ROOSEVELT'S PRIVATE SECRETARY SENTENCED FOR ASSAULT IN CAFE

John McGrath Claims He Was Not in Brawl but Attempted to Protect a Woman.

New York, March 29.—(I. N. S.)—A man who said he was John McGrath of East Seventy-ninth street and reluctantly described himself as private secretary to Colonel Roosevelt, was sentenced yesterday to 30 days in the workhouse in the court of special sessions in Brooklyn. McGrath was charged with assault.

The complaint against McGrath was made by Charles Lighte Jr., of Eastern Parkway. Lighte charged that the defendant assaulted him in a cafe. Mrs. Emma Lighte, the complainant's wife, appeared for her husband.

McGrath said he tried to defend a woman during an altercation, but denied assaulting the complainant.

Roosevelt is Shocked.
Oyster Bay, N. Y., March 29.—(I. N. S.)—Amazed and shocked at the news of his secretary's sentence to the work house, Colonel Roosevelt issued this statement at Sagamore Hill:

"Mr. McGrath told me he was in a restaurant and had nothing to do with the assault, except to try to interfere to save a woman from being hurt. Personally I believe him absolutely."

It is understood that former assistant district Attorney Robert H. Elder of Brooklyn has been retained by friends of Mr. McGrath. The belief is strong among his friends here that the case will be a complete investigation will establish McGrath's innocence.

McGrath was here Monday in connection with his duties as secretary to Colonel Roosevelt, but said nothing as to the impending trial. Until a short time ago he was a resident of Oyster Bay.

In addition to being secretary to Colonel Roosevelt McGrath is also active secretary of the national committee of the Progressive party.

CANDIDATE MAY BE URGED BY TEACHERS; WOMAN PREFERRED

Situation-Is Being Canvassed by Women Who Are Interested in Education.

CLAIMS ARE SET FORTH

Members of Fair Sex Assert One of Their Number is Better Fitted for School Head Than a Man.

Women teachers of Multnomah county want to see a woman elected county school superintendent. The situation is being canvassed and it is probable that some woman who is qualified by experience and ability will be put forward as a candidate for the position.

There is a steadily growing sentiment, more widespread than has been supposed, among the women teachers of the county that the school work of the county should be administered and directed by woman.

These women contend that the profession of teaching is essentially a woman's work. Particularly is this true of rural schools where the great majority of teachers are women. Better results would be secured in school work, they argue, under the guidance of a woman's hand than that of a man.

The movement to place a woman in the race for superintendent is not confined to the teachers alone, but is also found in growing volume among the leaders of the various women's organizations in the city and county. All who have discussed the matter believe that a woman and not a man should be in the position.

"There is nothing of politics behind the movement," said one of the teachers who is prominently and actively associated with the movement to put a woman candidate in the field.

"It is simply what we as teachers and as women believe to be for the betterment of the public schools of the county. It is true that Oregon is the only state where the state superintendency of schools has not been given to a woman when woman was given the ballot. But that is a secondary thought, our first wish is to try to do what we think is for the benefit of the schools. Teaching, especially in the common schools, is essentially a woman's work. If women make up the rank and file of the profession, it is only a woman, peculiarly fitted by long experience and proven ability, in executive charge of the work in the county."

Theatre Announces Reduction in Prices

Reduction in admission to 5 cents day times and 10 cents at night instead of 10 and 15 cents, and a change of program four times a week instead of twice as at present, will be the first move made by G. T. Holtzclaw, the new owner of the Sunset theatre on Washington street.

The change will be effective with the change in program at noon tomorrow.

This was the report brought here today by J. K. Eaton, wealthy mining engineer, who came to San Francisco on the liner Sierra from South Africa.

"The English had thousands of soldiers rushing a railroad from British East Africa to German East Africa when I left there five weeks ago," said Eaton. They have an immense army ready to be transported over their new railroad."

"THE MORAL FABRIC"

which began the week-end run at the Columbia today, is a severe satire against the free love theory. The story is one in which a muchly in-laid wife with nothing to do but kill time becomes easy victim to false ideas. The exponent of these ideas, which are those of a free love nature, makes the young woman believe that her husband is a man without soul.

The upshot is that on her wedding anniversary, she calmly announces to her husband that she intends to leave him for her affinity. The husband to protect the wife tells the newspapers that he has relinquished the wife to the other man and in the publicity that results, the lover and woman are compelled to marry. The husband meets the couple later in Europe and practices on the former wife the same arts that the free love exponent did. The bill is completed with a very laughable Collier comedy entitled "A Woman in Trouble."

Tonight will be the last night of the spring style show which the Columbia management is giving in cooperation with the Eastern Outfitting company.

Back Again After 23 Years.
"Portland has surely grown to be a great city since my last appearance here," says John C. Ramser, who with his partner, Olive Scharf, is appearing at the Empress. That was 23 years ago. Quite a long time ago isn't it? I was appearing in grand opera and was understudy for J. K. Murray, in the opera "Indigo" at the Marquam Grand. Fitzgerald was the name of the stage manager. One night while the performance was going on I got into a dispute behind the scenes with one of the tenor singers. After the performance a three round fight settled our differences. W. T. Carlton, acted as referee. At the finish the referee declared the winner and the argument was settled. I can't remember which one of us was given the decision, but I do remember that we each carried bruised lips and a black eye apiece for a few days, which we had to cover with heavy makeup each time we appeared on the stage.

Who Said "Poor Indian?"
Billie Burke has been combining business with pleasure at Palm Beach with husband Fio Ziegfeld close by. She has been doing a number of society scenes for a film version of a Rupert Hughes novel. Rumors even intimate that the movie camera caught her in a bathing costume. A number of Seminoles Indians have been working in the picture with Miss Burke. Did we hear any one remark "Lo, the poor Indian?"

You, Too Should Use This Wonderful Beautifier

Women who desire a complexion that will be admired and not questioned cannot be too careful of the powder they use. Ordinary face powders (no matter how fine they may seem in the box or between the fingers) are disappointing under the real test—on the face.

Such powders deaden the skin with a lifeless hue. Or they do worse—bespeak "make-up." To use them is to be haunted by the fear that they will fall you any minute—in a bathing room, in the glaring light or in the heat of the dance. There is one complexion powder that stands every test—

Carmen Complexion Powder

The one powder perfected under such a process as to impart the fresh bloom of girlhood without a trace of artificiality. It does not rub or blow off. You are sure of a charming complexion at all times—regardless of strong lights or the effects of perspiration. The scent enhances its refinement.

DEVELOPMENT OF OREGON COUNTRY NOW GOING FORWARD IS SANE AND SOLID, ASSERTS ATTORNEY CLAUDE McCOLLOCH.

"Like all new countries, Oregon has had her period of wildcatting and the development now going forward is sane, solid and makes for permanent prosperity," declared Attorney Claude McCulloch, in his office in The Journal building.

"Times are better," continued McCulloch, "the great eastern prosperity wave extends as far west as the Dakotas already, and will burst upon us this summer. The big lie in our profit will be the tourist travel. This will be extremely heavy in the Pacific northwest."

"Our business specializes in practice, teaching, speculating and water powers and we know there is a well defined movement for the better in connection with the big iron and project bonds. Eastern money men will be looking for investment in the west, and this, too, will do much toward the development of our rich back country."

Mr. McCulloch is a native of California and has resided most of his life in Oregon. He graduated from the Leland Stanford university and studied law at the University of Chicago.

The Journal Building was designed to meet demands of discriminating tenants, and that's one reason why service is mexcelled in this distinctive "skyline" structure.

There are a few rooms, single or en suite, for rent at reasonable rates.
