

PORTLAND MEN WERE AMONG VICTIMS OF THE TUMWATER SLIDE

Some Members of G. N. Section Crew Were Thrown Into Wenatchee River.

Leavenworth, Wash., Feb. 12.—(P. N. S.)—Efforts are being made today to rescue the body of Tom Miller of Portland, a victim of the avalanche in Tumwater canyon which Wednesday took the lives of five members of a Great Northern section gang from the Wenatchee river. With a leg protruding from the water, Miller's body is caught in a log jam and all efforts yesterday to release it were ineffectual.

Because of the refusal of foreign laborers to enter the canyon to search for the missing or to clear the tracks, little was accomplished yesterday. A gang of laborers was brought from Spokane today and it is expected that the track will be clear some time Saturday.

One of the victims of the slide was identified yesterday as John Jeffries, a former Portland saloonkeeper. Jeffries' body was hurled into the river and has not been recovered. He leaves a wife and four children. Besides Miller and Jeffries, an unknown Greek, whose body is still buried beneath the snow, and K. Ithida, a Japanese, are known to have been killed. It is believed that a fifth man also perished.

Logger Is Crushed; Accident Is Fatal

Elmer Leonard, Aged 22, Son of Kelo Logging Contractor, Dies at Good Samaritan Hospital.

Crushed between logs in the Otterden camp near Kelo, Wash., yesterday morning, Elmer Leonard, aged 22 years, son of W. H. Leonard, a logging contractor of Kelo, died early this morning at the Good Samaritan hospital from his injuries. One leg was crushed and the lad was internally injured. Leonard went to work in the logging camp yesterday morning. The parents arrived in Portland last night and saw the young man before he died. The body will be taken to Kelo, probably this afternoon, for interment.

Harbor Lumbermen Want Rates Kept

Meeting at Aberdeen Adopts Resolutions Urging Interstate Commerce Commission to Stand Pat. Aberdeen, Wash., Feb. 12.—At a meeting of Grays Harbor lumbermen

last night, action was taken to meet the position taken by Portland, to keep the old tariff rates between Portland and Utah points favorable to Portland, which the Interstate Commerce Commission recently decided to apply also to Grays Harbor cities. All the lumber manufacturers have joined in a protest to the Interstate Commerce commission to any change from its recent declaration. This meeting was preliminary to a general meeting this afternoon when resolutions were adopted to be forwarded to the Interstate Commerce commission.

Healer Struck by Trolley Car. San Francisco, Cal., Feb. 12.—(U. P.)—Mrs. Nellie Beighie, a healer, 60 years old, was probably fatally injured early today by being run down by a trolley car in the center of the city.
