precinct at which the trouble started by 250, which elected him. Best's total was 1197 to 965 for Montgomery.

Must Await Action of Congress.

"2. That the defendant and its officers and agents be, and each is hereby enjoined, from making or agreeing to make, either directly or indirectly, any disposition whatsoever of said lands or of any part thereof or of the timber thereon, or any part thereof, or of any mineral or other deposits therein; from cutting, removing or authorizing the cutting or removal of the timber thereon or any part thereof; and from removing or authorizing the removal of mineral or other deposits therein, until congress shall have a reasonable opportunity to make provision by legislation for the disposition of said lands, timber, mineral or other deposits, in accordance with such policy as congress may deem fitting under the circumstances and at the same time secure to the defendant all the value that the granting act conferred upon the state of Oregon, or the wagon road company.

Action May Be Hastened

"3. That if congress does not make provision for the disposition as aforesaid of said lands, timber, mineral or other deposits, the defendant may apply to the court within a reasonable time, but not less than eight months from the entry of this decree, for a modification of so much of the injunction herein ordered as forbids any disposition of said lands or money, timber, mineral or deposits or any part thereof, until congress shall act, and the court hereby reserves the right to modify this decree in that regard if, in its opinion, good cause shall then exist for doing so.

"4. That the complainant have and recover from the defendant, Southern Oregon company, its lawyers' costs and disbursements herein, taxed at 4% (to be figured out by the court), and that execution issue therefor.

"5. That the plaintiff shall have the right to apply to the court at any time hereafter for an accounting as to all moneys received by the defendant from or on account of the lands covered by said granting act, and the court retains jurisdiction over the action for the purpose of granting such application, if good cause therefor appears.

"Done in open court this seventh day of December, 1915.

"By the court: H. C. WOLVERTON, Judge."

fact that Captain Garlick has not reported his ship at all to the naval authorities, or to any of the marine departments, but has given information only on demand from the officials of the Hill line.

In earlier reports Captain Garlick stated he was making four miles an hour toward San Diego. The last position given by him shows that he has made only 99 miles since last Thursday, when he first reported in distress. Sunday night the Minnesota's wireless reported her 28 miles south of Coronado islands, and that she was making four miles an hour toward San Diego.

Glacier Did Not Sight Her.

That would have placed her about 40 miles north of Cadron island on Sunday morning.

The naval auxiliary Glacier passed to the north of Cadron island Sunday morning at 8 o'clock and her officers reported today that while the day was clear and they could see for many miles, there was no ship in sight.

No word has yet come from the Union Iron Works wrecking steamer Inqua and the Red Stack tug Dauntless which left here Friday night to go to the liner's assistance.

The possibility that the liner is controlled by others than the captain, who are purposely keeping her position a mystery, is now pointed out here by shipping men as the most logical explanation of the suspiciously strange actions and silence.

Northwest Coaches Will Hold Meeting

If the plans of several of the leading figures in northwest football materialize, there will be a meeting of the officials and coaches in Portland next fall to discuss gridiron rules. During each season, protests about the interpretations of the rules have been numerous and these would be done away with if such a meeting were held, as the interpretations could be agreed upon.

Meetings of this kind are held by the football officials in the various sections of the country each year and they are of great benefit to all. A similar meeting was held here several seasons ago.

George Varnell, of Spokane, one of the leading officials of the northwest, and "Stump" Stott, of Portland, are both in favor of the holding of this meeting, as are a number of the coaches.

No Word in 24 Hours.

San Diego, Cal., Dec. 7.—(U. P.)—United States officials said positively that no word had been received from the disabled steamer Minnesota by wireless in 24 hours. They have no idea of her position, they said. The matter is shrouded in mystery, as far as this port is concerned.

Rogue River Holds Election.

Rogue River, Or., Dec. 7.—At the city election here Tuesday, W. P. Wetherell defeated T. H. River Taylor for mayor, Wetherell receiving 68 votes and Taylor 17.

The councilmen elected were L. B. Ellis, E. J. Myers, John Owens and C. G. Seaman. The election was an unusually quiet one, only 75 votes being cast.

Dobie Says Farewell At Football Banquet

Seattle, Wash., Dec. 7.—(P. N. S.)—Gilmour Dobie, who has coached eight undefeated eleven at the University of Washington, will say formal farewell to Washington football tonight at the annual football banquet. Although the banquet program includes no set speeches, Dobie will be called upon to talk, and toasts will be responded to by several. About 50, including the members of the football squad, will attend.

Before the banquet the men who have earned their "W" in football this year will meet to elect a captain for 1916. Louis Seagrave, guard, "Bud"

Frank Glahe May Be Ousted as Amateur

Spokane, Wash., Dec. 7.—(P. N. S.)—Because he appeared in a 10 minute preliminary to the Taylor-Borden match at Hilliard last night, Frank Glahe, national A. A. U. wrestling champion at 115 pounds, and P. N. A. champion at both 115 and 135 pounds, will probably lose his amateur standing. Glahe stated some time ago that he intended retiring as an amateur and going east to compete as a professional.

that a military wagon road be built from Coos Bay to Roseburg.

The Coos Bay Wagon Road company which took over the grant from the state, did not build the wagon road, and the land passed through several sets of hands until it is now the claimed property of the Southern Oregon company, composed largely of Charles R. Smith, of Menasha, Wis., and members of his family.

Portions of Grant Sold.

At various times holders of the land sold quantities of it at prices and in quantities at variance with the terms of the grant.

Joseph Simon and John M. Gearin, attorneys for the Southern Oregon company, are now preparing their appeal from Judge Wolverson's decree, with the purpose of taking the case to the United States supreme court.

The appeal, it is understood, will contend that the general rule that an "innocent purchaser" shall be protected in his purchase applies to the case, as the Southern Oregon company grantees, and, it is alleged, is not to blame for their failure to fulfill the terms of the grant.

This grant differed from the Oregon & California grant in that it did not require the selling of the land to actual settlers.

Constantine J. Smyth, assistant to the attorney, has had charge of the government's case against the Southern Oregon company.

Full Text of Decree.

The full text of Judge Wolverson's decree is as follows:

"This cause having come on to be heard upon the pleadings and the evidence, and the same being fully advised in the premises, orders, adjudges and decrees as follows:

"1. That the defendant and its officers and agents be and each is hereby enjoined from selling the lands or any part thereof, or any of the timber thereon, granted by the act of congress approved March 3, 1869, and described in exhibit H attached to the bill of complaint in this case, in quantities greater than one quarter section to one person, or for a price exceeding $2.50 per acre, and from selling any of the timber on said lands, or any mineral or other deposits therein, except as part of and in conjunction with the land on which the timber stands or in which the mineral or other deposits are found, and from cutting, removing, or authorizing the cutting or removal of any of the timber thereon, or from removing or authorizing the removal of mineral or other deposits therein, except in connection with the sale of the land bearing the timber or containing the mineral or other deposits.
