

SEIZURE OF PARCEL POST MAIL BY ALLIES MAY START TROUBLE

British Hold Such Mail Subject to Same Conditions as Cargoes of Ship.

FRENCH ALSO OFFENDERS

Reports From Switzerland Tell of Examination of Letters and Packages to and From Americans.

Washington, Dec. 29.—(WASHINGTON BUREAU OF THE JOURNAL)—Seizure and search of parcel post mail may become a large international issue between the United States and Great Britain because of the increasing assumptions of British officials in interfering with such shipments.

Great Britain is not the only offender, as reports also come from Switzerland of the stoppage and examination by the French of letters as well as parcel post mail destined to or from Americans in Germany and Austria.

Until a few months ago parcel post packages passed freely through the neutral countries, the United States having arranged for dispatch through Holland, Denmark and Sweden when direct communication with Germany was interrupted. Then came the closing of steamship lines to accept parcel post for Germany, and at first there was no clear explanation for it.

Christmas Presents Held Up. Now comes announcement that the British hold parcel post matter to be outside the postal conventions and subject to seizure and search as a part of a ship's cargo. Irritation over this action has been increased by the nearness of the holiday season. Christmas presents sent by Americans in the Teutonic nations to relatives and friends in other countries were held up, as were also packages going in the other direction.

The development of this situation is stirring up a lot of diplomatic trouble. This government has been in the habit of dealing with the refusal of steamship lines to carry parcel post to neutral countries, but the seizure of mail on neutral ships and of mailbags passing through Switzerland raised a direct issue with the British and French.

Congress Taking Notice. There have been signs of an eruption in congress over acts of the British on the seas resulting from the orders in council. The first gun was Senator Hoke Smith's resolution asking for a report on interference with shipping, which was broadened, before adjournment, to include investigation of the destruction of American lives.

The parcel post situation intensifies the feeling held by a large number of congressmen that the time has arrived to make sharp representations to Great Britain and France, in spite of unsettled negotiations with Germany and Austria over the Lusitania and Ancona. On one hand it is argued that Uncle Sam would be entitled to "take care of himself" by sharply pressing the issue with the entente allies while the controversies with the Teutonic allies are so unsettled. The other view is that Germany and Austria may look more kindly upon American demands if like vigor is used in presenting this country's case against their enemies.

Favorable Impression Lost. It is pointed out that a favorable impression was created in Germany as to the sure-enough neutrality of this country by the note sent to the British some time ago, leading to practical results in the progress made toward adjustment of the Lusitania affair. That favorable impression is said now to be lost because of the recall of the military and naval attaches and the Austrian note, Great Britain's "no question" and no questioning as to the administration's desire to pursue a course lacking neither in firmness nor impartiality.

Road to Josephine Caves.

Washington, Dec. 29.—Congressman Hawley is working with Chief Forester Graves to devise a plan for improvement of roads to the Oregon caves in Josephine county.

At the last session authority was given the secretary of the interior to grant a term lease for hotel privileges within the Sixtieth National forest, which includes these caves. Many pass people are interested in the hotel project, but lack of roads is an obstacle. Mr. Hawley has suggested government aid for the construction of a creek and down Greysback creek to connect with the Holland-Crescent City road, with a side road from Greysback to the caves.

Complaint From Redmond. Washington, Dec. 29.—Responding to a complaint from the Redmond Commercial club of Redmond, Or., through Senator Lane, concerning changes alleged to have been made in the state route between Redmond and Prineville the postoffice department states that no deviation from the previous route has been authorized, and the contractor has been advised to comply strictly with the routing.

Petition for change in routing of service between Woodland and Hall, Clatsop county, Wash., has been denied, according to information received by Congressman Johnson of that state, on the ground that the proposed change would not improve conditions existing.

Word "From" Worries Washington Wets

Olympia, Wash., Dec. 29.—(P. N. S.)—Upon the legal definition of the word "from" depends the right of saloons in Washington to operate one whole day after the state wide prohibition law is popularly supposed to become effective.

Section 23 of the prohibition law declares that "this act shall take effect and be in full force from and after the first day of January, 1916." The contention is that "from and after" really means "after" thus not actually making the law effective until January 2.

"King George," Old Alaskan Slave, Dead

Was Captured by Klawock Indians During Canadian Raid and Was Believed Grandson of an Evil Spirit. Wrangell, Alaska, Dec. 29.—(P. N. S.)—"King George," Alaska's oldest slave, is dead here today. When a youth of 20 "King George" was captured by the Klawock tribe during a plundering expedition into Canadian territory and until the power of that territory was suppressed slavery he was the slave of the Klawocks. Even after he was given his freedom "King George" was closely watched by the Klawocks who believed him to be the grandson of an evil spirit. "King George" was 80 years old at the time of his death, and several years had been totally blind.

DRUGGISTS OF EUGENE DECLARE LIQUOR LAW NOT FAIR TO DEALER

Agreed Not to Sell Alcohol Under Law as Chances Do Not Warrant Handling.

Eugene, Or., Dec. 29.—Every druggist in Eugene has agreed not to sell alcohol under the prohibition law and therefore none will give the bond required by law. The reason given by the druggists is that they do not care to take the chance of being prosecuted. They say that the law in this regard is an injustice to them.

"It put the burden upon the druggist, when it ought to be placed on the consumer," said one druggist today. "There will be no alcohol sold in Eugene," said another druggist. "Business is so bad that they are not going to take chances and have decided to go away with its sale."

Will Work Prisoners. Eugene, Or., Dec. 29.—Five Lane county prisoners, serving terms for bootlegging, were taken to the county poor farm this morning to clear off a tract of ground on the place so that it can be cultivated and raised more crops. The county court issued an order that the prisoners be employed. They will be in charge of Abe Gilbert, who, during the greater part of the year, has supervised over the operation of the county rock crushers. The experiment of working the county prisoners was tried last year. From six to six were employed on one of the rock crushers for several weeks and all were glad of an opportunity of working in the open.

Surgeon To Treat Sick Piute Indians

Prevalence of Trachoma Among Indians of Harney County Leads to Action by the Federal Government. Washington, Dec. 29.—(WASHINGTON BUREAU OF THE JOURNAL) C. S. Heintze, field officer of the Indian service in Oregon, who has been in Washington several weeks to assist in working out a means for treatment of trachoma among Piute Indians in Harney county, has been assured that an expert surgeon will be sent to treat these Indians.

The Indian children have been excluded from the public schools because of the prevalence of trachoma, and arrangements have also been made to take care of this situation by cooperating with State Superintendent of Schools Churchill of Oregon. The government will make tuition allowances that will be about sufficient to establish a separate school.

Mr. Heintze has also had up with the Indian service the question of allotment of lands to the Klamath and Umpqua tribes along the Columbia, for whom six sections have been set aside in the John Day country. Concessions will be made by allotment to minor children in such manner that only one parent will be required to go on the land, the most of these Indians being engaged in fishing along the Columbia.

Coyote Killed Few Miles Outside City. They Are Plentiful in Multnomah and Yamhill Counties, Hunters Say; Hounds "Flash" Others in Vicinity. Coyotes have appeared again in considerable numbers in Multnomah and Yamhill counties, according to R. P. Martin, of 406 East Russell street, and R. Bryan, of Lafayette, who brought a note to the Multnomah county courthouse yesterday to collect a bounty of $2.

The animal was killed after a half day chase in the country 15 miles east of the city limits of Portland. Two other coyotes were "flushed" by the pack of hounds owned by the hunters as Martin and Bryan were on their way to the city with their trophy. Snow, which was falling at the time, made the going difficult for the dogs, and they were called off the trail.

Another hunt in the same vicinity will be held Sunday morning. Bryan says four coyotes have been seen near the city limits of Portland within the past week.

Newberg Schemes to Collect Old Bills

Inauguration of "Pay Up Week" Is Plan of Merchants to Bring in Long Standing Accounts, in February. Newberg, Or., Dec. 29.—The businessmen of Newberg are considering the arranging for a "Pay Up Week" February 21-25, inclusive, as outlined by the Merchants' Trade Journal which proposes a national enterprise of this sort. In Waukon, Iowa, a town of only 2000 population, this scheme was inaugurated last January with surprising success there being over $30,000 old debts paid up in the six days.

Full instructions as to procedure have been received here. These include a proclamation from the mayor of a town or city; the use of specially designed stamps pasted on envelopes and packages sent out from stores; the use of window cards; the fixing of bargain prices on one or two articles for the

Water in Alcohol; Dealer Is Arrested

They are arresting 'em for selling water now. A week from today it may be different. Morris Kline, of Kline Brothers, wholesale liquor dealers, was arrested yesterday afternoon on complaints reaching the office of District Attorney Evans that shipments of drinks sent out from the Kline Brothers' establishment, under the label of "Pure Grain Alcohol," contained more pure Bull Run water than liquor.

A test, or taste, of the wet goods convinced the district attorney that something was wrong, and Kline was taken into custody on a charge of violating the pure food labeling act. Complaints were made about one shipment sent to Salem and another sold in Portland. Kline gave bond.
