LOOKING AHEAD

HE desperate German attack on Verdun is now somewhat . better understood than it was at first. The incredible supsition that the crown prince was adly sending his men to death thout any definite purpose exot to capture an impregnable tress, has been abandoned. It a become pretty apparent that had a clear and fairly rational

This object was to paralyze the reat forward movement which the lies are concerting and keep the nitiative in German hands this eason as it has been thus far roughout the war. Evidently the illies are preparing for a great adance. The British have been conentrating troops on the Belgian . The French have probably assed almost their entire availaforce between the British nches and Switzerland. The ussians are quietly getting ready the east. At a preconcerted mal there will be a simultaneous rward movement.

The Germans could have thrown nd French to withdraw troops om other points on the line to efend that fortress. Thus far neither of these obcts has been effected. The allied nes remain unimpaired everyhere and Verdun withstands every sault. We may therefore take it r granted that before a great while the most spectacular operaon of the war will take place. The allied preparations will have en completed and on all sides f Germany the "iron ring" will attempt to contract.

DISFRANCHISED, DISINHERITED REPUBLICANS ORTLAND'S evening Democratic newspaper is very violent in its denunciation of W. L. Lightner, who seeks a re-nomination for county commissioner, but this year Republican politics will not to any degree be about our Rose Festival with its and Republicans are going to do their own thinking and acting .- Portland Telegram.

The above is a sample of the "Secret Circle's" game. There is no Democratic evening paper in Portland. The Journal belongs to no party. It is the spokesman of the Republican masses, the Democratic masses, the Progressive masses and of all other plain people of whatever party, creed or calling.

A letter from a prominent Republican candidate to The Journal vesterday said:

"I wonder if the only means left, The Journal, will help me get my case before the public?"

He could not get what he had to say in the Oregonian. Nor in the Telegram. The columns of those papers are barred to all Republican candidates save those whom the Oregonian and Telegram favor. All means of expression are shut off to the great body of Republicans in means of expression are shut off to the great body of Republicans in Portland, except through The Journal. Every day The Journal office has calls from Republican candidates and their friends who come to this independent newspaper because they cannot get a fair hearing in the Telegram or Oregonize the Telegram or Oregonian.

They are Republicans whom the Oregonian and Telegram oppose and whom that newspaper oligarchy undertakes to gag and bind.

Then when a hearing is given these men in The Journal, the Tele gram and Oregonian utter the false cry of "Democratic." Having shut Republicans off from a hearing in their own papers, they seek to shut singing the praises of Mr. Coffey. This them off from a hearing at the bar of republicanism by calling them "Democrats."

Scarcely in Russia does gag rule apply with such high handedness as is the gag rule imposed upon local Republicans by the two Republi- to the charge that he drew two salcan newspapers of Portland. Nowhere in the world is there a censorship more rigid, a repression of public sentiment more drastic.

It is a fairly successful attempt to exercise a complete tyranny over the Republican politics of Multnomah county. But for The Journal, wonder why those papers should have emphatically not. the great body of the Republican party would be under an almost com- such a personal interest in the reelecplete subjection to that tyranny.

In the Telegram statement above that "Republicans are going to do their own thinking and acting," what is meant is that the Oregonian people, or the corporation? Are not and Telegram will do the "thinking and acting" for the Republicans. The two gag-rule papers are preparing the political doses to force down the throats of the Republicans. It is a plan of clubbing Republican masses into acceptance of the Oregonian-Telegram cut and dried program.

Three-fourths of the Republican candidates and all their thousands of friends are given in the Republican press no hearing on which to base "thinking and acting." They are disfranchised, disinherited and displaced as Republicans. They are bottled up and corked. They are Angeles. Was it not on the time of the nailed down with the bosses of the Oregonian and Telegram sitting tight on the lid.

The vast majority of the Republicans of Multnomah county are thus outlawed. They are denied all part in Republican thinking and acting. They have no representation in the political discussions in the public press except through The Journal. Their candidates are slandered, misrepresented and vilified.

On the other hand, candidates that these disfranchised Republican masses oppose, are boosted and heralded. Some of these scarred candidates are under the most serious charges and are bitterly opposed by Republican masses, but there is no way to make the fact known through party organs, and when an independent newspaper is used to give expression to public opinion the cry of "Democrat" is raised. It is a cry by which the two good newspaper shepherds plan to corral and discipline Republicans as other good shepherds corral and discipline their sheep.

A LESSON ON TOBACCO

From the Portland School Bulletin. Tohacco is one of your worst enemies, and if you wish to avoid trouble, please stay away. He is a plant, yet a plant, somehow he is a buman being. He steals upon you slowly and soon you are in his clutch.

Cigarettes are supposed to be the most dangerous thing tobacco is made into. They draw heat as well as smoke into the mouth. The young boy watches the man amoke big cigars and he gets one just as big, and when he amokes it, he gets sick, very sick. It is not the tobacco's fault, but the boy's. He is not wise enough to

There is a poison in tobacco. He is to-bacco's friend and his name is nicotine. He helps hart us. The tobacco plant is slightly injurious owing to the presence of this nicotine. The tobacco leaves are laid on sticks and taken to a dryer, where there are two large furnaces, which are then started, Doors, windows, and everything are closed, and the temperature is raised to 180 degrees. Sir Walter Raleigh and Sir Francis

Sir Walter Raleigh and Sir Francia Drake introduced tobacco to Europe. Ond day as Sir Walter was smoking, a ser want came in and on seeing his master amoking, thought that he was burning up. He rushed out and got a pall of water and dashed it on Sir Walter. People who smoke too much get a smoky brain and are not wise. The fact is, they think it is stylish, but they are very much mistaken, for it is even worse than thewing gum in company. —Frank Atkins, 9 Years Old. Kerns School 4A.
