

CELEBRATED AT THE CHAMBER MONDAY

M. Parks, Director of Oregon Bureau of Mines, to Be Chief Speaker.

TO COVER A WIDE FIELD

Speakers Will Tell of the Many Minerals to Be Found in the State of Oregon.

H. M. Parks, director of the Oregon Bureau of Mines and Geology, will be the principal speaker at tomorrow's luncheon of the Chamber of Commerce members' council.

It was also because of Oregon's mining interests have grown to an extent which few people of Portland realize that the mining men suggested a strictly mining program so that better understanding of the mineral resources of the state could be had.

Speakers will tell of the many minerals found in Oregon in almost every part of the state from the northwest corner of Walla Walla county to the southwest corner, Josephine, Coos and Curry.

The soda beds of central Oregon, the gold and copper, antimony and coal, the blamuth, silica and tungsten, the chromite, asbestos and nitrate deposits all will be described and located, with estimates of the potential wealth they contain.

Mr. Parks will tell the members' council that Oregon produced $2,013,085 in metals last year and his estimate of the 1914 cleanup is $4,000,000. This is a decided increase over the mineral return of 1911, when the bureau was founded, the production then being only $679,298.

Mr. Parks also said that one gold mine has been operating successfully in Oregon for 18 years and still "going strong."

He will describe the great copper zone of southwestern Oregon, which is only now being developed on a large scale.

The object of the meeting is to show the people that Oregon actually has rich mines which need the financial encouragement of Oregonians.

CASING LOADS DELIVERED.

String to Be Put in Deep Well in Harney County.

Several loads of casing to be placed in the deep well sunk on Dog mountain in Harney county by the Harney Oil & Gas company have been delivered at the well and J. C. Turney, manager, has begun putting it in place.

The casing was unloaded from cars at the well and hauled by motor truck all the way to the well, near Burns. This is the largest string of casing ever brought into the state.

Articles of Incorporation have been signed by J. T. Van Horn and J. G. Johannes, incorporating the Umpqua Zinc company. Mr. Johannes, the discoverer of this ore body, states that Oregon will be a metal in the country, as they have a large deposit in sight on the lower Umpqua and will begin developing their property immediately.

Chromium Ore Discovered.—Rich chromium ores, discovered in the heart of Old Piney mountain, near Riddle, in southern Douglas county, are soon to be developed, according to advices from Roseburg, Edison Adams of Oakland, Cal., is preparing for $100,000, all of which has been taken by Van Horn and Johannes.

Johannes made his prospect more than seven years ago, but coming as it did at a time when the price of metal in business and low prices for metals, it was never developed. He says that now, however, the development will be rapid.

Further rises in the price of antimony have caused new activity in the mines near Unity, eastern Oregon. Some prospects are now being worked that had been passed over, while prices were down.

Copper Outlook Good.—Many acres of copper prospects in Walla Walla county near Joseph are now awaiting development, according to residents of that county. It is considered probable that developments will come if the present copper demand holds prices at their high level.

Rich Lead near Koonika.—One of the richest gold strikes made in some time is reported from Koonika, Idaho, by W. E. Smith and Tom Ricketts on the middle fork of the Clearwater. They are said to have discovered a rich ledge of quartz and the old story about the "mother lode" is being whispered about. It has been known for a long time that a strong lead extends for at least 10 miles from the Elk River district up the north fork and many believe the same belt extends up into the Couer d'Alene country. Smith and Ricketts intend to divide the location with the ledge, intimating they are looking for an extension of the lead upon government or unpatented lands.

Work at Cougar Mine.—Work has actually started at the Cougar mine in the Granite district near Sumpter. W. W. Robbins, who handled the formation of an operating company, has made arrangements to construct several new buildings and accommodations.

BAKER COUNTY WILL MAKE EFFORT TO GET MONEY FROM FORESTS

Court Instructs District Attorney Godwin to Go After Proceeds Alleged Due.

Baker, Or., May 6.—On the instructions of the county court, District Attorney Godwin will make demand on the secretary of state for the payment of $15,000 to Baker county alleged to be balance due from the county's share of national forest moneys since 1908, the county having been "short changed" to that amount, according to the date in the hands of the district attorney.

Under a law passed by congress in 1908, one fourth of the money received by each national forest from the sale of timber land, grazing permits, stump land, rentals, etc., goes back to the forest for distribution to the counties in which the forest is located on the acreage basis pro rata. It is alleged that the money has not been distributed on that basis since the law was passed, the Oregon legislature having failed to enact legislation conforming with the federal statute. Distribution since then is alleged to have been made on the old 10 per cent basis, in which some counties received more than their share and others not what rightfully belonged to their road and school funds.

Since 1908 Baker county has lost $15,000, according to the data of the county court and restitution will be asked.

"I think there is no question as to the legal grounds," said District Attorney Godwin, "and I am sure I can show the secretary of state the situation, so that the money may be justly adjusted. There is no doubt Baker and other counties have lost considerable sums and while I would not state positively at this time, there is little question but that it will be brought to recover the $15,000 if the claim is not otherwise settled."

Fire Protective Association Meets

Baker, Or., May 6.—Fred H. Atkinson, general manager of the Oregon Lumber company, was elected president of the fire protective association at the annual meeting here yesterday afternoon and last evening. The association is composed of local timber land owners for the purpose of protection against forest fires. The work the past few years has been carried on by the fire loss last year was the lowest in many years, being almost negligible, actual loss less than $100. An assessment of one half cent on stump land and one cent per acre on timber land was made to provide for fire protection, which was approved by the association. W. R. Palmer was retained as fire warden.

The association holdings embrace about 225,000 acres of timber land and it was decided to install and equip two new lookout stations, with automatic fire finders, which have been in use for several years with great success.

Buffalo Mine Reopens.—Reopening of the Buffalo-Monitor mine in the Granite district near Sumpter is a development of the last few days. The Monitor has been shut down for eight years. The Buffalo, located on Buffalo mountain, is one of the oldest discoveries of the district.

Redmond Clubs Give Building to School

Gymnasium and Hall is Officially Turned Over to Student Body by Mayor Mosch, on Behalf of Donors.

Redmond, Or., May 6.—The recently constructed gymnasium and hall built for the Redmond high school by the Redmond Commercial club, Redmond Dramatic club and Redmond Woman's club was officially turned over to the school last night. Mayor Mosch, speaking for the people of Redmond, turned over the keys to Douglas Mullarky, president of the student body, who responded for the school. Miss Ethel Wheeler spoke on behalf of the girls of the school.

A program was given and refreshments were served by the domestic science class.

The building is 40x100 feet, with a floor which can be used for basketball, and a basement which will be equipped with shower baths and gymnastic equipment.

Molalla May Get Beet Sugar Factory

Molalla, Or., May 6.—A representative of the Utah-Oregon Sugar company talked to the Molalla grange today about the practicability of establishing a sugar factory in Molalla. He says that the soil here is suitable for the production of beets with a high percentage of sugar and that if he can get a contract for 2500 acres of beets a sugar factory will be built. The same company is putting a sugar factory at Grants Pass. It is believed that the farmers here will guarantee the necessary acreage and encourage the project, as it would mean the establishment of a big payroll and would help the dairy industry, which is already established, because beet pulp makes unexcelled dairy feed after the sugar is extracted.

Preparing for Meet.—Redmond, Or., May 6.—Final plans are being made for the holding of the fourth annual Oregon Interscholastic tennis tournament, which will be held at the University of Oregon. He had worked his way through, and would have graduated in June. He was to have been married this summer.

KLAMATH FALLS WILL HONOR "PATHFINDER" GEN. CHAS. FREMONT

Monuments Will Be Placed to Mark Places Made Memorable by Party.

MONDAY IS THE DAY

Had Trouble With Indians When He Left Camp Unattended on One Occasion During His Travels.

Klamath Falls, Or., May 6.—In commemoration of the five-hundredth anniversary of General Charles Fremont's second visit to Klamath county, the journey from which he was turned back by orders from Washington to seize California for the United States, monuments will be placed at the head of Link river, near Upper Klamath lake, where Fremont and his party crossed the river after their northward trip via Tule lake and the Merrill county route of civic and patriotic societies, school children, etc., will precede the exercises.

The site of the old Indian village at the head of the river is the place where the exercises will be held. Speeches of historical interest, music and talks by city and county officials will make up the program.

While Fremont was continuing on around Upper Klamath lake, Lieutenant Gillespie of the United States marine corps, who had landed at Monterey, was riding hard on the trail of the party and at the present site of Merrill he sent two of his best men ahead to apprehend the "Pathfinder."

At Rock creek, one of the streams emptying into Upper Klamath lake, the messengers overtook the party and the following day Fremont dropped back with part of his men to Gillespie, receiving from him secret orders to turn back into California and take it from Mexico.

That night, for the first time in his travels, Fremont left his camp unguarded. As a result the hostile Klamath Indians, the Indians using bows and arrows. Before he left the Klamath country Fremont had two other battles with the Indians and burned one of their big tribal villages.

All of the spots in connection with Fremont's two trips here are to be located and are to be marked with suitable monuments.

Yamhill Grange Is Opposed to Expense

Members Resolve Not to Support Candidate Who Will Not Work for Reduction of Expenditures.

McMinville, Or., May 6.—Five of the farmers' organizations of Yamhill county have filed a petition with the county court against the expenditure of county funds for the paving of state highways or main thoroughfares, petitioning the court to place special stress on the proposed improvement of the McMinville-Sheridan road, which Sheridan farmers and business men had asked the court to make.

The organizations, consisting of the Pomona Grange, County Farmers' Union, Society of Equity, Yamhill County Agricultural Council, and the Farmers League of Yamhill county, concurred in these resolutions which had been passed at the meeting of the Pomona Grange at Unionvale.

The grange also denounced "the reckless expenditure of public money due to the acts of those who make the laws of the state, by creating useless commissions, increasing salaries and the passing of many laws so ambiguous that they are often misunderstood by the maker."

The resolution further states: "Resolved, that it be the sense of the grange that its members largely support any candidates for the legislature who will not openly declare they will, without fear or favor, work unceasingly, if elected, for the reduction as herein stated."

The grange in another resolution "viewed with alarm the growing tendency to perpetuate a tenure office holding right, which if allowed, would result in the loss of the state instead of increasing genuine patriotism in the hearts of the people."

Weather 'Prosecutes' Race Promoters

Threatened Action by Minister at Marshfield Forested by Rain, Which Spills All Over the Track.

Marshfield, Or., May 6.—Threatened prosecution of prominent business men who were backing the auto races scheduled for tomorrow, made by Rev. E. H. Campbell, was exploded today, when, after a heavy rain, the races were called off on account of the muddy track.

Parents Receive Insurance

Salem, Or., May 6.—The mother and father of Orval Winters, killed at Ballston, Or., while employed by the E. M. Chandler Lumber company, will receive $25 per month for two years and one month. The state industrial accident commission set aside a reserve of $592.50 for the purpose. The amount is fixed on the expectancy figured from the time of death to the time the son would have reached 21 years.

Parent-Teachers Meet

Salem, Or., May 6.—About 150 attended an interesting meeting of the Marion county Parent-Teacher association here today, and the following officers were elected: Mrs. Mamie Fulkerson, of Salem Heights, president; Mrs. C. A. Bear, of Turner, vice-president; Mrs. Fannie Douglas, of Kelsey, secretary; and W. Lehman, of Battle Creek, treasurer.

Mt. Angel College, St. Benedict, Or., May 6.—Joseph Heesacker and Francis P. Leipzig, the former editor of the latter business manager of the Mt. Angel college monthly, The Pacific Star, will complete their senior course this year. The Pacific Star, which has been published for the last seven years, is edited along by the students of Mt. Angel college.

PROHIBITIONISTS PUT SLOVER IN THE RACE FOR MARION SHERIFF

Portland's Former Chief of Police is Only Candidate Announced at Convention.

Salem, Or., May 6.—Besides nominating E. A. Slover, former chief of police in Portland, for sheriff of Marion county, the Prohibition party convention, held here this afternoon, took a strong stand against useless commissions and extravagance in state government.

The platform adopted asserts that pre-election pledges of the legislature have not availed against the ever-increasing tax burden and the state government has become largely a system of commission institutions, all calling for salaries and appropriations.

It was recommended in the platform that county and state budgets be cut and unnecessary clerkships and pensions be eliminated; that the state fish and game commission be abolished; that the clerk hire of individual legislators be cut and legislative junketing at public expense be eliminated; that the state print textbooks and furnish them at reduced prices to the public schools; that sectarian encroachments, such as teachers wearing sectarian garb, be prohibited, and that a graduated land tax, which by exemptions on small cultivated holdings will reach the land kings, be enacted.

Opposition was voiced to the establishment of military training in time of peace, any appropriation of public funds for sectarian institutions, and all efforts to weaken the state prohibition law.

The appointment of committees in the house of representatives of the state legislature by some system, placing the power from the speaker was recommended, "so that Portland domination may be ended."

Announcement of candidates, other than Slover, it was decided, will be made later.

The following were nominated as candidates for representative in the legislature: L. R. Ratliff and John Hunt, of Washington; H. H. Brooks; Enos Purnell, of Marion; L. D. Cook of Astoria.

Only the names of the candidates for sheriff and representatives were made public.

New Potash Discovery

Washington, May 6.—(U. S.)—American editor in London, at Leeds, Eng., in a dispatch to the department of commerce, announces the discovery by a scientist there that large quantities of potash can be obtained from dried banana stalks, heretofore considered valueless. The discovery was made by E. E. Lawson, of Leeds. An analysis by Dr. E. H. Hamley, of Leeds university, confirmed the statement that 49.9 per cent of the dried stalks was potash.

Society Case Postponed

Marshfield, Or., May 6.—As a woman who resides in California is wanted as a witness in the investigation of the Peck-Perham controversy, which has stirred social circles of Marshfield, the grand jury has been excused until June 3, when an investigation of the case will be resumed.

Mrs. Raab, 75, Dies

North Bend, Or., May 6.—Mrs. Anna Elizabeth Raab, 75, mother of Prof. A. G. Raab, former superintendent of North Bend schools, died at the home of her son. She was a native of Bern Switzerland, and had lived in the United States 55 years, and on Coos Bay for 10 years.

New Building for Redmond

Redmond, Or., May 6.—A. Munz, hardware man, has purchased two corner lots at Sixth and E streets, and is making preparations for the erection of two stone business blocks. The lower floor will be occupied by the Munz hardware store, and the other floor by offices.

World's Champion Lady Swimmers

W. S. FLEMING

AN ANSWER TO THE QUESTION "WHAT HAS LAFFERTY EVER DONE?"

A. W. LAFFERTY.

TO THE REPUBLICAN VOTERS:

The Congressional campaign is waxing hot. Not merely because a Congressman draws a salary of $7,500 a year—by far the highest salaried office to be filled May 19—is the contest important. The salary and the question of voting for some candidate because he would like to fill the office are matters of minor importance. You pay a high price for your Congressman's services. You are entitled to results. You have a right to know who the candidates are, what they have accomplished in the past and what they propose to accomplish in the future. My political enemies ask "What has Lafferty ever done?" Here is the answer:

Biographical

Raised on Missouri farm. Admitted to State Supreme Court Bar at 21. Attorney, Montgomery, Mo., at 22. Captain in Missouri National Guard at 25. Prosecuting Attorney at 27. Sent to Oregon as Special Agent General Land Office at 29. Elected to Congress at 34. Re-elected to Congress at 36.

Record in Congress

During first term secured appropriations for Columbia and Willamette rivers, amounting to $2,100,000 a year, the largest amount for Rivers and Harbors received those two years by any Congressional District in the United States, and the largest received by this District in the history of Oregon.

Second term District had been set down to Multnomah county. Secured liberal appropriations for deepening channels from Portland to mouth of Columbia.

Helped secure appropriation of $1,000,000 for new postoffice building at Portland. Not yet constructed. Secured appropriation of $5000 for postoffice site at St. Johns.

Helped secure appropriation of $25,000,000 for Government railway in Alaska. Secured amendment to Homestead Law, reducing residence period from 5 to 3 years. Was first to introduce 8-hour law for women in District of Columbia and helped secure its passage.

Voted and spoke for National Woman's Suffrage. Voted for Kenyon Law, wiping out commercialized vice in District of Columbia. Voted for Webb-Kenyon Law, giving dry states power to regulate or prohibit the importation of liquor from wet states.

Was promoted during last term to Committee on Interstate and Foreign Commerce, the highest committee on which any Oregon Member has served since the late Congressman Ellis retired from the Committee on Ways and Means.

Worked in season and out of season to push O. & C. Land Grant case to a successful conclusion, and to open the 2,300,000 acres of lands involved to actual settlers strictly in accordance with the terms of the original grant, and is still working to that end.
