President Taylor of Portland Realty Board Starts Movement at Luncheon Today.

COMMON INTEREST IS AIM

Oregon Dealers Should All Pull To gether for General Benefits, It Is Declared by Mr. Taylor,

A suggestion made by F. E. Taylor president of the Portland Realty Board, at the regular weekly luncheon in the Oregon hotel today, that plans be formulated for a three days' convention of all of the realty dealers of the state in July, was received with unanimous approval by the members present.

The plan, as briefly outlined by President Taylor, would include a per-sonal invitation to every real estate man in Oregon to come to Portland and assist in the formation of a state or ganization which should work in harony on problems common to the derelopment of the state. It is also soped that those present will be stimulated to organize realty boards in their own communities, that they may better meet not only their local problems, but also keep up interest in the suggestions for state development which are common to the entire state. The convention proposed would include a program of addresses and entertainment covering three days in the early part of "This idea has been nearer to had in mind since I have been president of the realty board," said President Taylor, in presenting this matter at the luncheon. "The real estate men of Oregon need to pull together for their common problems and co-operate for their common interests. president to name the necessary committees to carry out the plan.

were made by the members of the already existing. The city system will board, and the meeting generally stimu-lated a great deal of enthusiasm aqueduct. among those present. Music by a male quartet was enjoyed between the talks
