What Society is Doing BY NONA LAWLER

At Coronado Beach, Cal.

The Spanish Ball occupies the center of the social stage at Coronado and continues to be the leading and liveliest conversational topic and all interest seems to be centered on the evening of January 29. On all occasions society finds interest in discussing its plans for the Spanish ball, and the costumes in which it will regale itself.

One of the basic principles for giving the ball is the style of woman's dress this season, which is typically Spanish. Spanish mode has won at all the fashion fetes given in New York this year. Inspiration was gained by the famous Lucille and other noted modistes from Velasquez and Goya pictures.

Among the Portlanders who are to take part in the dance is Miss Nan Pennoyer Russell, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George F. Russell who with her parents is wintering south.

Wedding Anniversary at Seaside.

Dr. and Mrs. Clyde Van Ulerah celebrated their first wedding anniversary by entertaining a number of their friends Saturday, January 22, at their home at Seaside, Or. L. S. Ball officiated as clergyman of a mock ceremony.

Promptly at 9:30 the strains of Lohengrin's March announced the appearance of the wedding party headed by little Frances Roth as ring bearer. Mr. Ball exacted a great many promises from the couple and Mrs. Van Ulerah presented the doctor with a ring. She wore her wedding gown of gold colored crepe de chene.

After the ceremony Mrs. Van Ulerah sang a solo; Virginia Drake gave an original reading and Frances Roth danced the butterfly dance. An elaborate supper was served.

Mrs. Van Ulerah as Leala Brouse, was a popular Portland girl, having studied vocal music with Professor Charles Swenson and Heloise Northrup. Dr. Van Ulerah came to Seaside from Portland also. He is a Phi Chi and Sigma Alpha man, having attended the Williamette university for three years, returning to Portland and finishing in the medical department of the University of Oregon. For a year and a half he did interne work at the Good Samaritan hospital. He is also a graduate of pharmacy. Those enjoying Dr. and Mr. Van Ulerah's hospitality were: Mrs. J. E. Brouse, E. Brouse, Judge and Mrs. Allen, Mrs. M. S. Drake, Virginia Drake, Mr. and Mrs. John Selnas, Miss Avis Buchanan, Mayor L. L. Paget, Mr. and Mrs. William Tagg, Miss Lystra Tagg, Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Roth, Dr. and Mrs. J. Y. Lewis, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Wheatley, Dr. R. G. Moss and Mr. and Mrs. L. S. Ball.

Pastor's Daughter Burned to Death

Vancouver, B. C., Jan. 20.—(U. P.)—Death in the flames which completely destroyed the residence of her father, Rev. J. A. Dow, was the fate of 13-year-old Helen Dow at 2 o'clock this morning at Enderby, B. C., while her parents and her brother, Douglas, are in a hospital after sustaining terrible burns before making a dramatic leap from an upper floor window to the snow below.

The Dow home was a large frame structure and was consumed rapidly.

MONOPOLY CAUSE OF VICE AND POVERTY, IS FILM'S DEPICTION

"The Corner," New Film at the Columbia, Is Tale of Home Blighted by Poverty.

By Rex Lempman.

Poverty and what it does to degrade men and women, without mincing over unlovely details, is shown in "The Corner," which opened at the Columbia theatre yesterday.

The film is almost startling in its parallel to the report of the Illinois white slave investigation, just made public. The report shows that poverty is the principal cause of immorality. The film, made without knowledge even that such an investigation was to be made, shows poverty driving men into crime and women into lives of shame.

The Illinois report tells of finding mothers leaving their homes to gain money by immoral practices so that their children might have food. The film shows this very thing.

Happy Home Blighted.

The home is blighted by poverty. The husband is sent to the work-house for stealing. The mother goes down, down into degradation. The husband returns to find her, with painted face, in tawdry finery.

Thus far the report and the film at the Columbia go together. But the film goes further. It shows the cause of poverty—monopoly—and shows it in the simplest way possible, by depicting what would ensue if someone should secure a corner on food.

"Cornerer" Dies Miserably.

The report makes its recommendations, none of which is directed at monopoly, and the film shows the man who made the "corner" dying a miserable death at the hands of the man whose family he has ruined—or one of the men whose families he has ruined.

Thus neither film nor the Illinois report has anything to say as to how poverty may be cured by the abolition of monopoly.

But "The Corner," as shown at the Columbia, shows monopoly in all its hideousness. Perhaps that's enough for one moving picture to do. After awhile there may be other films that will tell us how monopoly may be killed.

The tragedy of the main feature of the program is relieved by a rollicking comedy, "The Hunt," with Ford Sterling and Polly Moran starring.

But as for this reviewer, he would rather leave the theatre when "The Corner" is concluded, for perhaps he and everybody else is too willing, when something that makes him think is seen, to turn to something else that will make him laugh—and forget it.

Beef Roll

A New Way of Using Left Overs

By Mrs. Janet McKenzie Hill, Editor of the Boston Cooking School Magazine

Every housewife finds the disposition of left overs a most perplexing problem. K C Beef Roll will go a long ways toward helping you out when the family get tired of hash and stews. You really ought to try it for supper tonight or tomorrow night at the latest. 45

Beef Roll, K C Style

Three cups flour; 1 teaspoonful salt; 3 level teaspoonfuls K C Baking Powder; ½ cup shortening; sweet milk; 1 cup each, chipped cooked beef and ham; 1 teaspoonful mixed mustard; 2 beaten eggs; grating of onion; ¼ teaspoonful each, salt and pepper; broth or water.

Make a biscuit dough of the flour, salt, K C baking powder, shortening and milk, and roll into a sheet half an inch thick, having the ends even. Mix the other ingredients by themselves, using liquid as needed to make a paste. Spread the paste over the dough and roll like a jelly roll. Bake in a buttered pan about forty minutes. Brush over the outside with a little beaten egg left for the purpose and return to the oven to brown. Serve hot with a rich brown sauce. Other meats, such as chicken or veal, alone, or in combination, may be used. The onion and mustard may be omitted.

Ninety recipes—just think of it—by the famous cooking authority, Mrs. Janet McKenzie Hill, sent free upon receipt of the colored certificate packed in 25-cent cans of K C Baking Powder. Send for the handsome Cook's Book today to the JAQUES MFG. CO., Chicago.

ITCHING ECZEMA ON BOY'S NECK

In Small Water Blisters. Itching Became Burning Torturing Pain. Skin Cracking Open.

HEALED BY CUTICURA SOAP AND OINTMENT

"Eczema first appeared in small water blisters forming a crust on my boy's neck and around his left ear. The surrounding surface of the skin would be reddish, feverish looking splotches and the itching was very evident. After a time the itching gave way to a burning, torturing pain and the skin was red, dry and hard, cracking open and causing frightful sore eruptions.

"He was treated but without any results and the rash spread to all parts of his body. Then we used Cuticura Soap and Ointment. After a time good results were evident and after treating for about six months with the Cuticura Soap and Ointment he was healed." (Signed) Andrew B. Dickinson, Corinne, Utah, Oct. 25, 1915.

Keep your face young by the daily use of Cuticura Soap and Cuticura Ointment.

Beauty Chat

BY Lillian Russell

(Copyright, 1916, by Lillian Russel.)

A WELL-EQUIPPED dressing table is an essential feature of a woman's boudoir. Whether is is in connection with the arrangement of the hair, the care of her complexion or one of the other many duties a woman owes to herself, she should have at her command the proper outfit.

Toilet table accessories are numerous—the shops are filled with them. Some of them are unnecessary—others render every-day service. It is not necessary to fill your table with an elaborate layout of lotions, powders, pins and brushes. You can get along without many of these articles—but you feel the demand for some of them each time you make your toilet.

Hair dressing is an important part of your daily work if you are a woman without a maid or a coiffeur. The brush and comb are, of course, necessary to complete this work. You should, however, use care in their selection and use the style of instruments which are best adapted to your hair. There is a difference in hair and in scalps. The brush that is acceptable to one woman is disagreeable to another.

• •

While the brush and comb naturally find their way to every boudoir, a suitable complement of pins and fixtures are often missing. The result is that the hair does not remain fixed or is clumsily dressed. Hair pins are cheap, but they are woman's valuable friend. Ornamental combs and attachments may be desirable, but their use is not necessary when you have plenty of pins.

How often a woman's appearance is spoiled by rebellious hair that is not kept under control. The use of a few pins of the proper size would prevent the rebellion and untidy appearance.

The condition of the hands is never right unless the finger nails are properly manicured. It is not a difficult matter to keep them in shape if you have the proper implements — with probably a little oil, grease or coloring to tone them up.

The face also demands care. It is ridiculous to refuse to put anything on your face as a matter of prudishness or pride in a natural complexion. It is just as reasonable to treat the skin when it is chapped as it is to take medicine for a cold. If you have a good complexion you should take every possible measure to keep it in that condition. The woman whose dressing table contains nothing for her complexion is guilty of neglect.

• •

Many women need only simple preparations for their complexions. Their nails may demand very little toning—their hair may be very easy to dress—but just the same they feel the need of proper toilet table accessories.

Making the toilet is sometimes an arduous duty. The dressing of the hair and the treatment of the scalp, skin, nails, etc., all require time and an expenditure of energy. These tasks are much easier when suitable instruments are at hand.

You may well consider your dressing table as a work bench. If you look upon it in this light, you will see the immediate necessity for the right sort of equipment. After you once enjoy a properly equipped dressing table you will wonder how you ever got along without one. You can convert arduous duties into pleasant tasks by having on your dressing table those little things which every woman needs.

Election Inquiry Is Begun at Pendleton

City Recorder Is Ordered by Circuit Court to Produce Ballot Boxes and Records Before Grand Jury.

Pendleton, Or., Jan. 21. — Indicating that the grand jury intends probing alleged election frauds as well as disturbances following the December election, City Recorder Fitzgerald was summoned by special order of the circuit court today to produce before the grand jury sealed ballot boxes containing ballots and records of election. Charges have been made of illegal voting. No report is expected for several days.

Railway and County Reach Agreement

New Steel Bridge at Wenatchee Now Certain; Great Northern Gives Approaches and Will Pay $6000.

Wenatchee, Wash., Jan. 21.—The last obstacle to the immediate building of the long-expected steel bridge across the Wenatchee river was removed at a conference between Great Northern railway officials and the county commissioners, at which the railway granted right of way for approaches and agreed to pay the county $6000. The new bridge will eliminate a dangerous grade crossing.

The estimated cost of the bridge is $40,000. Bids are being advertised for and the contract will be awarded next month.

"You Look So Warm and Cozy in That Pretty Coat, Irene! Wish I Could Afford One!"

"Afford one. What do you mean by that, Esther? I suppose you mean that you wish you had the price of a new coat so that you could go downtown and buy one today.

"Well, you can do that, even if you've only five dollars or so to pay on it. And you'll get a coat just as nice as this one of mine. Why, to be perfectly frank, that's exactly how I managed to get a new coat now myself.

"I went to CHERRY'S, just as I always do. But this time I happened to strike a splendid sale of coats and suits, and so I paid very much less for my coat than I would have had to pay a week or so ago. I've seen some dandy sales since I've been going to CHERRY'S, but for timeliness and wonderful value this one beats them all.

"Why, Esther, it's not only uncomfortable—it's positively dangerous for you to be without a big, warm coat in this wintry weather! You're likely to catch your death of cold—but there's no reason why you need to run any risk.

"You'll pay a very moderate part of the price when you pick out your coat today, and then the rest can be disposed of BY THE WEEK, in easy installments. CHERRY'S have a lovely store at 289-291 Washington street, in the Pittock Block." (Adv.)
