has no time to reach his lines of communication which are seeing this afternoon. Aeroplanes are unable to cope with the light air of high altitudes.

Aviator Has Narrow Escape. Lieutenant Willis had a narrow escape while flying last Sunday. He was boring through a mist at great speed when the fog lifted suddenly to reveal his plane heading into a wall of rock. He swooped upward and was out of danger just in the nick of time.

Juan Terrazas, cattle king, arrived from Chihuahua City today and confirmed the report that Villa had gone toward Satevo with a small following. His information contained no mention that the outlaw chief had been wounded, however. The belief is growing here that Villa has not been injured. Though General Pershing reported he had heard of Villa being hurt the information was only an indirect story from woodcutters who claimed they saw the outlaw with a broken leg, fleeing in a litter. Pershing has since stated that such clues from Mexicans are sometimes misleading.

Colonel Cano's Force Defeats Villa's Men, Proving His Loyalty. Washington, April 4.—(I. N. S.)—The first official report of a clash between the forces of General Pershing since the American expedition army entered Mexico was received by the war department yesterday. General Pershing transmitted a report from General Pershing telling of the defeat of one of the scattered Villa's bands by Colonel Cano's forces. The leader of the band was killed. This was accepted by the war department as proof of the fidelity of reports that Colonel Cano had revolted and joined Villa.

Secretary Baker issued the following statement after receiving the report from General Funston: "A dispatch just received through General Funston from General Pershing tells that one of the smaller bands into which the Villa forces scattered was struck by Colonel Cano on March 29, and that the result was that Manuel Booc, the leader, was killed. This seems to disperse finally the rumor of disloyalty on the part of Colonel Cano."

Army staff officers believe that Villa is making his way southeast and that his route is from the Queretaro district through the Cusi mining country toward Durango. Villa Headed for Parral. They believe his objective is Parral, which, although at present garrisoned by Carranza troops has always been a Villa stronghold.

Secretary Baker said that the question of supplies for the expeditionary forces is being solved. General Funston advised him that while grazing is scarce in the district in which the American troops are operating, corn of inferior quality is plentiful and beef cattle are available in sufficient quantities.

Sound of Firing Heard. Columbus, N. M., April 4.—(I. N. S.)—Early this morning a motor truck that had been in Lieutenant Hardin's train reached camp. Its driver and guard reported that firing, intermittent but continued over a period of four hours had been heard somewhere east of the American forces on March 31. The truck was delayed five hours between here and the Gibson Line ranch west of here.

"It sounded like rifle fire in the vicinity of the ranch," said Driver Carr; "but it might have been a machine gun."

An acetylene flash light for railroad crossing gates, ignited by a pilot light as a gate is lowered, has been invented.

"We shall be doing business for some time to come only with the far-sighted buyers and experienced investors who realize that Portland real estate prices are now at low ebb and that present building costs make immediate construction most advantageous."

When we made this statement in a recent announcement, it was because of our confidence that there were plenty of people in Portland who could analyze the present and foresee the future, realizing, as they must, that the wisest time to buy is just prior to the return of a commercial activity. That is when the best investments are made.

We are having that confidence justified daily. Prospective home-buyers are appreciating that the prices of building materials and labor are sure to increase as the demand increases, and are therefore planning to take advantage of present building cost.

Westover Terraces. People who are taking immediate action in selecting their property on Westover Terraces and making arrangements for the building of their homes will find, three months from now, that by their decision they made possible either a better home at the same cost, or as good a home at a saving.

Everyone needs a home and if you haven't one, you are paying for it just the same—paying for it by losing the inspiration, the comfort and the independence that a home means to a man.
