Egg Trade Scared Regarding Future And Prices Holding

Receipts Are Not Heavy, But Receivers Are Unwilling to Take Many Chances.

While the present condition of the egg market is naturally firm at 25c a dozen because of weather conditions, the trade in general is afraid of the future.

With the egg laying season well started in the Willamette valley and liberal receipts held back only by reason of the almost impassable condition of the roads, there is every expectation of heavy supplies within a short time.

The egg market has been subject to the radical fluctuations often experienced at this season as a result of wide variations in prevailing weather conditions.

Receipts at this time are light, but the demand is only moderate. In spite of the fact that the receipts are not heavy, there is no suspicion as to the buying effort being made by parties to force values higher have proven a failure.

With the price of wheat higher here and the eastern flour practically entirely eliminated from the Pacific coast trade because of the extreme quotation of the product at $1.75 to $1.80 a barrel, Pacific northwest millers have nothing to fear from outside competition.

Comparatively speaking, the price of flour in the Pacific northwest is one of the lowest flour markets in the world, therefore a general advance is forecasted by the trade.

CEREAL SITUATION S A MASS OF STRENGTH AT WORLD CENTERS

Flour Advance Here Is Again Expected—Interior Wheat Prices Are Mixed With Sales of Cargoes Higher in Europe.

Flour prices are trending higher. An advance of 20c a barrel is now generally expected by the trade, which would put patent at $5.50 a barrel.

HOP MARKET HAS A SPIRIT OF ACTIVITY; TOPS AT 11 CENTS

Wolf Hop Company Purchases Independence Lot of 247 Bales at Extreme Mark—Additional Trade Reported Along Coast.

The hop market is again quite active along the Pacific coast, with further business reported here at 11c a pound for selected stock, while additional sales are shown in California, western Washington and in the Yakima section.

Wolf Hop company of this city topped the market with the purchase of 247 bales of the Slupper & Patton crop of Independence.

Seven hundred bales were reported sold in western Washington at 10 to 10 1/2c a pound. A pair of Yakima seed 100 bales at $6.00, Broun 100 bales at $6.00, and Colburn & Porter 100 bales at $6.00.

Watchful Waiting In Stock Market a Factor for Session

New York, Jan. 19.—(I. N. S.)—The opening of the stock market today saw a continued waiting trade, with cross current offering of some stocks by professionals, and the advance of a few specialties by pools.

The bulls did not respond as strongly as some of the other departments. A few factors said to be somewhat responsible for the waiting attitude were the statement of steel earnings to be made public next Tuesday, settlement of the Mexican situation, adjustment of Greece's case, December railroad reports, and other extraneous statements now commencing to appear from industrial companies.

The big interests seem content to let the market drift, evidently pending the mobilization of foreign holdings now going on steadily here. With gold imports continuing, money plentiful, experts pessimistic and steel prices advanced against a heavy volume of trading, copper at 24c and grain up, it is difficult to see how the market can be held down.
