HUMANE SOCIETY TO BEGIN OPERATING DOG POUND OF CITY MAY 1

Council by Vote of Three to Two Turns Over Management of Institution.

AGREEMENT IS REACHED

Society Will Receive 80 Per Cent of Income; City to Loan the Society $4000 for Erecting Buildings.

By a vote of three to two the city council today ordered the municipal pound turned over to the Oregon Humane society. The society is to take charge May 1 and thereafter will receive 80 per cent of all dog license fees and pound receipts.

Mayor Albee and Commissioners Baker and Dieck voted for the ordinance authorizing an agreement between the city and the society while Commissioners Bigelow and Daly opposed the measure.

The ordinance provides that the city shall advance $4000 to the society to enable it to erect buildings and establish the pound. This money is to be returned by April 30, 1917.

The charter was amended last June to allow the city to turn the pound over to the society and the action today is the result. The receipts from dog licenses and pound fees for this year were estimated at $14,000 and expenditures at $6000.

As soon as the society takes charge it proposes to erect its own buildings and put in modern equipment for the handling of all animals impounded. It is probable that Boyd Welch, poundmaster, and his two deputies will not be retained when the society takes charge.

The pound now operated by the city is located in the city barn, Sixteenth and Jefferson streets.

PEDERSON GRANTED TIME

Auditorium Contract Must Be Signed by Saturday.

Hans Pederson, Seattle contractor for the proposed public auditorium, is to be given until Saturday to sign the contract for the building of the auditorium. He telegraphed Commissioner Baker this morning that he could not get to Portland before Friday or Saturday and the council decided to extend the time for signing. In his message he says he will be ready to begin work on the building as soon as the work of excavating is completed.

EXTENSION PETITION DENIED

Action Follows Report of Dock Engineer.

Petitions for the extension of East Water street from East Pine to East Ankeny streets through property formerly occupied by the Standard Box & Lumber company were denied by the council today following the reading of reports from the engineer of the dock commission and the city engineer. The extension of the street had been sought by members of the East Side Business Men's club.

Joseph Paquet Protests.

Consideration of the claim of J. G. Lundstrom for extras on the Sunnyside sewer work, totalling $4500, was postponed by the council today until City Attorney La Roche has time to investigate. Lundstrom, representing the Alexis Contract company, which rebuilt the sewer outlet, contends that he had to do extra work under the contract. Commissioner Dieck has recommended $1865 for extras. Joseph Paquet, one of those assessed for the cost of the reconstruction, protests.

Printers' Claim Held Up.

The claim of the Dunham Printing company for $1854.50 for printing the mayor's message and annual reports for 1914 was held up by the council today at the request of Commissioner Daly, who contended the specifications had not been followed and 50 more pages than necessary had been used.

Sewer Improvements Needed.

With the settling of a large sewer at Thirty-third and Knott streets, extensive improvements are necessary to the pavement. The department of public works learned late yesterday that the conduit was settling. The council is to make a trip to the scene this afternoon.

Assessment Plans Postponed.

Plans for the settlement of assessments for the cost of improving Seventeenth street from Vaughn to Marshall streets, which have been in litigation for 11 years, were postponed by the council until next Wednesday.

L. R. Alderman Raps Critics of Schools

Detractors Speak Without Knowledge of Their Subject, Says Superintendent, Addressing Rotary Club.

"Portland's public schools have critics who speak without knowledge of their subject," accused L. R. Alderman, superintendent of schools, in an address before the Rotary club yesterday afternoon.

"Without reference to or apparent thought of the ideals and aims of the schools, they will fall upon such a subject as the number of supervisors, when as a matter of fact, Portland has fewer supervisors in proportion to the number of pupils, than almost any other city of the country.

He said that never in the school history of Portland has there been more faithful effort to teach the fundamentals of education.

OLD SOLDIER'S DOG SPARED FROM GOING TO THE CITY POUND

Veteran's Story Wins Friends and Even Officer Who Made Arrest "Chips In."

Brightheart is a shepherd dog and John Spillman named him so because for the past few months he is the only living thing that has brought joy in his heart.

They have shared the knocks together that can only come to an old soldier, incapacitated for work, but gets a meager pension from his government.

John Spillman and Brightheart have been living together in an abandoned house at 701 Holland street, making the pension do for both.

Brightheart roamed about blissfully ignorant that a license tag should be hanging from his neck.

Yesterday the old veteran was arrested for keeping a dog without a license.

John Spillman hadn't $3 and to lose Brightheart to the poundmaster would make the world black as could be.

In municipal court this morning Spillman told his story, how he fought for the United States in the Indian wars, serving from 1868 to 1878; how he campaigned against the Apaches and the Sioux; how he served his country in the Philippines from 1900 to 1902; how last June he found Brightheart, a gangling, awkward pup; how the shack in which he lived at Willbridge burned down this summer and he received burns which make it impossible for him to work; and how, now, he was to lose Brightheart.

The old man had barely finished his recital when Judge Langguth announced that he would continue the case indefinitely, and called for volunteers to raise enough money to pay for the license.

Twenty men in the courtroom, attorneys, policemen and spectators, jumped at the chance of contributing, and the necessary $3 was procured from the first six in line.

The policeman who made the arrest chipped in.

Jailbreak Followed By Police Shakeup

Jailer Cameron Transferred to a Beat as Result of Daring Escape of Prisoner From City Jail.

The daring escape of Lester L. Satterwhite from the city jail Monday morning precipitated a small shake-up in the police department, which took effect today.

Chief of Police John Clark reprimanded Frank L. Cameron, jailer in charge of the department, through which Satterwhite escaped, and this morning ordered Cameron on a beat.

Patrolman Webster, who was a jailer for a period of two years prior to 1913, was given Cameron's position. Cameron took a beat in South Portland. He supplanted Patrolman John W. Morelock, who took Webster's place as desk officer at police headquarters. The changes may be permanent.

Satterwhite is still enjoying his freedom.

Must Remove Dairy.

Mrs. Lizzie Goldstein is to have three months in which to remove a dairy operated by her near East Twenty-first and Going streets, according to a decision reached by the council today.

'BEER POWDER' INQUIRY TURNED OVER TO THE GOVERNMENT BY EVANS

District Attorney Holds That Product Is Merely Way to Evade Dry Law.

WARRANTS ISSUED TODAY

Three Men Are Charged With Allowing Others to Use Names to Secure Liquor.

District Attorney Evans has turned over his "powdered beer" inquiry to federal officials, in the hope of stopping the shipment of "dry" liquor through the mails. Under the provision of the prohibition law, Mr. Evans says, it is illegal to sell powders from which intoxicants can be made.

A Cincinnati firm has been sending "powdered beer" in near wholesale lots to Oregon and advertising the product as an easy way of evading the prohibition laws of the state. The advertising literature of this firm declares that the intoxicating beverage made from the powder can be sold in Oregon without interference by the officers.

Following the conviction of E. S. Beaupre and Frank Robertson for selling whiskey, warrants were issued today for the arrest of R. H. Tobyne, Thomas Hayes and John Hoff of 24 Third street. Tobyne, Hayes and Hoff told the officers that they had permitted Beaupre and Robertson to use their names in sending out of the state for liquor. They also told how the two bootleggers had mixed whiskey, alcohol, water and sugar and made four gallons of liquor out of every one gallon imported.

The district attorney is of the opinion that these men can be convicted for misuse of their liquor shipping privileges.

TO OPERATE COUNTY QUARRY

County Prisoners to Join City Prisoners in Work.

Twenty-five county prisoners will be sent to Kelly Butte quarry tomorrow to join city prisoners now at work there. The additional force was necessitated by the failure of the city to make good its promise to furnish enough men to keep the county quarry operating at its full capacity.

Kelly Butte was opened more than three weeks ago under an agreement between the city and county. The city was to furnish men to operate the plant and to buy all surplus road material produced. The county has full supervision of the plant, but the city pays for the board of all its prisoners.

The county jail "boarders" will be reduced to 116 men when the 25 workers are sent to Kelly Butte.

Toll Sheet Will Be Amended.

If the tolls originally proposed for the interstate bridge had been adopted by the county commissioners without amendment, four and five-passenger automobiles would have been exempt from payment for crossing the span between Portland and Vancouver. The "joker" was not discovered in the toll sheet until it was called to the attention of the commissioners today. Objection of the Portland Railway, Light & Power company to paying 3 cents a passenger for all persons carried over the bridge was responsible for the discovery. The toll sheet will be amended.

Riddell Decree Is Signed.

Circuit Judge Davis today signed the decree granting a divorce to Mrs. Marie Riddell from Alexander G. Riddell. Mrs. Riddell had filed a cross-complaint to her husband's suit. Mr. Riddell did not contest the issue. Property settlement has been adjusted.

Would Put Ban on Auto Headlights

Contending that powerful headlights on automobiles are dangerous, the public safety commission is to recommended to the city council that the traffic ordinance be amended to prohibit lights on machines where the rays are thrown on the ground more than 150 feet ahead.

The commission also decided to ask the council to permit the installation of any improved safety-first signalling devices on automobiles.

Makes Promise Good.

W. K. Smith was given promise of a parole if he would go out and indicate to the police the man who was peddling liquor in the north end. As a result John Kinkade was arrested at Second and Burnside streets by Patrolmen Russell and Schum. Kinkade will be tried tomorrow in the municipal court.

Opera "Fra Diavolo" Will Be Presented

Three Act Comedy to Be Initial Offering of Portland Grand Opera Association Early in May.

The three act comic opera "Fra Diavolo" was chosen by the Portland Grand Opera association in meeting last night for the association's initial presentation some time early in May. The words of the opera are by Scribe; the music by Daniel Francois Auber.

There are eight principal parts; six male and two female. The scenes are laid in the Italian city, Terracina, and Italian mountains.

Candidates for principal parts and chorus places will be examined by a vocal committee Friday evening.

The opera will probably be put on in the Eleventh street playhouse, the name of which may be changed to the Opera House.

London, March 8.—(I. N. S.)—The capture by the Russians of the Persian city of Cola, 27 miles west of Kermanshah, is announced in an official statement issued by the Petrograd war office. This success represents further important steps in the attainment of the Russian plan to drive through western Persia and over the frontier to take a hand in the Mesopotamian fighting and thus relieve the British at Kut-el-Amara. Cola lies on the road from Hamadan to Bagdad.

The Russian statement follows:

"In the Caucasus we continue to drive back the Turks from Mapravi, capturing another gun.

"In Persia we occupied Cola, 27 miles west of Kermanshah."

Astoria Naval Base Plan to Be Pressed

Tentative Program of Preparedness Conference to Be Held at Spokane Is Received Here.

Plans for a general conference of public organizations of the northwest in the interest of preparedness for national defense to be held at Spokane, March 27 and 28, include a strong movement to induce congress to establish a naval base at the mouth of the Columbia river.

Wallace R. Struble, who is managing Astoria's campaign to have a naval base established near there, has received a tentative program for the Spokane conference from Cordon C. Carbaley, managing secretary of the Spokane Chamber of Commerce. He suggests that the program include: "The Necessity for Adequate Protection for the North Pacific States"; Military Preparedness, Both as to Transportation by Rail and Highway"; "Military Training in Schools"; "Industrial Preparedness"; "The Chamberlain Bill for the Australian System," and discussion of present military and naval resources of the United States.

Works Says He Will Not Support Wilson

He Announces He Will Not Stand by Wilson If He Keeps Up Present Course; He Wants Embargo on Arms.

Washington, March 8.—(I. N. S.)—Red hot reply to charges connecting him with a German organization which sought the passage of a resolution warning Americans to stay off of armed belligerent merchantmen was voiced here today by Senator John D. Works, Republican, of California.

"The United States," said Works, "has never been neutral in this war. I do not need the aid of any German organization to assist in guiding my course.

"This government should put an embargo on all shipments of arms and it ought to keep her citizens off of armed merchantmen.

"The people should stand by the president only so long as his policy insures peace, safety and the honor of the country. If the president persists in a course which will lead to war without just cause or reason, no good and patriotic citizen will or should stand by him."

EASTERN CAPITAL IS SAID TO FIGTH SHY OF OREGON UTILITIES

New York Financiers Don't Like Oregon's Treatment, Declares Guy Talbot.

MONEY PLENTIFUL EAST

Head of Power Company Returns With an Optimistic View of Certain Conditions in This State.

New York financiers have plenty of money that is fairly clamoring for investment. But they are not letting Oregon have any of it for investment in public utility companies, declared Guy W. Talbot this morning, because they do not like the way Oregon treats its utilities.

It was in rather a pessimistic mood that Mr. Talbot, who is president of the Pacific Power & Light Co., and the Portland Gas & Coke Co., returned this morning from a six weeks' business trip. He spent nearly four weeks around New York city, conferring with these financiers. But he came back with no prospect of any extension of service or construction of new plants.

"It was the same story re-enacted from last year," said Mr. Talbot. "I was in hopes that the sentiment had changed back there. But it had not. They told me that Oregon isn't giving the care it should to the utilities in which they already have invested and they do not care to risk any more."

Business generally, Mr. Talbot said, is on the boom throughout the east. While the war gave the impetus to all the manufacturing industries, the movement has now gone so far that it matters not whether the war ends or not, because the whole industrial fibre is quickened with life.

"There is plenty of money to be had in New York for manufactures and general investment," continued Mr. Talbot. "Even the public utilities in eastern cities are feeling the beneficial effects. The power companies are selling more energy than ever before because of the demand for it in manufacturing establishments. The trolley companies are not so quick to respond, but the gas, water and power properties were never in better condition or making more money."

Mr. Talbot left Portland January 27 and made a comprehensive trip including Washington, New York, Chicago and St. Paul and the industrial centers in between.

$760,000,000 for The Biggest Navy

Admiral Fletcher Says It Would Take That Much to Equal Great Britain's Sea Fighting Strength.

Washington, March 8.—(U. P.)—An expenditure of $760,000,000 will be necessary before the American navy can equal that of Great Britain, Admiral Fletcher told the house naval committee today.

He declared the navy's present strength would have to be tripled.

Commercial rivalry and not preparedness for conflict caused the present war, he declared.

Admiral Fletcher declared the submarine as a defensive weapon is ineffective, as a diver flotilla could be easily dirven into port by battleships and destroyers.

The modern battleship, he asserted, was the most desirable type of sea fighter.

Second Boat for The Lewiston Run

Instead of operating but one boat between Portland and Lewiston as planned, The Dalles-Columbia line announced this afternoon that it would place the J. N. Teal in service also, starting next Tuesday. The Twin Cities will sail tonight on its first trip and hereafter there will be two boats per week.

The decision to put the second vessel in service was occasioned by the heavy offerings of freight.

Switching Charges Arouse Grain Men

O-W. R. & N. to Make a Charge of $10 Car Switched Over the Steel Bridge: to Make Protest.

When the O-W. R. & N. company's new rate of $10 a car for switching cars over the steel bridge became known today the news broke like a howitzer shell over the heads of grain dealers.

The grain dealers had known nothing about the new switching charge until now. At a meeting of the Merchants' Exchange today noon a committee of three was appointed to carry a protest to the railroad company. On this committee are I. C. Sanford, George Westgate and J. H. Noyes.

A charge of $10 a car, the grain dealers pointed out, means about 25 cents a ton on all grain that would pass over the steel bridge.

It appears that the new rate has been put through the public service commission without attracting the attention of any of the Portland shippers and dealers. The new rate is being printed and will go into effect within a short time.

SAN FRANCISCO NOW LOOKING FOR TRADE IN COOS BAY DISTRICT

California Commercial Interests Also Planning to Run an Excursion Soon.

TO USE SHASTA ROUTE

Southern Neighbors Expecting to Reap Some Benefit From Willamette-Pacific Rail Connections.

San Francisco also is looking to the completion of the Willamette-Pacific railway from Eugene to North Bend and Marshfield as a new business opportunity, just as is Portland.

John M. Scott, general passenger agent of the Southern Pacific, returned today from California, where he learned that the San Francisco commercial interests are planning an excursion into the Coos Bay country as soon as the line is opened through under permanent schedule. This excursion will use the Shasta route to Eugene and across the mountains over the new line.

Mr. Scott announced the details of the temporary train service which will be put into effect soon after April 1. Trains will leave Eugene daily at 8 a. m., arriving at Gardiner at 11:50 a. m.; North Bend at 1:55, and Marshfield at 2:05. Returning, the train will leave Marshfield at 9:45 a. m., passing North Bend at 9:55, Gardiner at 1 p. m., and arriving at Eugene at 5. This connects with main line train reaching Portland at 10:15 p. m.

It will be some time before the big bridge can be finished across the Umpqua river, and in the meantime passengers will be ferried from Gardiner down the river and into and across the Umpqua.
