cargo of salt, sugar and groceries, the ships. teamer J. N. Teal is to leave for lewiston Thursday morning. The vessel will be taking out the best argo of freight that has yet gone to the upper Columbia and Snake rivers Trade with the upper river is improving rapidly, and owing to most favorable water conditions, will probably last longer this season than in many years.

The present cool weather added to many cool days experienced before this spring, is giving the upper rivers chance to run off gradually. At Lewiston the stage of water is of feet, with every indication that a slight rise will be forthcoming shortly after the end of the week. Fluctuation of the stage of the river is looked for for many weeks before the final run off takes place, and to many rivermen the idea of steamboating on the Snake until possibly August 15, is not in impossibility with these conditions. Can this date be reached by the upelver steamers, the season will have m' a most profitable one, as there has been no delay since the steamers commenced operations March 10. The Dalles-Colembia line has both the steamer J. N. Teal and Twin mouth Cities in operation on the run.
