

WHITE SALMON NOW FORGING AHEAD WITH COMMENDABLE ZEAL. Hundreds of Acres of New Orchards Will Come Into Bearing Very Soon. DEVELOPMENT IS MARKED

Drive Through Beautiful Scenic Country Featured by Magnificent Views From Cliffs Overlooking River.

By Fred Leckley. White Salmon, Wash., May 16.—White Salmon, the second largest town in Klickitat county, Wash., is located on the north bank of the Columbia river, directly across the river from Hood River on the Oregon side. It is one of the important stations on the "North Bank" road, as the Spokane, Portland and Seattle railroad is usually called. Goldendale, the county seat, is the only town in the county with more population. White Salmon has about 150 residents.

On a recent drive through the White Salmon valley I was impressed by the development that has occurred during the last few years. Hundreds of acres of new orchards will soon come into bearing. Everywhere you see new plantings of strawberries. Apples and strawberries are bringing prosperity to the farmers of the White Salmon valley. The Columbia river is the rate maker so that not only are the producers within easy reach of market but the rates are low, enabling them to make a profit on their fruit.

streams in the vicinity also afford excellent fishing. From Maryhill where Samuel Hill has recently built a quarter of a million dollar mansion on the bluffs overlooking the Columbia I went through a district of well-kept orchards to Goldendale. Goldendale is a busy and thriving city of about 1500 population. It is on the Little Klickitat river and is the terminus of the Goldendale branch of the S. P. & S. railroad. The branch line leaves the main line at Lytle. Goldendale is the logical trading center for the Klickitat valley. Wheat, oats, alfalfa, fruit, almonds, livestock are all raised in large quantities in the Klickitat valley. From Goldendale we went northeastward climbing steadily till Cleveland was reached. Other Sections Seen. Passing through Cleveland we made a brief stop at Beekston. Beekston's altitude is 8015 feet and stock raising is its principal industry. From Beekston we went over the divide to Mabton in Yakima county. Klickitat county has an area of over a million acres. Of its 1,108,000 acres over 900,000 acres are in private ownership. Something over 60,000 acres are state lands and about 85,000 acres are subject to homesteaders. The Ya-

Portland Invited to Send Representative. Commissioner of Naturalization Takes Deep Interest in System Employed in Americanization School of Portland. Robert K. Campbell, commissioner of naturalization, has requested the Portland school authorities to send a representative to a convention of superintendents and principals to be held in Washington, D. C. the week of July 10. The convention will be called upon to formulate a course of citizenship for use in Americanization schools, similar to the one held in Portland last winter at the Shattuck school under the principalship of David N. Mosseson. Commissioner Campbell has expressed his gratification to Superintendent Alderman at the results accomplished in the Portland school.

S.)—The Italian steamship San Giovanni, inbound, and the Swedish steamship Grekland, outbound with a cargo of munitions, collided off Sandy Hook in a heavy fog early today. The Grekland is returning to port to be dry-docked for repairs. Mexicans Granted Reprieve. Santa Fe, N. M., May 16.—(I. N. Attempts to Oust Van Fleet Failure. Decision of United States Court of Appeals in Western Pacific Railway Hearing is Believed Victory. San Francisco, May 16.—(U. P.)—Efforts to oust Federal Judge Van Fleet from presiding over the legal proceedings incident to the sale of the Western Pacific railway failed Monday when the United States circuit court of appeals refused to make Van Fleet certify to a judge of the appellate court an affidavit which sought to disqualify him, alleging prejudice. This is considered a victory for the minority bondholders. The decision means Judge Van Fleet will preside over the foreclosure proceedings, and that the system will be sold to the bondholders for $40,000,000 instead of $15,000,000, which the majority bondholders wanted to pay. Judge Van Fleet set the hearing on the decree of sale for Tuesday.

The U. S. Patent Office Says It's a New One

And has issued a patent covering both the form, and the method of manufacturing

New Post Toasties

You, too, will say it's a new one when you open your first package and try a handful of the flakes before adding cream or milk. That's just what we want you to do.

Don't remember of any manufacturer of old-style "corn flakes" inviting you to such a test, do you? Guess not. The old-fashioned kind had to be smothered with sugar and cream to make a flavour, but New Post Toasties are different and better—have the full, true taste of the grain—and the test tells.

Look at the flakes carefully. Notice the tiny bubbles on their surface. The quick, intense heat of the new art of toasting not only produces the bubbles, but a quality of corn flake unequalled for smacking goodness.

New Post Toasties have "Substance;" they do not "chaff" or crumble in package; unlike common corn flakes they do not lose their crisp texture after the package has been opened a day or two; they don't mush down when cream or milk is added, and they are wonderfully delicious.

The first package proves that New Post Toasties are

Big Army of Local Students Registered

Nearly 50,000 Children on Lists, Declared L. R. Alderman, Superintendent of City Schools.

Portland has just 79 less than 50,000 school children registered, announced L. R. Alderman, superintendent of public schools to the members' council of Chamber of Commerce yesterday afternoon. Portland built 93 school rooms last year, continued the educator, who then submitted arguments and stereopticon views supporting the proposition that single story school houses are better and safer and less costly than present type school houses, costing $7000 to $7500 a room.

H. L. Kelly, former master fish warden, appeared before the members' council, telling of Oregon City's plan for Booster day, April 27, and inviting cooperation. E. L. Thompson, chairman, appointed D. G. Burntrager, W. D. McWaters and E. F. Boynton a committee to arrange for what Mr. Kelly said would be the first official recognition ever given Oregon City by Portland.

Seek Highwaymen Who Held Up Stage

San Diego Officials Watching Mexican Border for Men Who Robbed Passengers of $150 and Several Watches. San Diego, Cal., May 16.—(U. P.)—County officers today are watching the Mexican border for the two masked highwaymen who, late Saturday, held up a stage bound from Tijuana to San Diego, near San Isidro. There is little chance of catching the pair, as they are thought to have fled across the line.

According to P. S. Cook, driver of the stage, the bandits stopped it by waving a red lantern in the road ahead. When the stage approached, revolvers were leveled at the passengers and their valuables ordered into waiting hats held out by the highwaymen. They got $150 and several watches.
