BODY OF KEMP FOUND WITH BULLET HOLE IN HIS HEAD

ASSASSINAT OF BRIDE IS A SUICIDE

Kemp's Body Is Found in a Clump of Bushes on Errol Heights, on Southeast Limits of City, This Afternoon.

SHERIFF HURLBURT IDENTIFIES BODY

Search Had Been Made All Over the City and Vicinity; Victim of Murderous Assault Is Lying at the Point of Death.

Even B. Kemp, assistant of Mrs. Mabel Myers, a bride of a month, committed suicide by shooting himself through the head. His body was found in a clump of trees in Errol Heights this afternoon by a citizen.

Sheriff Hurlburt positively identified the body.

The search for the fugitive had been going on day and night since the crime was committed last Tuesday. Sheriff's deputies had searched the city and vicinity and the latest clue led to the vicinity of Errol Heights where the body was found today.

Story of the Crime.

The crime for which Kemp offered his own life while suffering from deep remorse was one of the most shocking of any crime in the history of Portland.

After knocking down his victim, thrusting his head under the red roll waters of a middle, he dragged her to his cabin. There she fought her assailant desperately and during the struggle she was shot through the left breast by a revolver. The assailant then tore off his victim's clothing and left her more dead than alive.

The woman, weakened by the loss of blood and her nerves shattered by the result of the terrible ordeal, managed to crawl out of the cabin and half herself to the road where she was found.

The woman is now lying near death in the Good Samaritan hospital.

Uses Same Revolver.

The discovery of the body brought to a sudden end the search for the fugitive. A citizen stumbled onto the body. It was lying in the woods in the vicinity of the place where Kemp was last seen. The wound in the right temple showed that the shot had been self-inflicted.

The revolver with which the man killed himself was the same one used by Kemp in his attack on Mrs. Myers.

Kemp had threatened in his letter to Sheriff Hurlburt that he would kill him rather than accept blame for the attack on the girl. Shortly after the attack Kemp sent a special delivery letter to Sheriff Hurlburt asking him to hasten to the eastern limit of Errol Heights where he was dying from a bullet wound inflicted by a trans-Kemp pretended that he came to the scene of the crime and that he drove the assailant away with five shots from his revolver.

Mrs. Elva P. Dillman, who runs a small confectionery store at Sherwood and Lane streets, in the southern section of the city, informed the sheriff last Wednesday night that she was positive of her identification of Kemp as the man who had called at her store Wednesday, January 5.

The president's health has greatly improved during his vacation, and he is anxious to avoid his desk until the last moment possible before convening of congress.

Secretary of State Lansing will send a copy of Austria's reply on the sinking of the Ancona as soon as it is received at Washington, but it is thought that the president will take no action regarding it until he returns to the capital, the conciliatory tone of the note rendering immediate action less imperative.

ROUMANIAN COAST IS UNDER BLOCKADE BY RUSSIANS, IS REPORT

No Reason Given for Action Taken, According to Dispatch From Bucharest.

Paris, Dec. 31.—(I. N. S.)—The Russian fleet is blockading Roumania, according to a dispatch received here today from Bucharest. No reason was assigned, however, for this action by Russia against Roumania.

British Land at Kavala.

Rome, Dec. 31.—(I. N. S.)—The British have landed in Greece near Kavala, according to a dispatch received here today.

Turks Are Concentrating.

Rome, Dec. 31.—(I. N. S.)—According to news from a neutral source, the bulk of available Turkish troops are being concentrated on the Greek-Balkan frontier to cooperate with the Roumanians in the forthcoming attack on Serbia.

The Turks will invade Macedonia, the Austro-Hungarian ambassador said today, while the Bulgarians probably will be crushed with the task of opposing a Russian invasion and the defeat of the Aegean and Black sea coasts.

Greece Protests Arrests.

Rome, Dec. 31.—(I. N. S.)—Greece has addressed to the allies a protest over the seizure of diplomats of the neutral powers at Saloniki. Upon General Sarrafin's orders, the consuls of Germany, Austria, Bulgaria and Turkey were reported taken aboard a French warship and their consulates were taken over by allied troops.

This news caused great excitement among diplomatic officials in Athens. The Austro-German ambassadors asked the foreign office if the stories were true. Then the reports were not officially confirmed, but later the protests were made. It was stated:

It was understood that General Sarrafin justified his action on the statement that the consulates harbored spies.

Bulgarian deserters confirmed reports that Austro-German forces had withdrawn from the Greek frontier, according to Saloniki dispatches. The Greeks moved northward, presumably to meet the new Russian offensive in Macedonia and Galicia.

Allied aviators discovered that Bulgarian troops were digging rows of trenches behind the Greek border.

Servians Lose to Bulgars.

Berlin, Dec. 31.—(I. N. S.)—Bulgars almost annihilated a Serbian force in a three day battle in Albania, according to reports here today. Apparently Italian forces from Avlona aided the Serbs, who fought tenaciously.

Greece Protests Fortifications.

Berlin, Dec. 31.—(I. N. S.)—Greece has made a second and stronger protest to the allied powers against the erection of fortifications around Saloniki, according to dispatches received here today from Athens.

French Submarine Sunk by Austrians

The Morge Is Sent to Bottom in Durazzo Harbor and 16 Prisoners Taken—Austrians Later Lost Destroyers.

Berlin, Dec. 31.—(I. N. S.)—Wrecking of the Morge, a French submarine, in Durazzo harbor, Albania, Thursday, a few hours before the battle in which two Austrian destroyers were sunk, said a dispatch here today.

ALL SUBMARINE PROBLEMS ARE CLEARING AWAY

Indications Are That, With Austria's Satisfactory Attitude in Ancona Case, Germany Will Fall in Line.

ANCONA NOTE REACHES DEPARTMENT OF STATE

Austria Agrees to Punish the Submarine Commander, Not Imperil Lives.

Points in Ancona Reply.

Austria has agreed to punish the commander of the submarine, as demanded by America.

In effect, granted disavowal of the torpedoing and agreed to reparation for lives lost.

Concerned in the principle that enemy vessels, unless they have been notified, shall not be destroyed until persons aboard are rescued.

Refused responsibility for deaths due to panic among the crew.

Desires to maintain friendly relations.

Leaves the way open for further negotiations, but on comparatively minor points.

By John Edwin Nevin.

Washington, Dec. 31.—(I. N. S.)—The quick clearing up of all submarine controversies with Germany and Austria-Hungary was believed certain here this afternoon.

German Ambassador von Bernstorff called at the state department today and held a lengthy conference with Secretary Lansing. After he left, officials of the department indicated that the entire submarine question had been cleared up.

POPE QUOTED SAYING GERMANY IS READY TO OFFER PEACE TERMS

Kaiser Willing to Accept Pope Mediation, Entente Allies Object, Says Interview.

Chancellor Goes to Vienna.

London, Dec. 31.—(I. N. S.)—Imperial chancellor, von Bethmann-Hollweg is going to Vienna to acquaint Austria with conditions of peace which Germany believes would be most acceptable to the central empires, according to a Central News dispatch received here from Zurich.

Berlin Denies Peace Talk.

Berlin, Dec. 31.—(I. N. S.)—The foreign office today took official cognizance of the Wolff News Agency's Zurich dispatch, which says peace terms will be offered by Germany in a memorandum to the Entente.

Rome, Dec. 31.—(I. N. S.)—If the entente powers were willing peace negotiations could begin tomorrow.

SUIT IS BROUGHT TO DISSOLVE MERGER OF 2 PORTLAND BANKS

Waldo Estate Asks That the Transfer of Merchants' National Be Annulled.

President Olmstead's Statement.

The Northwestern National bank, as it now exists, has nothing whatever to do with the point at issue, declared Emory Olmstead, vice president and general manager of the Northwestern.

The merger of the Northwestern National and the Merchants' National was approved by the controlled of the corporation and that settles the status of the institution.

Whatever question arises as to lease on the old property at Second and Washington streets, lies between the stockholders of the old Merchants' National and the Waldo estate, owners of the building.

This suit is merely an attempt on the part of the Waldo estate to force a cancellation of the lease.

This lease was never taken over by us.

Suit to set aside the transfer of the assets of the Merchants' National bank to the Northwestern National bank was filed in federal court today by Harold M. Sawyer, attorney for the Waldo estate.

The complaint is based on a lease taken by the Merchants' National building, Second and Washington streets, February 1, 1907, to rent $5 years. The rental was to be $100 a month the first year and after that $100 a month. The rent has been

BRITISH CRUISER LOST IN HOE PORT, BLOWN UP WITH 300 OF CREW

Armored Cruiser Natal Destroyed by Internal Explosion.

Some British Sea Disasters.

London, Dec. 31.—(I. P.)—Three hundred and twenty-five men aboard the 3,550-ton British cruiser Natal, sunk by an internal explosion in a harbor yesterday, have not been accounted for. Four hundred were saved. The admiralty announcement of her sinking said merely:

The British cruiser Natal was sunk by an internal explosion in a harbor yesterday.

Details as to what harbor or the reasons for the explosion were not given.

The government withheld news of the disaster for nearly a day in order that it might ascertain the number of survivors. It is believed that many if not all of the survivors were on shore at the time of the explosion, and owed their lives to this fact.

The text of the admiralty's announcement read:

"His majesty's ship, Natal, armored cruiser, commanded by Captain Eric P. Black, R. N., sunk yesterday afternoon while in port, as the result of an internal explosion. Four hundred survivors are reported."

The Natal belongs to the Warrior class of ships, generally held to be the best cruisers ever turned out. She was a large boat, displacing 13,250 tons, with a length of 480 feet and a beam of 32 feet. Her normal complement was 704 men. She cost $7,900,000. Her guns included six 9.2 inch, four 7.5 inch, 3.5-pounders and five smaller pieces, with three torpedoes and six mines. She sank at 23 knots. She was completed in 1907.

Twenty-two assaults made on Bessarabian front are repulsed, but the carnage on both sides is appalling.

Naphtha Blows Up in Chicago; Eight Killed

Burning Fluid Spreads Fire to Entire Plant of American Linsseed Oil Co.; More Deaths Feared.

Chicago, Dec. 31.—(I. N. S.)—Eight men were reported killed, 20 injured and a number missing as the result of an explosion of a huge naphtha tank of the plant of the American Linsseed oil company at South Chicago today.

The burning naphtha spread over the entire plant and it is believed that it will be impossible to save any portion of the buildings and equipment, which are valued at more than $1,000,000.

The shock of the explosion broke windows in every building in the neighborhood for blocks around.

Further explosions are feared and the police have driven from their homes residents within a radius of a block of the plant.

The coroner's office reports a total of eight dead, but rumors are current that the list will total twice that. All of the dead are foreigners.

W. B. GLAFKE DIES EARLY TODAY AFTER EXTENDED ILLNESS

Well Known Commission Merchant Suffered Complication of Diseases.

W. B. Glafke, of the commission firm of W. B. Glafke company, and a resident of Portland for 31 years, died at the Good Samaritan hospital at 6:30 o'clock this morning after an illness of six weeks. Death was caused by a complication of diseases.

Mr. Glafke was very well known in Portland, having been in business on Front street for about 20 years, and having served as president of the Produce Merchants' association. He was also a candidate for mayor about eight years ago.

Mr. Glafke had been ill for six weeks he had been at the hospital since December 14. Present at his death this morning were his wife, his sister, Mrs. J. P. Ludlam, and his brother, J. P. Glafke.

Came Here When 23.

Mr. Glafke was born in Look Brook, N. Y., March 7, 1861, and with his parents moved to Mendon, N. J., where he received his education there and where his education there and where his education there.

His business career began as a delivery boy for the late Herman Wittenberg, who at that time was manager of a small cracker factory. For a year he drove a bakery wagon. Later when Mr. Wittenberg became connected with the Pacific Coast Fruit company, Mr. Glafke went to work for that firm. He was also a salesman for Mason, Elman & Co. for several years.

Having that firm he went into the wholesale produce and commission business with John A. Bell under the firm name of Bell & Glafke. About 35 years ago he went into business for himself under the firm name of W. B. Glafke company. Associated with him were James J. P. Ludlam, of Portland, and Mrs. Elizabeth Brayton of Chicago, and Mrs. J. P. Ludlam.

Funeral Set for Monday.

Besides his wife he is survived by three small children, a brother, C. E. Glafke, of Walla Walla, and two sisters, Mrs. J. P. Ludlam, of Portland, and Mrs. Elizabeth Brayton of Chicago, and Mrs. J. P. Ludlam.

Warm Feet Almost Fatal.

St. Paul, Minn., Dec. 31.—(U. P.)—William Sorenson, a barber, kept his feet warm by putting them against a radiator in his shop. His feet moved, opened the gas jet and the boiler broke in just in time to save William.

Federal Reserve Statement

San Francisco, Dec. 31.—Statement of condition of the federal reserve bank of San Francisco at the close of business December 31:

QUICKENING OF ALL BUSINESS; BIG YEAR AHEAD

Wind-Up of 1915 Finds the March of Improvement So Fast That No Doubt Exists as to 1916.

WHEAT EXPORTS TAKE JUMP OF $5,000,000

Postal Savings Are Greater; Bank Clearings for the Month Are More.

The year 1915 comes to a close today with prospects of vastly improved business conditions for 1916.

Recent activity in real estate, in most of large buildings soon to be constructed, increased bank clearings for the present month, and general quickening of other trade pulses, has caused a healthy optimism to spring up in the retail few corners which bids fair to carry calamity lowers and depression spirals away.

It is futile to gloss over the fact that the past year has been a poor one from many angles of business, particularly real estate and building, but the transactions of the past two months indicate a returning confidence which it is believed will have a wholesome influence in getting 1916 started right.

Portland business men admit that good times and bad times are in a measure psychological, and are jubilant that a wave of confidence is running over the city at present which should have its effect on all lines of endeavor. They are beginning to think and act good times, and there is every indication that the coming year will be even better times.

Wheat Exports Greatly Increased.

The demand in Europe for American wheat, which has increased since the war, and other nations resulted in a greatly increased exportation of wheat from Portland during the year than for the 12 months of 1914.

Having the year ending today 10,000,000 bushels.

OREGON CHAMBER OF COMMERCE IS BEING FORMED IN PORTLAND

New Organization Designed to Take the Place of Oregon Development League.

Organization of an Oregon Chamber of Commerce was commenced in Portland this morning by representatives of commercial organizations from various parts of the state.

The purpose is to stimulate the organization of strong commercial and industrial development league, which will be closely linked with the Portland Chamber of Commerce and will probably affiliate with the United States Chamber of Commerce. Membership by individuals as well as by organizations will probably be permitted.

George E. Hardy, executive secretary of the Portland Chamber of Commerce, presented the advantages of such an organization in forwarding the interests of agricultural, industrial and commercial development, and statements supporting the idea were made by C. C. Young of Clatsop, H. W. Gard of Madras, O. Laurgaard, and "Farmer" C. E. Smith of Portland.

The seven sections are to be divided consistent with the topography and development problems of the state. Four are to cover the west side of the Cascade mountains, three of the east side of the Cascades.

The Oregon Chamber of Commerce will take the place of the Oregon Development League, which was closely linked with the Portland Chamber of Commerce and will probably affiliate with the United States Chamber of Commerce. Membership by individuals as well as by organizations will probably be permitted.

Famous Racing Dog Driver Took 400 Malamutes to Piping Line at a Price of $100 Per Dog.

Montreal, Que., Dec. 31.—(I. N. S.)—"Scotty" Allen, the most famous driver of racing dogs in Alaska, returned from France today, after conveying to the firing line more than 400 malamutes from Alaska and Labrador. One hundred dollars piece was the price paid for the dogs, some of which were winners in the 400 mile races over the frozen trails of Alaska. Mr. Allen is on his way to Berkeley, Cal., to visit his family.

Astor to Get Coveted Title From England

Expatriated American, After Waiting Many Years, Will Tomorrow Be Made Baronet.

London, Dec. 31.—(I. N. S.)—An announcement was made here today that William Waldorf Astor, who renounced his American citizenship to become a naturalized Englishman, and Sir John Lubbock, president of the London and Pacific railway, would be made baronets tomorrow.

SALOONS CLOSE TONIGHT AT 12 FOR LAST TIME

Prohibition Measure Goes Into Effect With Coming of New Year; Business Rushing Today, Dealers Report.

CHURCHES WILL OPEN CAMPAIGN FOR CONVERTS

About 300 Liquor Establishments Are Affected by New Law.

Prohibition goes into effect at midnight tonight. The same time is true over in Washington and Idaho.

The liquor stores, which are the target of the new law, will be closed with associated feelings. Why close it will be closed with a heavy heart, with others it will be an occasion for great rejoicing, and still others will view it with indifference.

The new year will be welcomed in the evangelical churches of the state by the launching of the largest organized evangelistic movement ever undertaken in this country.

Committee Conducts Campaign.

Rev. W. S. Stark, pastor of the First Side Baptist church, is chairman of the committee which organized the movement. He said the first object of the movement was to celebrate Oregon going dry. The second is to draw into the fold members who have come from other states, and to be affiliated with the Oregon church, and the third is to win new converts.

Programs and midnight services will be held in Portland churches throughout the month of January. Included in the religious program will be midnight meetings at the Y. M. C. A., the Y. W. C. A., the Y. N. S. and the Salvation Army headquarters.

"Wet Goods" in Demand.

And while the preparations for these new days are being made, the saloons, which have been closed, are still being asked to fill the orders of those who want to stock up for the holidays.

At the Ross City Importing company the estimate was made today that 100,000 gallons of "wet goods" will be sold in the city during the month of January.

Sees Film Tragedy; Admits Old Murder

Former Soldier Confesses He Killed Tentmate in Philippines 12 Years Ago; Story Is Being Checked.

San Francisco, Dec. 31.—(I. N. S.)—W. A. O'Brien, a former soldier in the Philippines, who was arrested here for the murder of his tentmate 12 years ago, is being held in the city prison today while police and military authorities are attempting to verify the story told by O'Brien.

He says that he shot and killed George B. Miller in a camp out of three tentmates in the Philippines. He committed the crime with his military revolver, he says, and the military authorities viewed it as a case of self-defense.

His complete story is being checked, he declares, and O'Brien went wrong. He married and became the father of three children. He was with him in the Philippines, and he was with him in the Philippines, and he was with him in the Philippines.
