OUR NEIGHBOR AND OUR RIGHTS

By Rabbi Jonah B. Wise of Temple Beth Israel. The scriptural reference is Leviticus, chapter XIX, the same being set apart by Jewish tradition for this week's lesson.

The verse, "Thou shalt love thy neighbor as thyself," is fundamental to the religious ethics of Judaism. It is not merely a conventional morality, but the statement of a sociai necessity. The Jew finds in the phrase demands for loyalty, justice and charity.

Loyalty is essential to that finer companionship we call democracy. It impels men to die for a cause they consider holy. Moses, Isaiah, Jesus, were men of whose loyalty

Theresa Homet Patterson, a Universalist from Pennsylvania, was a guest of Dr and Mrs. Corby over Easter. She is a member of the National Women's Missionary board and recently returned from Japan where she made a long study of the Universalist work in the orient. Mrs. Patterson talked to the Sunday school and in the evening was honor guest at an informal reception in the pastor's home. She spoke leaguers assembled in the First church of the success of Universalist missions, at home and abroad.

Methodism. The pageant is directly in charge of the Portland Epworth League Presidents' association, of which Fred J. Schnell is president. This association has appointed Hubert J. Scott, Miss Ida Matson and Oliver Gili a committee to manage and direct the play.

Excellent Production Promised. The young men on the committee are arranging the financial end of the production and Miss Matson is charge of the cast. Miss Matson has spent considerable time in studying the pageant and her efforts along the coaching line seem from all reports to be successful. Present conditions indicate an excellent production. All work, both by those in charge and those in the cast, is given gratis, and the entire production will include lo cal talent only.

The pageant is divided into four episodes and 18 movements. One hunfred and twenty persons are now included in the cast and have been hosen from the different societies of the city. Each society has been assigned a certain movement. Will Tell Church's Progress.

The purpose of the pageant as outlined is to present in pictorial form a glimpse of the progress of the Methodist Episcopal church such as will reate a taste for the study of its hisory, waken a pride in Methodism and a loyalty to the church and its institutions. The young peoples' choirs and or-
