The Leap Year Birthday. Corvallis, Or., Feb. 26,-To the Editor of The Journal-In answer to Mrs. Agnes B. Heckard's conundrum regarding "A Leap Year Birthday," I will state that her age on February 29, 1916, will be 56, providing she counts the day on which she was born her first birthday. But if she counts 14 birth-days besides the one on which she was Domestic Pelicity. The wife lived alone for 15 years. One cool evening in the fall she was sitting by the kitchen stove when the door opened and her husband walked in, carrying an armful of even wood. He had greatly changed, but she knew him, and was pleased that he had come back. She had long wanted to make up, but had no opportunity, as her husband never wrote, and she didn't know where he was.

She thought it her duty as a wife, however, to represent the reserved.

She thought it her duty as a wife, howe reprimend him a little for his fault; missive after the reconciliation. So she said to him:

"Well, you were a long time about it."
This made the husband mad again so I went away and nover came back. "Martial Relations." &

Judge Galloway today dismissed the divorce suit of J. W. Evans against Alice Evans upon the promise of the couple to forgive all former disagreements and to again assume the martial rela-tions. They will reside at Greely, Colo.—Salem Capital Journal, Making the Best of It. From the Pittsburg Post. "Ex-Congressman Flubdub wants little writeup," remarked the magazine
