THE HEAVY RAINFALL

any April Showers Interfere With Plans of Preparing the Ground.

TROUBLES ENCOUNTERED

ils of Alameda District Were For mate in Getting Their Planting Done Early This Year.

"Owing- to the continued rains dur-Owing to the control gardens will be everal weeks late this year," says William H. Dunham, supervisor of

During April there were only a few and put the soil in proper shape for fround could be worked a short time fter a rain and a light raking would be sufficient to put it into condition.

A good many gardens on light soils were planted before vacation and are was impossible for me to get to all number had to wait till the last of the month before they could be planted. Many children were disappointed in not having their gardens planted Planting Done Early. "The pupils of the Alameda Park school were fortunate in getting their garden planted early. Practically every pupil in the school has a plot of garden and all are showing a great deal of interest in the work. All pupils my strict attention to the directions the supervisor and all planting was ection of potatoes is yet to be planted. but this was put off on account of the poor condition of the soil designated for this crop. The pupils are going form the name of the school in the garden.

The gardens that are located on heavy clay soil were hard to plant. The pupils at the Buckman school had more trouble than any others. garden at Buckman is composed of a heavy clay soil and the plots had to be worked over several times before they could be planted. Each time the children were ready to plant a heavy rain would ruin the texture of the soil, thus making it necessary to spade the beds again. At other schools a light raking would put the soil back

Undaunted by Rains. The Fernwood school experienced the same difficulty, although not quite so bad as Buckman. However, the pupils at both schools were undaunted by the rains and finally all plots were planted, but not till nearly all the other gardens were up and started

We will have 37 school gardens. All are now planted except the popcorn garden at Stephens school and the garden at Mount Tabor school. We will have 6500 home gardens."

Pupils of Social Turnverein Taken on Hike to Council Crest by Their Instructor. Tast Sunday Professor Gens Genserowski, instructor at the Portland Sogirls' class for a like up the hills west of the city to Council Crest. The girls Tanged from six to 11 years of age.

The party of 25 left at 9 o'clock a. m, and went up the hill past the old castle and then broke away from the path and found their way up the hill the best way they could. They reached the crest at 1 o'clock

On the way up the professor answered the many questions of the little lassies as best he could and also explained to them the many flowers and birds which they saw in abun-

On the crest the girls gave an exbibition of folk dancing and other exercises and were the center of attraction during their stay there. The manager of the scenic railway was so pleased with the enterfainment afforded by the class that he gave them all a free ride on the railway. After this strenuous trip for so young girls some of them walked home.

Field Worker Maris Pays Schools Visit

Children Are Impressed With Importauce of Porming Habits of Industry and Thrift.

Impressing the children of Portland with the opportunity and importance of growing enough vegetables on the of growing enough vegetables on the vacant lots and backyards to feed the whole city; telling them of the necessity of forming habits of industry, thrift and economy, and showing them that these things are an important part of their education and just as essential as the facts learned from their textbooks, is the mission of N. C. Maris, industrial field worker from the state department of education, who spent the past week in the schools in and around Portland.

Mr. Maris spent a week in February visiting Portland schools in company with School Garden Supervisor William Dunham. As a result of that work more than 500 pupils enrolled for industrial club work as carried on throughout the state. At the same time they were pushing the interests of the home garden work for which more than 6000 pupils have The present visit is in the nature of follow-up work. Besides visiting the schools and talking to the children, Mr. Maris has biven public illustrated evening lectures at Kenton, Ardenwald, Glenhaven, Fairview and Lusted.
