TAFT PEACE SCHEME THE LOCAL CHAMBER

International Plan to Be Worked Out After Present War Ends May Be Backed.

WOULD ENFORCE RULING

Plan Calls for Action by Signatory Powers in Effort to Compel Obedience of League's Findings.

Through the agency of the Chambers of Commerce of the country, the League to Enforce Peace, organized at Independence Hall, Philadelphia hopes to establish a sentiment that will lead to the abolition of war. President C. C. Colt of the Portland Chamber, has received a letter from ex-President William H. Taft, who is president of the league, urging the cooperation of the Portland Chamber and its individual members, His plan is to found some rational plan for world peace to be worked out through international agreement after peace has been declared in Eu-

Mr. Taft's plan is to establish league of the great powers which shall agree not to go to war in any case until the question at issue is passed upon judicially, the nations agreeing also to use their joint military and economic forces against any nation refusing to keep the pact.

Plan Is Outlined.

The proposals of Mr. Taft, to which he asks the indorsement of the Port-land Chamber are that the United States join this league of nations, whose powers shall be: The establishment of an international tribunal or world court, which shall pass on all justiciable questions arising between nations.

The establishment of an international tribunal to be known as a council of conciliation, which shall pass on ns which cannot be settled in ac ordance with the principles of law and signatory powers to use forth

The signatory powers to use forthwith their joint economic and military forces against any nation which has joined the league, but which goes to war, or begins acts of hostility against another of the signatories, without first submitting its quarrel to a court or board of arbitrators, and provided in sections one and two.

The adoption of a code of international law through a series of International conferences.

national conferences.

It is understood that a recent peace referendum of the Chamber of Commerce of the United States was submitted as the result of the active interest of Herbert S. Houston, president of the Associated Clubs of the World, and Edward A. Filene of Boston, chairman of the committee whose recommendations form the basis of the ref-

Another Plan Given. These recommendations are:

That the United States take the initiative in bringing about a conference among neutral nations to define and enunciate rules to give protection at all times, to life and property upon the high seas, in the high seas, in joining with other nations in the establishment of an international court, to pass upon international discourt, the pass upon international led according to legal or equitable principles.

In joining with the other nations in a countil of conciliation for the set-tlement of questions that cannot be settled by an international court. settled by an international court. In joining with other nations in an agreement to bring concerted economic pressure to bear upon any mation resorting to military measures without first submitting its differences to a court or council of conciliation. In joining with other nations in an agreement to use concerted military force in the event of the failure of economic force to compel a nation to desist from military operations, as provided in the foregoing sections.

To bring about the adoption of a code of international law.
