

INCOME TAX QUEST IS NOW UNDER WAY; 3000 HERE ARE HIT

March 1 Final Day for Submission of Declarations—Delinquent June 30.

BIGGER COLLECTION DUE

Collector Miller Looks For Faster Task This Year Than Last, With Agents Chasing Delinquent Ones.

Three thousand Portland people are getting ready to pay the government as on income.

Statements Due March 1. These statements of income must be filed with the collector before March 1.

The task of collecting the income tax this year will be easier than last year.

These statements of income must be filed with the collector before March 1.

These statements of income must be filed with the collector before March 1.

These statements of income must be filed with the collector before March 1.

These statements of income must be filed with the collector before March 1.

These statements of income must be filed with the collector before March 1.

These statements of income must be filed with the collector before March 1.

These statements of income must be filed with the collector before March 1.

These statements of income must be filed with the collector before March 1.

These statements of income must be filed with the collector before March 1.

These statements of income must be filed with the collector before March 1.

These statements of income must be filed with the collector before March 1.

These statements of income must be filed with the collector before March 1.

These statements of income must be filed with the collector before March 1.

These statements of income must be filed with the collector before March 1.

These statements of income must be filed with the collector before March 1.

These statements of income must be filed with the collector before March 1.

These statements of income must be filed with the collector before March 1.

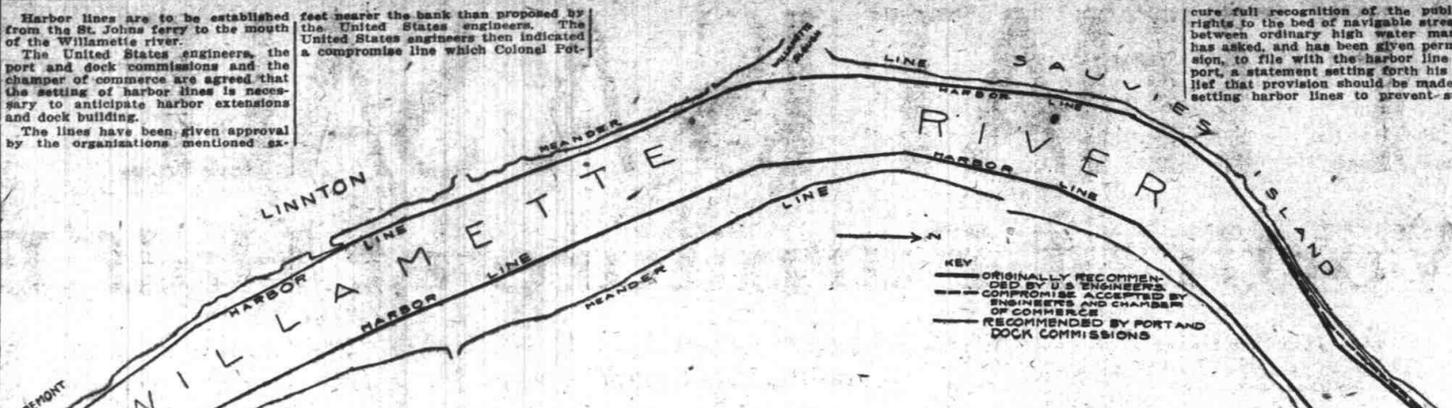

These statements of income must be filed with the collector before March 1.

These statements of income must be filed with the collector before March 1.

These statements of income must be filed with the collector before March 1.

These statements of income must be filed with the collector before March 1.

HARBOR LINE EXTENSION TO KEEP PACE WITH GROWTH OF PORT

Harbor Lines to Be Established from St. John's Ferry to Mouth of Willamette. Map shows harbor lines as recommended by United States engineers and approved by Chamber of Commerce.

At its next meeting, should all parties agree, it was said, the harbor lines can be confirmed much sooner.

The width between the proposed harbor lines averages about 1400 feet. It was said, except at the narrow point, which is about 1100 feet.

Remedy company, veterinary proprietary medicine. Article 35—February 4—Portland Lined Oil works, Inwood oil, etc.

Article 36—February 5—J. P. Rasmussen & Co., paints and oils. Article 37—February 5—Smith Signal company, automobile safety first signals.

Article 38—February 6—George Lawrence company, harness and saddle manufacturers. Article 39—February 6—David M. Dunne company, paints and varnishes.

Article 40—February 6—Lowengart & Co., millinery. Article 41—February 7—American Kitting Block Manufacturing company, patent fire kindling blocks.

Article 42—February 8—Halverson company, electrical heaters, sterilizers, etc. Article 43—February 9—Brownfield Woolen Mills, men's clothing.

Article 44—February 10—Fisher, Thorpe & Co., paints. Article 45—February 11—A. Clark Saddlery company, saddles.

Article 46—February 12—Luckel, King & Cake Soap company, soap. Article 47—February 13—Theodore Bergmann Shoe Manufacturing company, boots and shoes.

Article 48—February 14—F. E. Coulter, violins. Article 49—February 15—Central Door Lumber company, paints, sashes, etc.

Article 50—February 17—Zan Bros., brooms. The series passed the half hundred mark February 17.

These articles treat in an informative way with Portland's manufacturers and industries.

Because of their educational character and because they point out that "nothing is the matter with Portland," they have found great favor.

Many of these articles have been received by the Journal.

These articles treat in an informative way with Portland's manufacturers and industries.

Because of their educational character and because they point out that "nothing is the matter with Portland," they have found great favor.

Many of these articles have been received by the Journal.

These articles treat in an informative way with Portland's manufacturers and industries.

Because of their educational character and because they point out that "nothing is the matter with Portland," they have found great favor.

Many of these articles have been received by the Journal.

These articles treat in an informative way with Portland's manufacturers and industries.

Because of their educational character and because they point out that "nothing is the matter with Portland," they have found great favor.

Many of these articles have been received by the Journal.

These articles treat in an informative way with Portland's manufacturers and industries.

Because of their educational character and because they point out that "nothing is the matter with Portland," they have found great favor.

JOURNAL INDUSTRIAL ARTICLES WINNING GENERAL APPROVAL

Series of Writeups Call Attention to Manufacturing Plants of the City.

Late in December, December 23, to be exact, the Journal began publication of a series of articles entitled "Nothing is the Matter With Portland."

These articles treat in an informative way with Portland's manufacturers and industries.

Because of their educational character and because they point out that "nothing is the matter with Portland," they have found great favor.

Many of these articles have been received by the Journal.

These articles treat in an informative way with Portland's manufacturers and industries.

Because of their educational character and because they point out that "nothing is the matter with Portland," they have found great favor.

Many of these articles have been received by the Journal.

These articles treat in an informative way with Portland's manufacturers and industries.

Because of their educational character and because they point out that "nothing is the matter with Portland," they have found great favor.

Many of these articles have been received by the Journal.

These articles treat in an informative way with Portland's manufacturers and industries.

Because of their educational character and because they point out that "nothing is the matter with Portland," they have found great favor.

Many of these articles have been received by the Journal.

These articles treat in an informative way with Portland's manufacturers and industries.

Because of their educational character and because they point out that "nothing is the matter with Portland," they have found great favor.

Many of these articles have been received by the Journal.

These articles treat in an informative way with Portland's manufacturers and industries.

Because of their educational character and because they point out that "nothing is the matter with Portland," they have found great favor.

Many of these articles have been received by the Journal.

These articles treat in an informative way with Portland's manufacturers and industries.

Premature Spring Weather Is a Delight Balmey Period Ushered in Valentine Day

For nearly two weeks Portland has experienced sort of a left handed Indian summer.

Property speaking it is an early and premature spring.

It began February 14, being given to the people of Portland as a valentine.

Every day since the sun has shone. It has been warm enough to dispense with overcoats part of the day.

The thermometer has hovered around the half century mark during the sunshine and the nights have seldom been below 40.

The days have not been warm but they have been almost balmy and the general atmosphere has been spring-like.

Spring is a month earlier than usual and while not unprecedented the weather of the past fortnight seems remarkable to many after the terrible storm of a month ago.

Nevertheless Portland people are not marveling but are appreciating and making the most of it. Tennis players are out on the courts, the marble season is approaching and, well, the fans are beginning to talk baseball. Roads are beginning to dry out and the season of motor tours is at hand.

Portland is having weather that approximates the ideal.

the transaction illegal. Residuary legatees held that the sale was legal, and the county and circuit courts upheld this contention.

Dissatisfied beneficiaries, through their attorney, M. G. Munly, yesterday gave notice of appeal to the supreme court.

The commissioners ordered the extension of the Base Line road, which is shown as No. 549, and which has been laid up on account of protests of property owners, opened according to the field notes and plat of the county surveyor of Multnomah county.

A copy of W. A. Estel's letter submitted to the board containing an estimate showing that it will cost approximately $775 to erect calls for the insane in the county jail and also stating that no allowance was made in his budget for this work, but if the sheriff has the money in his budget and if agreeable to the board he would proceed with the work, was forwarded to the sheriff.

The petition of Dr. S. D. Briggs of Fairview, Or., to the board requesting the P. R. L. & P. Co. to remove gates on Osburn avenue and install cattle guards, was referred to the roadmaster.

The report of the roadmaster regarding the bill of Leopold & Voelkel for $28.75 for repairs to the transit belonging to H. Bell, employed in road department, stating that it has been the policy of the road department to not assume responsibility for injuries to transits owned by the men handling them, was placed on file and a copy forwarded to Mr. Bell.

A warrant for $5.50 was ordered drawn on the county treasurer for filing fee for Antonie Blake in the matter of guardianship of Foster and Ralph Blake, minors.

The petition of C. A. Farlow and others was presented to the board of county road viewers of Multnomah county and board of county road viewers are asked to meet in March so as to proceed to survey, view and lay out said road and make due and legal report to the board of their findings in connection with the proposed road.

The request of Oscar Johnson and others for the changing of boundary lines between precincts number 318 1/2 and 319, was granted.

COURT TO BE ASKED TO INTERPRET WILL OF RICHARD WILSON

Supreme Court to Settle Vexing Issues Already Passed On by Lower Courts.

The supreme court of Oregon will be asked to interpret the will of Richard Wilson, who died in this city in 1913, leaving an estate valued at more than $688,000.

Several contests already have resulted over the terms of the will and the question of the highest court of the state will be called upon to settle, has been decided in both the county and circuit courts of Multnomah county.

Among the bequests of Mr. Wilson was a block of mining stock, the proceeds from the sale of this stock, to religious and charitable institutions of Portland, Spokane, Missoula, Mont., and Wallace, Idaho.

After apportioning a certain percentage of the money derived from the sale of this stock to various institutions, and after other bequests, the will provides that all the rest of the estate shall go to the Society of Jesus. It was this provision of the will that brought about a difference of opinion between residuary legatees and other beneficiaries.

Waiter Mackay owned an equal share with Mr. Wilson in certain mining property in the Coeur d'Alene district of Idaho. This property was sold for $180,000 and the money divided equally between the two owners.

The sale was made without the formality of a directors' meeting, and no formal record of the transaction was made on the minute books of the mining company.

After the death of Mr. Wilson in May, 1913, the religious institutions that had been beneficiaries under the will sought to have the sale of this property set aside on the ground that the lack of records made the transaction illegal. Residuary legatees held that the sale was legal, and the county and circuit courts upheld this contention.

Dissatisfied beneficiaries, through their attorney, M. G. Munly, yesterday gave notice of appeal to the supreme court.

The commissioners ordered the extension of the Base Line road, which is shown as No. 549, and which has been laid up on account of protests of property owners, opened according to the field notes and plat of the county surveyor of Multnomah county.

A copy of W. A. Estel's letter submitted to the board containing an estimate showing that it will cost approximately $775 to erect calls for the insane in the county jail and also stating that no allowance was made in his budget for this work, but if the sheriff has the money in his budget and if agreeable to the board he would proceed with the work, was forwarded to the sheriff.

The petition of Dr. S. D. Briggs of Fairview, Or., to the board requesting the P. R. L. & P. Co. to remove gates on Osburn avenue and install cattle guards, was referred to the roadmaster.

The report of the roadmaster regarding the bill of Leopold & Voelkel for $28.75 for repairs to the transit belonging to H. Bell, employed in road department, stating that it has been the policy of the road department to not assume responsibility for injuries to transits owned by the men handling them, was placed on file and a copy forwarded to Mr. Bell.

A warrant for $5.50 was ordered drawn on the county treasurer for filing fee for Antonie Blake in the matter of guardianship of Foster and Ralph Blake, minors.

The petition of C. A. Farlow and others was presented to the board of county road viewers of Multnomah county and board of county road viewers are asked to meet in March so as to proceed to survey, view and lay out said road and make due and legal report to the board of their findings in connection with the proposed road.

The request of Oscar Johnson and others for the changing of boundary lines between precincts number 318 1/2 and 319, was granted.

The request of Oscar Johnson and others for the changing of boundary lines between precincts number 318 1/2 and 319, was granted.

The request of Oscar Johnson and others for the changing of boundary lines between precincts number 318 1/2 and 319, was granted.

The request of Oscar Johnson and others for the changing of boundary lines between precincts number 318 1/2 and 319, was granted.

The request of Oscar Johnson and others for the changing of boundary lines between precincts number 318 1/2 and 319, was granted.

The request of Oscar Johnson and others for the changing of boundary lines between precincts number 318 1/2 and 319, was granted.

PREPAREDNESS PLAN GIVEN INDORSEMENT BY LUMBER DEALERS

President Wilson's Program Approved at Convention Held Here.

Hearty indorsement of the president's program of preparedness and national defense was voiced by the delegates to the thirtieth annual convention of the Western Retail Lumbermen's association Friday afternoon in a formal resolution on the eve of final adjournment.

The speeches all through the convention had fairly rung with the same sentiment.

The convention elected the following officers: President, W. B. Dean, Chico, Cal.; vice president, I. C. Kjosness, Lewiston, Idaho; secretary, A. L. Porter, Spokane; directors, O. H. Barr, Whittier, Cal.; J. C. Cuneo, Modesto, Cal.

At the close of the lumbermen's convention, the Lumbermen's Mutual society held a brief session, choosing the following officers:

President, E. E. Robbins, Richville, Wash.; vice president, F. B. Bartlett, Lewiston, Idaho; secretary treasurer, A. L. Porter, Spokane; directors, J. G. Lane, Lewiston, Mont.; F. B. Bartlett and J. G. Martin, Danes.

Here are some of the fancy steps trodden Friday night by the lumbermen's convention delegates at the ball room, which followed the convention's close: The Board walk, the Lumbering Gait, the Shingling shuffle, the Rafter glide, The Logged-off strut. Such an array of characteristic steps was almost flooding, in fact.

The ball followed a banquet presided over by A. Whisnant at the Chamber of Commerce. Those who responded to the call were Robert Anderson of Salt Lake City; J. B. Thomson of Basin, Wyo.; C. G. Bowerman of Lewiston, Idaho; W. B. Dean, new president of the Western Lumbermen's association; J. M. Crawford, retiring president; C. C. Chapman, Fred H. Gilman, George M. Cornwall and James G. Walker, about 100 lumbermen and their wives participated.

George E. Hardy is expected this week.

George E. Hardy, executive secretary of the Chamber of Commerce, is expected home sometime this week from his extended journey through the east.

He attended the convention of the Chamber of Commerce of the United States at Washington and previous to that he visited cities of the south. He expects to stop at Tucson, Arizona, on his way west, to see his son who is living there for the benefit of his health.

George E. Hardy, executive secretary of the Chamber of Commerce, is expected home sometime this week from his extended journey through the east.

He attended the convention of the Chamber of Commerce of the United States at Washington and previous to that he visited cities of the south. He expects to stop at Tucson, Arizona, on his way west, to see his son who is living there for the benefit of his health.

George E. Hardy, executive secretary of the Chamber of Commerce, is expected home sometime this week from his extended journey through the east.

He attended the convention of the Chamber of Commerce of the United States at Washington and previous to that he visited cities of the south. He expects to stop at Tucson, Arizona, on his way west, to see his son who is living there for the benefit of his health.

George E. Hardy, executive secretary of the Chamber of Commerce, is expected home sometime this week from his extended journey through the east.

He attended the convention of the Chamber of Commerce of the United States at Washington and previous to that he visited cities of the south. He expects to stop at Tucson, Arizona, on his way west, to see his son who is living there for the benefit of his health.

George E. Hardy, executive secretary of the Chamber of Commerce, is expected home sometime this week from his extended journey through the east.

He attended the convention of the Chamber of Commerce of the United States at Washington and previous to that he visited cities of the south. He expects to stop at Tucson, Arizona, on his way west, to see his son who is living there for the benefit of his health.

George E. Hardy, executive secretary of the Chamber of Commerce, is expected home sometime this week from his extended journey through the east.

He attended the convention of the Chamber of Commerce of the United States at Washington and previous to that he visited cities of the south. He expects to stop at Tucson, Arizona, on his way west, to see his son who is living there for the benefit of his health.

George E. Hardy, executive secretary of the Chamber of Commerce, is expected home sometime this week from his extended journey through the east.

WORKINGMEN'S CLUB CLOSES DOORS; MUCH GOOD WORK IS DONE

Improvement in Labor Market Real Cause of Discontinuing the Restort.

MANY MEN NOW AT WORK

Institution Furnished Meals for 5 Cents; Selling Baked Plan; Captain McClelland Manager.

The Working Men's club at 271 Front street closed last night.

It has been serving 5 cent meals largely to needy men, since November 4, 1914.

It closes now because there has been a material turn for the better in employment and because in the opinion of Ben Selling, its founder and patron, there is no longer need of its services to one man, a type of many.

Since the date of opening, said Captain J. G. McClelland, manager of the club, yesterday, 398,060 paid-for meals have been served, and between $600 and 10,000 meals have been served free.

Employment is found. Employment was found for several hundred men by the club's manager prior to the reorganization of the municipal free employment bureau.

The income from meals has not, of course, met the operating costs and Mr. Selling has paid the deficit.

At a time of financial depression when many men were in the city and out of work the Working Men's club was opened. A man could there secure for a nickel a sufficient supply of wholesome and nourishing food.

Captain McClelland, the manager, seemed to have a genius for serving the most food for the least money that was on a par with Mr. Selling's philanthropy in financing the work.

Good Results Obtained. There was room, too, for the men to congregate and to engage in innocent pastimes as they rested between the periods of their tramping the streets looking for jobs. What this meant to one man, a type of many, was related yesterday by Captain McClelland.

"He was well dressed and confident in manner; he stepped up to my desk briskly and grasped my hand as does a successful man. You don't remember me?" he asked. "It is no wonder. But last winter I was on the bum. I had no money, but a type of many was enabled to eke out my small sum by eating here, and because I paid for what I got I didn't feel I was receiving charity. Through the club I got a good job finally and I am holding it. I want to say, God bless you."

When writing or calling on advertisers, please mention The Journal.

When writing or calling on advertisers, please mention The Journal.

When writing or calling on advertisers, please mention The Journal.

When writing or calling on advertisers, please mention The Journal.

When writing or calling on advertisers, please mention The Journal.

When writing or calling on advertisers, please mention The Journal.

When writing or calling on advertisers, please mention The Journal.

When writing or calling on advertisers, please mention The Journal.

When writing or calling on advertisers, please mention The Journal.

The ETERNAL LOVER

By Edgar Rice Burroughs

Author of "Tarzan of the Apes," "Under the Moons of Mars," "At Earth's Core," "The Man Without a Soul," Etc.

In The Sunday Journal Fiction Magazine, Commencing

NEXT SUNDAY

HIRAM GILL ATTACKS WIFE OF MAN WHO IS POLITICAL OPPONENT

Feeling Is That Speech Lost Him Votes and May Defeat Him for Mayoralty.

Seattle, Wash., Feb. 25.—Hurling epithets after epithets upon the head of Austin E. Griffiths, candidate for mayor, calling him a "coward," charging him with bringing down Mrs. Griffiths to the "level of a street walker" in this campaign, declaring that Griffiths married his wife because she was a million dollar heiress, summing up to his aid countless expressions of abuse to heap upon Griffiths, Mayor Hiram G. Gill at noon Saturday at the Liberty theatre delivered his first speech since the primaries and created the biggest sensation in the history of Seattle politics.

Mrs. Griffiths has been one of the active workers in her husband's campaign.

"Why did the coward quit? He's a millionaire. He owns the Westlake hotel and it was raided too," said Mayor Gill.

The attack on Mrs. Griffiths, it is felt here, has lost Gill thousands of votes, and it is freely predicted tonight that he will be defeated.

Mr. Griffiths tonight issued a statement in which he said:

"The soul attack made by Mayor Gill on my wife was unexpected, even from him. People of Seattle know Hiram Charles Gill and thousands of good men and women know my wife, the mother of my children."

"When he likens her to a street-walker, he has stepped to such filth that no answer in mere words from me is necessary."

Japanese Acquitted Of Killing Tobinata

A. Nakano Found Not Guilty After Jury Deliberates Seven Hours—Self-Defense Plea Made.

A. Nakano was found not guilty by a jury at 11 o'clock last night of the murder of M. Tobinata. The verdict was returned after deliberation for more than seven hours.

This is the second time Nakano has been tried for the same crime, the first jury standing seven to five for acquittal.

Tobinata was shot to death at a Japanese entertainment in Arion hall early in January. Attorneys Hurlbut and Layton for the defense made a plea of self-defense. Two bullets of different caliber were found in Tobinata's body, and it was shown by the defense that Nakano could not have fired both of these.

John Collier, deputy district attorney, conducted the prosecution.

When writing or calling on advertisers, please mention The Journal.

When writing or calling on advertisers, please mention The Journal.

When writing or calling on advertisers, please mention The Journal.

When writing or calling on advertisers, please mention The Journal.

When writing or calling on advertisers, please mention The Journal.

When writing or calling on advertisers, please mention The Journal.

When writing or calling on advertisers, please mention The Journal.

When writing or calling on advertisers, please mention The Journal.

When writing or calling on advertisers, please mention The Journal.

When writing or calling on advertisers, please mention The Journal.

When writing or calling on advertisers, please mention The Journal.

When writing or calling on advertisers, please mention The Journal.

When writing or calling on advertisers, please mention The Journal.

WORKINGMEN'S CLUB CLOSES DOORS; MUCH GOOD WORK IS DONE

Improvement in Labor Market Real Cause of Discontinuing the Restort.

MANY MEN NOW AT WORK

Institution Furnished Meals for 5 Cents; Selling Baked Plan; Captain McClelland Manager.