Washington High. By Marjory Rood.

T THE last meeting of the June, '16, class it was decided to omit the senior prom. This radical step is taken because proms during the last two years have not been successful.

A committee was elected by the class to select the style of printing to be used for the commencement invita-tions. Those elected were: Gladys Rogers, chairman; Virginia Wilson, Genie Black, Ted Peterson and Jack

The "refuse" committee of five met Thursday and elected for their chairman Clarence Jones.

Friday morning the committee of five called the large committee of fifty in the assembly, and the "clean up" plans for coming week were discussed

A large number of girls turned out for basket-ball. A great deal of ex-cellent material was found among the freshman girls. The offices of ager and captain were filled by Marie Tonseth and Minnie Pomeroy. Last term's coach, Roberta Downing, is resuming her duties for a time this term, to "break in" the new material. The future meetings will be held every" Tuesday in the gym, from 2:30 till 4 p. m. The games are lively and interesting.

Tuesday morning Frank Branch Riley addressed the assembly on the subject "Pioneer Memorial and the Vista House."

Ted Peterson, the new president of the student body, made his first speech before the school Tuesday.

The February '17 class held a meeting Tuesday afternoon in room 10. J. F. Johnston, member of the faculty. was elected as honorary member of the class. A pin committee, consisting of Charles Streube, chairman, Mabel Met-calf, Bernice Krouse, John Shefler and George Stanton, was appointed by "Spud" Norman, president. Gretchen Dickenson was appointed by the presi dent as chairman of a committee to choose the class colors. It was voted that the regular meeting day be changed from Tuesday to Monday.

Wednesday morning the assembly was considered as an "Irish" program, in honor of the following St. Patrick's day. Irish folk songs were sung.

The June '16 girls were kept very busy Wodnesday, Thursday and Friday making and selling sandwiches and candy. Each senior class tries to outdo all former sandwich records, and the June '16 class did its share of record breaking. The proceeds of the sale are to help lessen the individual expense of graduation bouquets.

The Neakahni held the largest and best program it has had in years last Wednesday afternoon. The program was well attended by society members and outsiders.

The first number was a duet by Ruth Thayer, soprano, and Mildred Fennemore, contraito. As the program was propriate. The next number was a violin solo by Bernardine Grebel, ac-companied by Alice Gobilts The ac-
