BUNNY BRIEF THROWS BALL INTO DIRT, THUS GIVING BEAVERS GAME

Twelve Inning Contest Is Decided by Wild Heave to Get Roche at Third.

PITCHERS VERY GENEROUS

Pass Out Bases on Balls Like Philanthropists With Sheds Full of Gifts for Everybody.

By R. A. Cronin.

Bunny Brief's foxy stuff in the twelfth inning yesterday broke up the ball game with a 6 to 5 Portland victory, thanks to the corking display of pitching by Byron Houck from the eighth inning to the end.

Bunny took a position about 15 feet from the plate, with the stage set in this fashion:—Roche on second from a double to the left center field fence; Hollocher on first from a walk; Houck at the plate, and none out. Everybody knew that Houck was going to lay the ball down. He dumped it on a line between the pitcher and third. Brief was in like a flash, picked up the ball, threw it into the ground in front of Murphy. It bounded off to the grandstand, and presto, the game was over.

August Fisher, the well known swattist, pinched in two in the fifth and gave the Beavers a chance to eventually win.

Houck Shows Good Form.

Houck has been known for the past couple of years as a "broken-arm" pitcher, but he gave the best exhibition of the art of twirling that any Portland pitcher has shown this season in the time he was in the box. He relieved Oscar Theander Harstad, who, like Bert Hall, tried to emulate Peabody and Carnegie in the philanthropic distribution of bases on balls.

Catcher Vann of the enemy was the only man to solve the trenchant slants of young Mr. Houck, and if Mr. Houck has a "broken arm," would that there were more fractured wings on the Portland pitching staff. Fifteen men faced the former Fed in the 4 2-3 innings that he worked, and the catcher was the only one to reach first base.

Fittery Fine at Fanning.

Paul Fittery worked against Houck and distinguished himself by fanning Wilie, Guisto and Stumpf in a row. Three hits were added to the sum total off the southpaw, but one of them broke up the game.

Oscar Theander Harstad began the game for the Beavers, but Oscar Theander was getting his tootsies in torrid water throughout the game. In four innings the Salts gathered eight hits and but two runs off him. But at least two runs were cut off by a marvelous one handed catch by Louie Guisto in the fourth. Hall was on third from a double and Rath's single, the latter stealing second. Two were down, when Quinlan pulled one a mile a minute to right field.

Guisto Makes Circus Catch.

Guisto leaped into the air and to one side, gyrated so that his gloved hand was where his right would ordinarily have been, and pulled down the screeching liner. It was one of the greatest catches seen on the local field and could be counted a climax to a great day around the bag. Guisto will save the Portland infielders individually and collectively about 25 points on their fielding averages this blossoming season.

Salt Lake got off to a two-run lead in the second, when Shinn walked, went to third on Murphy's single to right, and scored on Vann's long sacrifice fly to Southworth. Hall singled and chased in Murphy.

Beavers Tie Score in Third.

Portland tied it up in the third after eight men had been at bat. Ward started it by walking, and Harstad sacrificed. Speas hit down to O.. and Billy made a bad throw to get Chuck at third. Vaughn hit to the same spot and Orr was slow in getting the ball to the plate, Ward counting. Southworth singled to right and in rounding third Speas slipped on the moist grass, being unable to score. That left the bases full and Wilie forced Speas at the plate, Orr to Vann. Guisto looked four over and his walk forced Vaughn home.

Southworth singled again in the fifth and so did Wilie. Guisto forced Wilie and stole second. Stumpf flied to Orr and Blankenship smiled sardonically at McCredie as he ordered Hall deliberately to walk Roche.

McCredie grinned derisively as he sent Fisher up to bat for Ward. Gus busted the ball to right field, scoring Southworth and Guisto, placing Roche on third and taking second on the throw-in. O. T. Harstad fanned.

Hardy, who walked Brief three times in succession, also let Vann amble in the eighth. Hall hit to Hardy and the pitcher tried to get Vann at second, but threw miles wide, and both were safe. Rath bunted and was touched out by Roche, and Hollocher, shortstopping for Ward, committed a boot, allowing Vann to score. Tommy Quinlan routed the ball down the left field line and two more runs counted.

Houck Comes to the Rescue.

That ended Harstad and Houck quickly retired Brief and Ryan, two bold, bad birds.

Portland tied it up in the eighth on Speas' walk, with two outs and Vaughn's single across second, which Quinlan tried to throw to third, but hurled instead to the grandstand. Speas slid into the plate on his stomach and knocked the wind out of his lungs. He was able to proceed upon refilling them.

Two Changes Likely In Intercity League

Two changes in the makeup of the Inter-City Baseball league circuit will likely be made next week. At last night's meeting of the directors, Salem, through the secretary of its club, made formal application for membership and a like request from Rainier is expected some time during the early part of the week. The Rainier question was discussed over the long distance telephone and Manager Morrison of the Rainier team was confident that his backers would seek a franchise. Whether the league will be composed of 10 teams or two of the present clubs will be ousted will be decided next week.

No action was taken on the disposal of the Woodland, Wash., franchise, Manager Dale stating that he expected the attendance to be better as soon as the roads in that section of the country were good so that the residents could come to the games.

The squabble between the Baby Beavers and the league officials was smoothed over, when the managers passed a motion which contained the clause that the Vaughn street grounds were the home grounds of the Beavers.

As the result of the pending change in the circuit, the adoption of the schedule was put over until the next meeting.

According to Harris, Williams has outgrown the bantam division and cannot make weight for that class. DON'T 'CLEAN UP' YOUR OLD SUIT—BUY A NEW ONE TOMORROW ON CREDIT!

The recipe for keeping oneself well groomed no longer depends upon a man's pocketbook. It used to, of course, as every man knows, but ever since CHERRY'S CREDIT CLOTHING STORE opened, several years ago, the number of men who dress cleverly has increased enormously.

There's scarcely a man in town who, regardless of his occupation, hasn't bought something on credit. As a matter of fact, real estate, furniture, musical instruments, and many other things are seldom bought any other way.

The system at CHERRY'S Clothing Store is simplicity itself. You just buy what you want in the way of smart clothes, and make a small initial payment. Then you arrange with the credit department a schedule of weekly or monthly installments. It's a big convenience, isn't it? Then why don't you make the most of it?

Their place is at 389-91 Wash. St. in the Pittock block.
