

What Society is Doing

BY NONA LAWLER

MR. AND MRS. GEORGE E. RUSSELL arrived in the city yesterday and are registered at the Benson for several months. They have been away from the city since last September, when with their daughter, Miss Nan, now Mrs. Harold Herman Duden, they went to Colorado, Cal. They visited in the south for a few months, then went to New York, and later returned to Hotel Del Coronado, where the engagement and wedding of their daughter took place in February. Mr. and Mrs. Duden are now living in New York, and Mr. and Mrs. Russell will be here until June, as they plan to join their daughter and son-in-law either the latter part of June or the first of July, and go to the Maine coast for the summer.

Wilson-Orton Wedding.
 Mrs. Henry Wilson and Miss Mabel Edna Orton were married on Monday morning, May 8, in the presence of a small gathering of friends, at the Church of St. Michael and All Angels, Broadway and East Forty-third street north, the Rev. J. E. Bowen officiating. Mr. and Mrs. Wilson left immediately for their wedding trip, going to Seattle. They will make their home in Portland.

Dance Tomorrow Evening.
 The U. D. club will give a stepping party, Friday, May 12, at St. Patrick's hall, Nineteenth and Saylor streets.

At Portland Heights Club.
 A dancing party will be given Friday evening, May 12. The social committee includes Mrs. H. A. Carpenter, Mrs. Ben Trankman, Mrs. Joseph L. McCool, Mrs. William Tond and Miss East. Mrs. W. D. Lord for the day. Mrs. Myrtle S. Kelly, Mrs. B. Statter, Mrs. D. A. Partello and Mrs. H. A. Sargent.

For Miss Wold.
 In honor of Miss Clara Wold a number of interesting affairs were recently given at Eugene, where she was visiting. The Eugene Daily Guard prints the following notes:

"One of the interesting and delightful affairs of the week was the dinner at which Dr. and Mrs. E. S. Bates presided Tuesday evening. Miss Clara Wold, who was a guest in the city during the past week, Dr. and Mrs. Bates' guests, in addition to the honor guest, were President and Mrs. P. L. Campbell, Mr. and Mrs. Marion McLean, Mrs. Mabel Holmes Pearson, Roswell Dosh and Wally Merritt."

Party Motors to Salem.
 A large motor party went up to Salem last Sunday and were guests of Mrs. W. D. Lord for the day. Mrs. Lord returned to Portland with them and will be the guest of Mrs. Willis Dunaway for several days.

At Social Turverein.
 May 21, a vaudeville program will be given by the ladies of the Portland Social Turverein and the young men of the same club at the Turner hall.

St. Ann's Society to Meet.
 St. Ann's charitable society will meet today with Mrs. A. E. Alby, 864 Clinton street, at 2 o'clock.

Society Notes.
 Mrs. James McPherson, who has been visiting relatives and friends in Portland, left Friday for her home in Seattle.

240 Lumbermen at Raymond on Strike

Raymond, Wash., May 11.—The Sunset Timber company's camps on Mill creek were closed indefinitely Wednesday when 240 men walked out of the woods because they wanted better wages.

The company has sufficient logs on hand to keep their mills at this place running for a month, and R. H. Burnside, president of the company, says the camps will remain closed indefinitely.

The men have no complaint except as to wages.

Beauty Chat

BY LILLIAN RUSSELL

A Young Woman—80.
I HEARD two women talking together on a train one day—they were both pretty, well dressed and aged about 30. "My dear," one of them said, "I agree with you perfectly. I have the same horror of growing old—and ugly." "I'm afraid, terribly afraid of it. This morning I found the gray hair, Jack laughed and teased me because I felt so badly about it. Of course, when I cried he didn't tease me any more and declared he didn't care how many gray hairs I had—because he himself had a rapidly enlarging bald spot. Of course, he said he would love each other just the same when he was bald-headed and fat and I was white-haired and wrinkled. But, somehow I'm afraid of age. I always want to be young. I can't picture myself sitting around with a shawl on, knitting socks, for my grand-children. Nor can I imagine Jack sitting opposite me, napping like old men do. It just makes me shudder."

The attitude of the pretty woman who spoke is the natural attitude of youth. For those who fear and hate age, time is an enemy and a most dangerous one. Struggle and fight as they will, time inevitably conquers—and he gives little quarter to rebels. But the old woman who faces old age calmly and fearlessly, time is not relentless. Perhaps he's a good "sport," and is merciful to her who is "young."

I know such a woman—a young woman of 80. She is a merry-eyed, white-haired, gentle woman—a young woman despite her 80 years. Not once has she lost her enthusiasm for life. She is as eager as a child when she enters the great shops with me. Nothing in modern things escapes her. The latest wrinkle in style, the newest model in motor, the progress of suffrage and all the myriad things which characterize the century in which we live, are all of the greatest interest to her. This woman and her husband today are like a pair of young lovers. Yet together they have traveled over the path of married life for 60 years. They have faced together with courage the first trying years of married life which decide forever whether or not a married couple will be happy. They have undergone together the sorrow of losing their children by death, marriage and pursuits alien to their parents. Yet never once has their faith in each other faltered. Today they appear together everywhere—she a tiny, clear-skinned, bright-eyed woman—he a tall, white-haired, courtly gentleman of the old school. Their unflinching courtesy, thoughtfulness and affection for each other mark them as decidedly different from the world-weary society of the modern day.

"Tell me," said a woman once to my 80-year-old young friend, "tell me how have you done it? Keep your youth and beauty, and your husband's interest alive. I mean, 'Why' said the little lady thoughtfully, "I don't know. I've actually tried to, I believe. But when I began to grow old I made up my mind to one thing: I don't do—nor let—myself be a girl. For your own sake don't let your heart grow old, too. Keep interested in the things younger people like. Be up to date. Don't sit back and let the world go on. Be part of it yourself."

"There," went on the little lady, "is my philosophy in a nutshell. I do everything that the young people do. I don't do—not let—myself be a girl. I can be reasonably sure will agree with me. I dance—why shouldn't I? I constitutionally refuse to ruin my constitution—old worse still, my complexion—by sitting cooped up in a tight room all day, before an open fire, as all old ladies are expected to do. I make sure that I get 10 hours' sleep each night, and that my husband does, too. I won't let him be an old man either. He once thought he had rheumatism, but I proved to him that he was living wrong and the pains faded. I have had a few rules that I follow. They are: Don't cry; don't be sarcastic; don't lose your temper and don't complain. And, above all, no matter how dreary they may seem to you, laugh at your husband's jokes."

No Frat Man Is Student President

Nicholas Jauregui, of Tacoma, Elected by Vote Larger Than Combined Vote for His Two Competitors.

University of Oregon, Eugene, Or., May 11.—Campus politics came to a climax at Thursday's election, when Nicholas Jauregui, a non-fraternity student from Tacoma, was elected to the presidency of the student body by a vote larger than the combined votes of his two competitors, Robert McMurray, of Portland, and Martin Nelson, of Astoria.

In a spirited race for the editorship of the Emerald, the student body tri-weekly paper, Harold Hamstead, of Grass Valley, Earl Becke, Salem; Fred Kiddie, La Grande; Martha Beer and Francis Shoemaker, Eugene; Harold Triggias, Portland; Ray Couch, Island City, and Leura Jerard, La Grande.

Ernest Watkins, of Bandon, vice-president; Jennie Huggins, of Portland, secretary; Roland Geary, of Medford, and Jack Elliott, of Salem, executive committee; George Colton, of Portland, manager of the Emerald; Emma Wootton, of Astoria, editor of the Oregonian; Creston Maddock, manager of the Oregonian; Richard Nelson of Eugene; Orville Montelione of Albany; and John Beckett of Portland, athletic council.

The following were elected to the student council: Floyd Westerfield, Grass Valley; Earl Becke, Salem; Fred Kiddie, La Grande; Martha Beer and Francis Shoemaker, Eugene; Harold Triggias, Portland; Ray Couch, Island City, and Leura Jerard, La Grande.

Escaped Convict Recaptured. Eureka, Cal., May 11.—(U. ## SPENCE IS REELECTED STATE GRANGE MASTER AT GRANTS PASS MEET

Oregon City Man Is Chosen Without Opposition; Will Hear Cummins Talk Today

Grants Pass, Or., May 11.—C. E. Spence of Oregon City was reelected master of the state grange Wednesday afternoon without opposition. Other officers elected were C. D. Huffman of Pendleton, overseer; Mrs. Mary Howard of Molino, secretary; H. Herenberg of Independence, treasurer; Cyrus Walker of Albany, chaplain; M. P. Young of Clatskanie, steward; Charles Hays of Sheridan, assistant steward; Mrs. E. R. Allen of Tangent, lady steward; Mrs. C. D. Hillis of Grants Pass, Pomona.

The grange voted to adjourn at 11 o'clock this morning, that the delegates could attend the speech by Senator Cummins in a body. Cummins arrived this morning and will make the first speech of his Oregon campaign here.

Afternoon the grangers will be taken over the valley by the local auto club, and will visit the sugar factory now under construction and inspect the fields of growing beets. Elections will be held at 24 hours before. By a vote of 60 to 24, the state grange, at a late hour last night, selected Astoria as the location for the 1917 session. Eugene received 35 votes, and Astoria 24. The selection of either Eugene or Corvallis as the permanent location of the grange after next year.

Launched Dredge Flooded John Day

Water Turned Into Fond Found Seepage Holes and Houses Damaged. Places Were Somewhat Destroyed.

John Day, Or., May 11.—A 200 foot strip of town was practically submerged as a result of the launching of the gold dredge on Canyon creek at the upper end of town. Water was turned into the dredge pond Saturday morning, it being the intention to fill the pond and float the dredge. However, it was found that the pond had been constructed over the old creek bed, and the water took to underground passages. Within 24 hours the water began to fill. By Sunday the situation had become serious and it was necessary to construct a deep drain at the lower end of the pond to take care of the seepage.

Gardens, orchards and cellars were in many instances submerged to a depth of several feet. The basement in the Knox Department store, in which was stored a large stock of perishable goods, was filled with water. Actual property loss, however, was small.

Fireless Record by Fire Company Ends

After 115 Days Without a Call, Engine Company No. 20 Responds to an Alarm From 780 Nehalem Avenue.

A record of 115 days without a call from the house was broken yesterday afternoon when engine company No. 20 was called to 780 Nehalem avenue, Sellwood, by a fire caused by an explosion in an oil stove in the home of John Erickson. The house, a one-story building, was destroyed.

Lieutenant W. H. Green, claims this as the longest period of any of the companies without a run. The former record, of 52 days was held by Engine No. 8.

Will Replace Wooden Bridge.

Ontario, Or., May 11.—A bridge construction train and crew left here Tuesday to commence work on the Mallett bridge over the Mallett river, this side of Vale, for the Oregon & Eastern railroad. The old wooden bridge is to be replaced by a steel bridge, which it is said will take nearly a year to construct.

Bed-Time Tales

BY CLARA INGRAM JUDSON

Old, Old Mud Pies.
DID you ever make a mud pie? Of course you have! And you like to do it, too—don't you? Everybody does.

Well, some time when you are making a mud pie, smooth off the tops of your pies all nice and even. Then take a bit of a leaf, or a flower, or a twig, and lay it down on the top of the pie very firmly, so it will leave a mark. Or, better still, if you have a pet kitty, or a good dog who will do what you tell him to, take the front paw of the dog or the kitten and lay it firmly on the top of the mud pie till it leaves a mark—see?

Then go off and forget about your pie until it has had time to get very dry.

By evening or the next day you can pick up your mud pie and hold it in your hand and see the mark you have made in it with the leaf, or the flower, or the paw. Doesn't that picture you make in the top of the pie tell you a story of what you did when you made it? And doesn't it remind you of just what fun you had finding the flower or holding kitty's paw in the pie? Of course it does.

And you can save your mud pie as long as mother will let you, and every time you look at it you will think about the fun you had making it.

Well, now would you believe it?—the earth is full of mud pies that tell stories of things that were done hundreds of years ago—yes, thousands of years ago. Doesn't that seem wonderful?

Only these mud pies have been kept so long that they have turned to stone—stone with the pictures on, just as the same the day they were made.

You know how hard your mud pies get in a day or two. So you can easily see that mud pies that have been kept hundreds of years must be as hard as limestone.

Would you like to hear how those mud pies had pictures made on them? Years and years ago, when the stuff that is now rock was only mud, birds walked over the mud and left footprints just as you made a footprint in your pie with kitty's paw, or flower, or dropped off their stems and dropped into the mud. Or maybe a leaf blew down onto the mud and left a mark, or a fish was washed up out of the river and lay upon the muddy bank.

Lay it firmly on the top of the mud pie till it leaves a mark.

And there they stayed—the flower print, the footprint, or the mark of a fish.

And the sun shone and made the mud harder. And the winds blew and covered the mud with soil. And time and nature changed the mud into rock—but still the print of the flower or the foot or the fish stayed.

So that when men with their great shovels and spades now dig out those very same rocks, they can see the mark of the flowers and creatures of long ago. And these rocks that tell a story are called fossils; but, if you like, you may call them old mud pies, for that's just what they are.
