

ENIES THAT MISSING DAUGHTER MAY HAVE HAD A LOVE AFFAIR

Mother of Ella Harris Attributes Girl's Actions to an Unbalanced Mind.

BROTHER AIDS IN SEARCH

Young Woman Said to Have Suffered Nervous Breakdown Number of Years Ago.

Denying that a love affair may have caused Miss Ella May Harris to leave the home of her friend, Mrs. F. A. Thompson, 985 Franklin street, Friday, and attributing the young woman's actions since that time to an unbalanced mind, Mrs. W. H. Harris of Salem, mother of the missing woman, today said that she had given up hope of ever seeing her daughter alive again.

Will Harris, 15-year-old brother of Miss Harris, arrived in Portland last night from Salem and today is searching for his sister.

According to Mrs. Harris, her daughter never showed any signs of mental strain during her girlhood and even the nervous breakdown which she suffered in Sebeka, Minn., two years ago, when she was a public school teacher, was not considered serious by her family.

"I guess we never realized how serious her illness was," said Mrs. Harris this morning.

It was this nervous breakdown of 1914 which caused Miss Harris' doctors to order her to give up teaching as a profession and engage in some other work.

"She was as good a girl as there is," said Mrs. F. A. Thompson, at whose home the young woman lived. "There can be nothing to the story of a man in the case."

"It can be nothing but mental derangement," said Mrs. M. K. Mills, a neighbor of Miss Harris while she lived with Mrs. Thompson.

Infidelity Charged By Wife of Deacon

Divorce Complaint Alleges Improperities By Husband With Secretary and Sunday School Scholar.

New York, May 11.—(U. P.)—Sensational allegations of infidelity were made today in divorce proceedings here by Mrs. Clara Guild, a wealthy Boston woman. Her husband is Dr. Ellis B. Guild, a deacon of Mount Morris Baptist church, and one of the best known Baptists of the east.

Mrs. Guild named her husband's vivacious young secretary and Sunday school scholar, Mrs. Sarah Hastie. She alleged that five detectives recently raided Mrs. Hastie's apartment. The alibi made affidavit that they found both the deacon and Mrs. Hastie partially disrobed.

Previously they claimed they had heard him call her "dear" and had witnessed a kiss.

Guild is a noted lecturer on Christian philosophy. He denies the charges and asserts that his relations with Mrs. Hastie were merely platonic.

The wife asked for $100 alimony.

District W. C. T. U. Session at Eugene

Eugene, Or., May 11.—Fifty or more members of the W. C. T. U. of Lane and Linn counties met in district convention at the First Baptist church in this city Wednesday for a two-day session.

J. M. Devers, district attorney of Lane county, was the principal speaker at yesterday's session. Rev. W. P. Elmore of Brownsville and Mrs. Henrietta Brown of Albany were the outside speakers on the program. Mrs. Mary Campbell of Springfield spoke on "Flower Mission Work."

Miss Myrtle Curry of Albany won the silver medal for the best temperance oration at the contest last night. Other contestants were: Miss Josephine Austin of Albany; Miss Ethel Rauch of Creswell; and Miss Ruth Mallow of Brownsville.

California Knights Elect Officers.

Los Angeles, Cal., May 11.—P. N. E.—Following are the officers chosen by the Knights of Columbus before adjournment of their state convention here: James R. Keith of San Francisco, reelected state deputy; David Supple, San Francisco, secretary; William F. Linnett, Oxnard, warden; A. J. Fitzgerald, San Luis Obispo, treasurer; Rev. John M. Megarty of Los Angeles, chaplain; and P. J. McGarry and K. L. Irwin of Los Angeles and Frank Mitchell of Hayward, delegates to the national convention.

Republicans to Meet Tonight.

There will be a meeting of the Lincoln Republican club in the library hall of the Central library building this evening at 8 o'clock, at which all the Republican candidates for senator and secretary of state have been invited. A representative of Senator A. B. Cummins, candidate for president, will also speak.

GIRL MARRIES FOR LOVE, NOT POSITION

ERNEST EDWARD PIGNONE

Morristown, N. J., May 11.—"I married the man I wanted the most—that's all. It doesn't make much difference, when a girl's in love, whether the man she marries is a hodcarrier or a college professor if he's the right man, nothing else matters."

Mrs. Ernest Edward Pignone, frail and ethereal-looking, smiled as she made this statement.

This was her explanation for secretly marrying Ernest Edward Pignone, a bricklayer and "strong man" of Morristown's little Italy. Her father, the Rev. Dr. James M. Buckley, a world-famous leader in the Methodist Episcopal church, has given the couple his blessing and invited them to live with him in his large house in the exclusive colony here. Mr. Pignone is a Catholic.

"Religion can't fight love, and I guess father knew it," said Mrs. Pignone.

Marshfield Elks Stage Wedding as Part of Initiation

Marshfield, Or., May 11.—Peter Richard Bue was married just after midnight last night at the local lodge of Elks as part of his initiation into the order. His bride was Miss Lydia Holm, and Rev. B. F. Benjsten performed the ceremony.

The event was somewhat of an eleventh hour affair, but was nevertheless entirely successful. Mr. Bue, who is Coos Bay representative of the Pacific Hardware & Steel company and Miss Holm were to have been married this morning.

Mr. Bue joined the Elks last night, and during the ceremony Mrs. Holm was persuaded to permit arrangements to be advanced. She went to the lodge room with her sister and a number of friends, and then Mr. Bue was informed that he was about to be married.

The lodge presented Mr. and Mrs. Bue with diamond set Elk emblems.

Mr. and Mrs. Bue have gone to Portland to visit for a week or so.

Sumpter Valley Is Growing Rapidly

Report of Manager E. B. Pengra for 1916 Shows 20 Per Cent Increase in Business of Year Ago.

Baker, Or., May 11.—For the first four months of 1916 the business of the Sumpter Valley railway shows a 20 per cent increase over the corresponding period for 1915, according to a statement by General Manager E. B. Pengra. He accounts for the gain partly from the increase in the local lumber industry, the Sumpter Valley handling the log trains of all the local mills. Merchandise shipments to and from Prairie City, the western terminus, have also picked up wonderfully, says Mr. Pengra, and merchants of the interior town all doing a big business. Livestock shipments are also larger and the road is preparing to handle the first of Grant county's estimated million and a half pound wool clip, next week.

"Freight, express and passenger business of the road was never better than at the present time, and the manager says new equipment will soon be necessary if the increase continues. Since the first of the year the road has added three new engines and new rolling stock, all of which is now in use."

Explosion of Movie House Kills Negroes

Twenty-three Burned to Death When Gasoline Tank Blows Up; Many Trampled and Crushed in Panic.

Wallacetown, Va., May 11.—(U. P.)—Twenty-three negroes were burned to death last night when an explosion wrecked the gasoline tank of a frame structure housing a motion picture theatre. The negroes fled for the exits in frantic panic. Many were trampled and crushed.

Dies After Taking Dose of Strychnine

Harriman, Or., May 11.—James Bennett of Waverly died from the effects of a dose of strychnine. He was about 31 years old, and lived on a homestead about 19 miles south of Waverly. He was visiting his father at the time, and after retiring in the evening was taken ill. He told his father that he must have taken the strychnine in place of quinine. Bennett died before a doctor could arrive.

Hood River Grange In Favor of Docks

Fruit Growers of the Valley Who Have Been at Odds With the County Court Now Working Harmoniously.

Hood River, Or., May 11.—The Hood River County Pomona Grange has endorsed by resolution the action of the Commercial club and county court in regard to The Journal's offer to assist Hood River in securing its water frontage rights and plans for a public dock. While there has been a disposition upon the part of the farmers of the Hood River valley to criticize the citizens of the town for not supplying better and adequate dock facilities, a spirit of unity now prevails, and the fruit growers of the valley are ready to join hands with the city and prosecute plans that will result in securing adequate dock facilities and roads leading to the boat landing.

The Pomona grange sent a telegram to Washington urging Oregon's representative in congress to stand by the Chamberlain bill in the division of the funds to be derived from the disposition of the Oregon-California land grant. Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Taylor, who were elected to represent the Hood River county granges at the annual meeting of the state grange, now in session at Grants Pass, were instructed to support the measure changing the state grange sessions from an annual to a bi-annual session, and to support the measure requiring that the master of the state grange must be a bona fide farmer, and to support a measure changing the national by-laws whereby members not actively engaged in farming shall become honorary members.

"Hikers" Are on Way.

Hood River, Or., May 11.—W. A. Simonson, F. K. Hollister and Raymond Meyer, three Portland lads who are "hiking" from Portland, Or., to New York City and who have been spending two days in Hood River, playing at the Electric theatre and advertising the city, left this morning for The Dalles.

A recently patented fly trap is made of paper and cotton and is intended to be burned when filled with insects.

Sentenced to Jail For Violating the State "Dry" Law

For showing Edward C. Thorsen where he could secure the wherewithal to become intoxicated, although he did not drink himself, Christian Lanning, a carpenter, was sentenced to 10 days in jail by Municipal Judge Langguth this morning. Thorsen was arrested for drunkenness, but is also charged with perjury in signing an affidavit that the alcohol was used for external use only. He was sentenced to 10 days in jail.
