

What Society is Doing

MRS. WILLIAM D. WHEELER entertained with an informal tea yesterday afternoon when she asked both the younger matrons and the girls of the debutante set, as the affair was planned for Mrs. Thomas Sharp of Pineville, Or., who is visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. Morrison, and for Miss Helen Holman of San Francisco, who with her father, Alfred Holman, has been visiting several weeks in Portland with their relatives. Miss Holman, though not as yet "out" in society, has such a wide circle of friends and relatives in Portland that she has been continuously fêted since her arrival. This afternoon she shared honors with Miss Innes Bodwell of Victoria, B. C., at a luncheon given by Miss Genevieve Brooks. For Mrs. Sharp, Mrs. Wheeler, and the other guests, Mrs. Wheeler, Mrs. Robert W. Lewis and Mrs. William Washburn poured tea.

Next Scottish Rite "At Home" January 10.

The Scottish Rite Masons have given several affairs of social interest this season. Last Friday and Saturday evenings the converts given by the great orator, Mr. Lamar, were well attended. Announcements have been sent out for the next "at home," which will be given at the cathedral, Louisiana and Morrison streets, Thursday evening, January 10. Both cards and dancing will be arranged. Different groups of women are acting as patronesses at each of the affairs. Next at affair the following women will serve: Mrs. H. J. Blasing, Mrs. R. D. Inman, Mrs. Roy F. Pike, Mrs. R. P. Knight, Mrs. Frank Lucas, Mrs. J. H. Mackenzie, Mrs. L. A. Bailey, Mrs. A. M. Wright, Mrs. Robert Skeen, Mrs. McKinley Mitchell.

Blackstone Dance.

Preparations have been completed for the coming Blackstone club dance to be given in Multnomah hotel ballroom on tomorrow evening. This affair is one of a series of dances being given by this club during the present season and promises to be more successful than any held here before. Special attention has been given to the music for the evening and a number of unusual features have been planned for the occasion. Patrons and patronesses for the evening are Judge and Mrs. John P. Kavanaugh, Judge and Mrs. George N. Davis, Judge and Mrs. W. N. Gaten, Judge and Mrs. Arthur C. Dayton and Mr. and Mrs. John K. Kollock.

Wedding Announced.

The marriage of Miss Georgia A. Fitch and C. L. Stranage of the Portland Gas and Coke company, which took place November 17 at the residence of William C. Ward, has just been made known. Mr. and Mrs. Stranage are at home to their friends at 553 Everett street.

Rose City Dancing Club Tomorrow Evening.

Thursday evening the Rose City Dancing club's party will be given at Christensen hall. This old and popular organization is giving a series of dances this season of which this is the sixth party. They have arranged for seven more dances to be given.

Parish Reception.

A New Year's reception will be given for the members and their friends of the Grace Memorial Episcopal church tomorrow evening from 8 until 10 o'clock at the Parish house, East Seventeenth and Welder streets.

Hosts on New Year's Day.

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Millington entertained with a dinner on New Year's day at their home, 570 Sumner street. Those who enjoyed the hospitality of Mr. and Mrs. Millington were Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Hunter and daughter, Lucile, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Walrath, Mr. and Mrs. James Millington and sons, Harold and Ernie, Mr. and Mrs. George Millington, Mr. Charles W. K. Chester, Millington and Cornell Millington. The amusement of the day was several musical selections and dancing was indulged in to the evening.

Backward Party.

A unique watch party was given New Year's eve at the home of Mr. and Mrs. John S. Morgan in Irvington for their sons, Tom and D'Arcy. It was a backward party and the young people arrived dressed backward, were received at the back door and just before midnight a dainty backward supper was served. The backward games caused much amusement during the evening and several violin and mandolin duets were played by D'Arcy Morgan and Will Enderud.

Rose Social Club.

The Oregon Rose Social club will hold its first meeting of the year on January 6, at the home of Mrs. Ger-

The Home Doctor

(Clip out and save)

How to Cure Rheumatism

Here is a prescription for rheumatism readily mixed at home makes one of the best and quickest cures. Remedies obtainable often cause the worst cough in a day. Pine as medicine is as old as the Bible but here is best form. Half ounce of Globe Pine Compound (Concentrated Pine) and two ounces of Glycerine mix these two ingredients in half pint of whiskey. Use a tablespoonful before each meal and at bedtime. Get ingredient at any drug store. Genuine Toris comes only in one ounce sealed yellow packages.

Surest for Coughs and Colds

Don't experiment on a bad cough or cold. It is very easy to get a bad cough. A little mixed at home makes one of the best and quickest cures. Remedies obtainable often cause the worst cough in a day. Pine as medicine is as old as the Bible but here is best form. Half ounce of Globe Pine Compound (Concentrated Pine) and two ounces of Glycerine mix these two ingredients in half pint of whiskey. Use a tablespoonful before each meal and at bedtime. Get ingredient at any drug store. Genuine Toris comes only in one ounce sealed yellow packages.

Frost Bites, Corns and Sore Feet

Don't endure foot agony. Here is a remedy for all such results. It works through the pores, removing the cause. Two tablespoonfuls of Caloide compound in warm foot bath. Gives instant relief for aching and sweaty feet; corns and callouses can be peeled right off. Specially effective for sore bunions, chilblains, and frost bites. Genuine Caloide in 25 cent packages at any drug store. The above is published by the Medical Formula Laboratories, Dayton, O. (Adv.)

Mrs. Arthur C. Dayton, a patroness for the Blackstone Dancing club's party tomorrow evening.

Hybrid Duck is a Great Curiosity

Mallard and Pintail Freak of Nature

A hybrid of the mallard and pintail duck was presented to William L. Finley, state biologist, yesterday by M. H. Schmeier, who shot it at his place at the mouth of Gilbert river, on Sauvie Island.

The duck is a male. It has the characteristics of the two species about equally divided. The head of the pintail is seal brown. The mallard's head is green. The hybrid might be termed a "green headed pintail," but the mallard influence is seen again in the tail, which lacks the long pointed feathers which give the pintail its name.

The breast coloring is a combination of mallard and pintail. The breast of a mallard is barred or mottled white and black, giving a gray appearance. The pintail's breast is white. The hybrid's breast is in patches of white and gray. There is also a trace of the chestnut color of the mallard on the breast.

It is almost even up, said Mr. Finley this morning, "and the cross is remarkable because it occurred in the wild state. We can get these hybridizations in a tame state by cross breeding, but they are very rare in the wild state."

Mr. Finley says that the only other example of cross breeding in the wild state that he has seen is a hybrid of a blue or sooty grouse with a Chinese pheasant.

It is his purpose to make the collection of game birds complete, so that sportsmen by studying it, may know the species when they are affixed.

trude F. Simmons, who will be assisted by Mesdames Smock, Meadows and Broadbeck.

The new officers will have charge of the work for the year: Lura Fredrickson, president; Matilda Hays, vice president; Mae Demar, secretary; Lura Ward, treasurer.

All Royal Neighbors will be heartily welcomed and a special greeting will be extended to all R. N. A. who are affiliated with any camp in the city.

Man Cannot Explain Cause Wife's Death

Knaband Regains Consciousness, But Cannot Remember Happenings of Night Before.

Redwood City, Cal., Jan. 5.—(P. N. S.)—In an effort to clear the mystery still shrouding the death of Mrs. Knaband yesterday afternoon, chemists are analyzing the stomach contents of the dead woman for traces of poison.

Plump, under care of Drs. J. L. Ross and J. E. Chapin, is considerably improved today and has regained consciousness. He has been questioned in the hope that he might clear the mystery surrounding his wife's death, but his mind was a blank as to what happened late Monday night, just before both were taken ill.

Rumors of friends that a suicide pact had been made between Mrs. Plump and her husband were scattered today by Christopher Hynding, father of Mrs. Plump. Hynding says he has no suspicion that his daughter may have taken her life, nor does he suspect foul play. He tried to question his son-in-law, he said today, but Plump could not remember anything that had transpired.

Both Plump and his wife were in good health Monday evening. Late in the night they were taken ill. Mrs. Plump died at an early hour yesterday and Plump hovered between life and death.

Burglars at Junction City Steal Cutlery

New Officials in Office.

Junction City, Or., Jan. 5.—The new city council was sworn in Monday night. The council is now composed of the following: Mayor, C. H. McKnight; recorder, J. A. Bennett; councilmen, P. O. Bowman, F. Roseborough, H. P. Anderson, J. Flint, John Liden and Chester Jones. John R. Butler was appointed city marshal.

Didn't "Pan Out."—The marriage about two weeks ago of Mr. and Mrs. Walter P. King was planned by the couple's parents before either was born, but it didn't pan out. Changing custody, Mrs. King has filed suit for divorce.

Oakland, Cal., Jan. 5.—(P. N. S.)—The marriage about two weeks ago of Mr. and Mrs. Walter P. King was planned by the couple's parents before either was born, but it didn't pan out. Changing custody, Mrs. King has filed suit for divorce.

TEUTONS EXPECT BIG ALLIED OFFENSIVE IN SPRING ON ALL LINES

Defeat Will Result, Hungarian Officials Say, Because Central Allies Concentrate, LONG WAR IS PREDICTED

Hungarian Count Says No Chance of Peace as Allies Not Yet "Convinced of Our Superiority."

By Carl W. Ackerman.

Budapest, Jan. 1.—(U. P.)—(Delayed)—A great offensive by the allies on all fronts in the spring is expected by the Teutons. Hungarian officials, however, are certain that the move will meet with defeat.

"The allies fail to take into account our military position, however," said Count Andrássy today to the United Press. "We are situated so that we can beat any move they make. Our men and resources to any front at any time. We can concentrate—something that the enemy cannot do. This makes our victory certain, because it overbalances our opponents' resources."

Expect No Early Peace.

Contrary to Berlin opinion, the Hungarians believe that there will be no early peace.

"I think it will be a long, long war," continued the count. "There is no chance of peace in sight at present. We could make peace next week, but the allies do not desire it—they are not yet convinced of our superiority."

"But the world is becoming hysterical. Even neutral nations are impatient. It is a shame for humanity that we can't make peace now."

The count expressed admiration for the manner in which King Constantine has handled the Greek situation.

Greece Is to Profit.

"He will keep his nation neutral and save him from the disaster that wrecked Belgium and Serbia," said the count. "Greece will increase her territory without sacrificing men and money, and will probably gain territory. No one can say that King Constantine is traitorous."

He predicted success for Teuton arms in Mesopotamia.

It is his opinion that the English were forced to withdraw from Baghdad, he commented. "And when the Turks bring up reinforcements, the British will have to withdraw from the city."

He predicted success for Teuton arms in Mesopotamia.

It is his opinion that the English were forced to withdraw from Baghdad, he commented. "And when the Turks bring up reinforcements, the British will have to withdraw from the city."

He predicted success for Teuton arms in Mesopotamia.

It is his opinion that the English were forced to withdraw from Baghdad, he commented. "And when the Turks bring up reinforcements, the British will have to withdraw from the city."

He predicted success for Teuton arms in Mesopotamia.

It is his opinion that the English were forced to withdraw from Baghdad, he commented. "And when the Turks bring up reinforcements, the British will have to withdraw from the city."

He predicted success for Teuton arms in Mesopotamia.

It is his opinion that the English were forced to withdraw from Baghdad, he commented. "And when the Turks bring up reinforcements, the British will have to withdraw from the city."

He predicted success for Teuton arms in Mesopotamia.

It is his opinion that the English were forced to withdraw from Baghdad, he commented. "And when the Turks bring up reinforcements, the British will have to withdraw from the city."

He predicted success for Teuton arms in Mesopotamia.

It is his opinion that the English were forced to withdraw from Baghdad, he commented. "And when the Turks bring up reinforcements, the British will have to withdraw from the city."

He predicted success for Teuton arms in Mesopotamia.

It is his opinion that the English were forced to withdraw from Baghdad, he commented. "And when the Turks bring up reinforcements, the British will have to withdraw from the city."

He predicted success for Teuton arms in Mesopotamia.

It is his opinion that the English were forced to withdraw from Baghdad, he commented. "And when the Turks bring up reinforcements, the British will have to withdraw from the city."

He predicted success for Teuton arms in Mesopotamia.

It is his opinion that the English were forced to withdraw from Baghdad, he commented. "And when the Turks bring up reinforcements, the British will have to withdraw from the city."

He predicted success for Teuton arms in Mesopotamia.

It is his opinion that the English were forced to withdraw from Baghdad, he commented. "And when the Turks bring up reinforcements, the British will have to withdraw from the city."

LOCAL BOY NOW A LANCE CORPORAL FOR CANADIANS

Linton Davies Now Has the Charge of Drilling of the New Recruits.

Linton L. Davies, a Portland youth, has enlisted with the Canadian expeditionary forces of the English army. He left Portland last fall and served five weeks as a private soldier. He was then advanced and has now reached the position of lance corporal. As lance corporal he has charge of the drilling of new recruits.

"Linton" has quite an address. He is known as soldier No. 70963, company No. 1, troop No. 1, battalion No. 103 of the Canadian expeditionary force.

During the Christmas holidays he was granted an eight days furlough and the stories that he told in Portland during the week are interesting. He stated that he was not sorry that he had enlisted, and that he liked the army very much. He talked highly of the training that is given the soldiers, declaring that it is very beneficial. He also stated that if the same training were given in times of peace it would make a man a very useful citizen. He has found the men clean and the standard of morale very high. If present plans do not miscarry the company to which Davies belongs will leave for the front some time in March.

The parents of the youth are Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Davies of 743 Greenwood avenue. Linton is a graduate of the Clifton Kelly school and the Washington high school. At the latter institution he is very well known, as he held several prominent offices in the student body, the most important being editor of "The Lens."

Davies is a brother of Mary Carolyn Davies, senior in the New York University school of journalism. Miss Davies has been writing short poems for leading magazines of the country.

The parents of the youth are Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Davies of 743 Greenwood avenue. Linton is a graduate of the Clifton Kelly school and the Washington high school. At the latter institution he is very well known, as he held several prominent offices in the student body, the most important being editor of "The Lens."

Davies is a brother of Mary Carolyn Davies, senior in the New York University school of journalism. Miss Davies has been writing short poems for leading magazines of the country.

The parents of the youth are Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Davies of 743 Greenwood avenue. Linton is a graduate of the Clifton Kelly school and the Washington high school. At the latter institution he is very well known, as he held several prominent offices in the student body, the most important being editor of "The Lens."

Davies is a brother of Mary Carolyn Davies, senior in the New York University school of journalism. Miss Davies has been writing short poems for leading magazines of the country.

The parents of the youth are Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Davies of 743 Greenwood avenue. Linton is a graduate of the Clifton Kelly school and the Washington high school. At the latter institution he is very well known, as he held several prominent offices in the student body, the most important being editor of "The Lens."

Davies is a brother of Mary Carolyn Davies, senior in the New York University school of journalism. Miss Davies has been writing short poems for leading magazines of the country.

The parents of the youth are Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Davies of 743 Greenwood avenue. Linton is a graduate of the Clifton Kelly school and the Washington high school. At the latter institution he is very well known, as he held several prominent offices in the student body, the most important being editor of "The Lens."

Davies is a brother of Mary Carolyn Davies, senior in the New York University school of journalism. Miss Davies has been writing short poems for leading magazines of the country.

The parents of the youth are Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Davies of 743 Greenwood avenue. Linton is a graduate of the Clifton Kelly school and the Washington high school. At the latter institution he is very well known, as he held several prominent offices in the student body, the most important being editor of "The Lens."

Davies is a brother of Mary Carolyn Davies, senior in the New York University school of journalism. Miss Davies has been writing short poems for leading magazines of the country.

The parents of the youth are Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Davies of 743 Greenwood avenue. Linton is a graduate of the Clifton Kelly school and the Washington high school. At the latter institution he is very well known, as he held several prominent offices in the student body, the most important being editor of "The Lens."

Davies is a brother of Mary Carolyn Davies, senior in the New York University school of journalism. Miss Davies has been writing short poems for leading magazines of the country.

The parents of the youth are Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Davies of 743 Greenwood avenue. Linton is a graduate of the Clifton Kelly school and the Washington high school. At the latter institution he is very well known, as he held several prominent offices in the student body, the most important being editor of "The Lens."

Davies is a brother of Mary Carolyn Davies, senior in the New York University school of journalism. Miss Davies has been writing short poems for leading magazines of the country.

The parents of the youth are Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Davies of 743 Greenwood avenue. Linton is a graduate of the Clifton Kelly school and the Washington high school. At the latter institution he is very well known, as he held several prominent offices in the student body, the most important being editor of "The Lens."

Davies is a brother of Mary Carolyn Davies, senior in the New York University school of journalism. Miss Davies has been writing short poems for leading magazines of the country.

The parents of the youth are Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Davies of 743 Greenwood avenue. Linton is a graduate of the Clifton Kelly school and the Washington high school. At the latter institution he is very well known, as he held several prominent offices in the student body, the most important being editor of "The Lens."

Davies is a brother of Mary Carolyn Davies, senior in the New York University school of journalism. Miss Davies has been writing short poems for leading magazines of the country.

The parents of the youth are Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Davies of 743 Greenwood avenue. Linton is a graduate of the Clifton Kelly school and the Washington high school. At the latter institution he is very well known, as he held several prominent offices in the student body, the most important being editor of "The Lens."

Davies is a brother of Mary Carolyn Davies, senior in the New York University school of journalism. Miss Davies has been writing short poems for leading magazines of the country.

The parents of the youth are Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Davies of 743 Greenwood avenue. Linton is a graduate of the Clifton Kelly school and the Washington high school. At the latter institution he is very well known, as he held several prominent offices in the student body, the most important being editor of "The Lens."

Davies is a brother of Mary Carolyn Davies, senior in the New York University school of journalism. Miss Davies has been writing short poems for leading magazines of the country.

The parents of the youth are Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Davies of 743 Greenwood avenue. Linton is a graduate of the Clifton Kelly school and the Washington high school. At the latter institution he is very well known, as he held several prominent offices in the student body, the most important being editor of "The Lens."

Davies is a brother of Mary Carolyn Davies, senior in the New York University school of journalism. Miss Davies has been writing short poems for leading magazines of the country.

The parents of the youth are Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Davies of 743 Greenwood avenue. Linton is a graduate of the Clifton Kelly school and the Washington high school. At the latter institution he is very well known, as he held several prominent offices in the student body, the most important being editor of "The Lens."

Davies is a brother of Mary Carolyn Davies, senior in the New York University school of journalism. Miss Davies has been writing short poems for leading magazines of the country.

The parents of the youth are Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Davies of 743 Greenwood avenue. Linton is a graduate of the Clifton Kelly school and the Washington high school. At the latter institution he is very well known, as he held several prominent offices in the student body, the most important being editor of "The Lens."

Davies is a brother of Mary Carolyn Davies, senior in the New York University school of journalism. Miss Davies has been writing short poems for leading magazines of the country.

The parents of the youth are Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Davies of 743 Greenwood avenue. Linton is a graduate of the Clifton Kelly school and the Washington high school. At the latter institution he is very well known, as he held several prominent offices in the student body, the most important being editor of "The Lens."

Davies is a brother of Mary Carolyn Davies, senior in the New York University school of journalism. Miss Davies has been writing short poems for leading magazines of the country.

The parents of the youth are Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Davies of 743 Greenwood avenue. Linton is a graduate of the Clifton Kelly school and the Washington high school. At the latter institution he is very well known, as he held several prominent offices in the student body, the most important being editor of "The Lens."

Davies is a brother of Mary Carolyn Davies, senior in the New York University school of journalism. Miss Davies has been writing short poems for leading magazines of the country.

The parents of the youth are Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Davies of 743 Greenwood avenue. Linton is a graduate of the Clifton Kelly school and the Washington high school. At the latter institution he is very well known, as he held several prominent offices in the student body, the most important being editor of "The Lens."

Davies is a brother of Mary Carolyn Davies, senior in the New York University school of journalism. Miss Davies has been writing short poems for leading magazines of the country.

The parents of the youth are Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Davies of 743 Greenwood avenue. Linton is a graduate of the Clifton Kelly school and the Washington high school. At the latter institution he is very well known, as he held several prominent offices in the student body, the most important being editor of "The Lens."

Davies is a brother of Mary Carolyn Davies, senior in the New York University school of journalism. Miss Davies has been writing short poems for leading magazines of the country.

The parents of the youth are Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Davies of 743 Greenwood avenue. Linton is a graduate of the Clifton Kelly school and the Washington high school. At the latter institution he is very well known, as he held several prominent offices in the student body, the most important being editor of "The Lens."

SCHOOL CHILDREN TO GET INSTRUCTION IN SAFETY MEASURES

Series of Meetings to Be Addressed by Fire Marshal and Commissioner.

To instruct school children in safety first measures is the purpose of a series of meetings to be given in the various schools of the city by members of the public safety commission, school officials and the city commissioners.

The commission also proposes to have a safety first forum in the work of the Chamber of Commerce where manufacturers, business men and others may receive suggestions and instruction in safety first work.

The commission yesterday decided that fire drills should be held in private as well as public schools. A committee was appointed to interview the heads of these private schools to arrange for the drills.

The commission appointed a committee to recommend to the city council amendments to the traffic ordinance to allow mechanical signal devices on automobiles to indicate the direction the machines are to turn.

Several delegates wanted to stay in Europe a while longer and asked if Ford would pay their way home when they wanted to go. But Plaintiff blasted this hope, too, by announcing that if they did not sail with the entire party on the liner Rotterdam January 12, they would have to pay their own fare.

Inasmuch as Madame Schwimmer, Hungarian peace advocate, was instrumental in obtaining permission for the party to cross Germany, the newspaper today asked that she be permitted to make a brilliant showing at next week's conference at The Hague.

The answer—No.

Several delegates wanted to stay in Europe a while longer and asked if Ford would pay their way home when they wanted to go. But Plaintiff blasted this hope, too, by announcing that if they did not sail with the entire party on the liner Rotterdam January 12, they would have to pay their own fare.

Inasmuch as Madame Schwimmer, Hungarian peace advocate, was instrumental in obtaining permission for the party to cross Germany, the newspaper today asked that she be permitted to make a brilliant showing at next week's conference at The Hague.

The answer—No.

Several delegates wanted to stay in Europe a while longer and asked if Ford would pay their way home when they wanted to go. But Plaintiff blasted this hope, too, by announcing that if they did not sail with the entire party on the liner Rotterdam January 12, they would have to pay their own fare.

Inasmuch as Madame Schwimmer, Hungarian peace advocate, was instrumental in obtaining permission for the party to cross Germany, the newspaper today asked that she be permitted to make a brilliant showing at next week's conference at The Hague.

The answer—No.

Several delegates wanted to stay in Europe a while longer and asked if Ford would pay their way home when they wanted to go. But Plaintiff blasted this hope, too, by announcing that if they did not sail with the entire party on the liner Rotterdam January 12, they would have to pay their own fare.

Inasmuch as Madame Schwimmer, Hungarian peace advocate, was instrumental in obtaining permission for the party to cross Germany, the newspaper today asked that she be permitted to make a brilliant showing at next week's conference at The Hague.

The answer—No.

Several delegates wanted to stay in Europe a while longer and asked if Ford would pay their way home when they wanted to go. But Plaintiff blasted this hope, too, by announcing that if they did not sail with the entire party on the liner Rotterdam January 12, they would have to pay their own fare.

Inasmuch as Madame Schwimmer, Hungarian peace advocate, was instrumental in obtaining permission for the party to cross Germany, the newspaper today asked that she be permitted to make a brilliant showing at next week's conference at The Hague.

The answer—No.

Several delegates wanted to stay in Europe a while longer and asked if Ford would pay their way home when they wanted to go. But Plaintiff blasted this hope, too, by announcing that if they did not sail with the entire party on the liner Rotterdam January 12, they would have to pay their own fare.

Inasmuch as Madame Schwimmer, Hungarian peace advocate, was instrumental in obtaining permission for the party to cross Germany, the newspaper today asked that she be permitted to make a brilliant showing at next week's conference at The Hague.

The answer—No.

Several delegates wanted to stay in Europe a while longer and asked if Ford would pay their way home when they wanted to go. But Plaintiff blasted this hope, too, by announcing that if they did not sail with the entire party on the liner Rotterdam January 12, they would have to pay their own fare.

Inasmuch as Madame Schwimmer, Hungarian peace advocate, was instrumental in obtaining permission for the party to cross Germany, the newspaper today asked that she be permitted to make a brilliant showing at next week's conference at The Hague.

The answer—No.

Several delegates wanted to stay in Europe a while longer and asked if Ford would pay their way home when they wanted to go. But Plaintiff blasted this hope, too, by announcing that if they did not sail with the entire party on the liner Rotterdam January 12,