STRAWBERRY AND CHERRY CROPS PROMISE TO BE GOOD POTATO SCRAMBLE IS NOW QUITE KEEN IN

Market Is Firmer and Higher for Old Stock With as High as $1.35 Being Offered in the Country-Season to Continue.

The scramble for old potatoes is aiding the price all through the Pacific northwest. Both country and city prices have recently scarcity of offerings by producers. In a few Instances as high as $1.55 a cental has been were used. We have recently had some com-offered and putd in the Willamette valley for plaints that have been directly traceable to An advice from Yakima states that there warehouses. The latter were owned by dearers and had been sold, therefore were merely being heid for shipping orders.

Growers in the Yakima section were asking the fact that these circulars never use
'pure.' By analysis many of them have shown as high as 40 per cent adulteration and seldem do they show less than 25 per cent. As the adulterant used is usually a mineral oil. Growers in the Kakima section with a special way of their holdings and getting it.

While there are quite fair stocks of new potatoes in the local market at this time, still it has absolutely no drying value, consequently when mineral oil is mixed with linaced by when mineral oil is mixed with linaced by when mineral oil is mixed with linaced by the same of the sa seticipated that a demand will be shown for every sack available here.

EGGS ARE SOFTER IN NORTH seed of as a paint vehicle. While prices are generally unchanged in the Pacific northwest, the market for eggs is showing a slightly softer tone in the north. Locally the situation is steady with f. o. h. buyers offering 22c generally, although one Portland tonight about 48 degrees, is said to be out with an offer of 22%c.

CHICKEN MARKET IS QUIET Market for chickens is quiet along the street at $2.50 a crate with supplies somewhat increased during the Asparagus in b last 24 hours. Sales are generally reported describing bunches. for hens at 16% @17c a pound. Small springs

Adulterated Linseed LOCAL STRAWBERRY Oil Being Marketed

Local Wholesale Paint House Warns Trade Against Imposition NOTHWEST SECTIONS Which Causes Injury.

That adultersted linseed oil is flooding the orthwest markets and is doing much injury northwest markets and is doing much injury to buildings, is the claim made by W. P. Ful-ler & Co., wholesalers of this city, in a letter to the trade. The warning "As we have been reliably informed that there is a great deal of adulterated linseed oil being shipped into the state, we find it necessary to advise we cannot be responsible for results in the mixing of our white lead or any of our paint products, unless strictly pure linseed oil is used bearing the brand of a eputable crusher or jobber.

"Much damage is being done to buildings by the use of adulterated linseed oil. Much loss has resulted because of inferior wearing qualities of paint in which adulterated oils were 75 cars of potatoes there unsold in farm-ers' bands May 1 and an equal amount in linseed oil at much less than market price. linseed oil at much less than market price.
We particularly call your attention to the fact that these circulars never use the word
'pure.' By analysis many of them have shown value for painting purposes as does the liuseed oil alone. Coats of paint containing mineral oil soon disintegrate. No oil is yet produced commercially that compares favorably with lin

The countries is hurting the sale. While these berries cost the local trade fully $1.90 a crate to land here, wholesalers are offering them for whatever they will bring, Special adrices received by The Journal from fruit crop correspondents indicate that the crop of cherries and strawberries in the state will be somewhat greater than a year ago, despite the recent frost. Interior advices tell of the best outlook for cherries for many years. berry crop in general promises to be below the normal this season, the outlook for sver-age prices of the year is exceedingly good.

Bearish Feeling In the Wheat Trade

Chicago, May 18.'-(I. N. S.)-Bearish infinences again were noticeable on the grain warket today. Wheat, which opened under the close and lost fractionally during the in-tial trading, was the most active, the other two grains being sluggish and holding steady. It was claimed that the commercial sitvation was at the bottom of the weakening it wheat prices. Reports of corn damage in the southwest falled to affect the slight sectine in the grain leader. A great deal of wheat was sold by the commission houses at the opening.
The corn market was steady and showed tendency to rise despite the downward trend in wheat. Favorable crop reports held oats steady to the close and caused a slight decline during the initial deals. Range of Chicago prices furnished by Over beck & Cooke Co., 216-217 Board of Trade WHEAT. pen. High. Low. Close

There is a very quiet tone in the local cereal trade. Talk of further outs business being offered by the government cannot be who have supplied the government with oats for many years.

It begins to look as if some one with liberal stocks of oats on hand is trying to mrnipulate the market upward in an effort Three years ago to make the holders of the government contract pay dearly for their supplies.
So far as can be ascertained, there is a fair business showing in oats at northwest points, but none of this can be traced to Dick Lacy came in from the lava beds Sunday and says that most of the bands there have finished with lambing. The weather was ideal and numbers of the flocks lambed clase to 100 per cent.

With the price of wool at present prevailing, it will indeed be a presences year for the will indeed be a prosperous year for the heepmen. In regard to the wool situation, a telegram received yesterday by the Examiner from Crimmins, Pierce & Co. of Boston states: "Very little change in domestic situation since last week. The London market has closed very strong with all grades showing advances. Comparatively little domestic wool was sold in Boston. The interest is still centering in foreign offerings. Buying in the west is proceeding slowly." This shows that the market is keeping up end the sheepmen are arsured of the highest prices that have been paid for wool in the

Announced by D. W. Campbell, Assistant General Manager of Railroad. D. W. Campbell, assistant general inspection trip, said the wage and time schedule controversy between the railroads and the four brotherhoods is proceeding slowly. He expressed hope that it would be settled without dif-policy of the company now is to raise the wages of the unorganized employes, not by a general order, but in individual cases. Gradually improving busines conditions, he said, makes this possible. These increases are being made every day as business and individual merit allow. Many new men also are being taken on he said.

Mr. Campbell expressed the view that the present prosperity of the railroads may not last, venturing the suggestion that when the European w.r is over, many markets may be closed and interfere with business in the United States. He said however. that such a condition would not dis-turb the wages of railroad employes.

Rail Shares Boom On N. Y. Market

New York, May 18 .- (I. N. 8.)-The rails took an active lead on the stock exchange under bullish pressure today and in nearly every instance gained between 1 and 3 points, after opening over the close. Reading was the ruling stock, gaining 3 full points after opening a point over the close. The most active of the rules were Atchison, Erie, Baltimore & Chio and Union Pacific, Steels were sire active and strong. Cruci-ble opened 2 points over the close and held steady at that price, while United States Steel, after opening fractionally over the close, goined slightly during the early trading. Copper stocks, although firm, were less active, very few deals being made. Both Butte & Superior and Anaconda opened up and gained The locomotive stocks followed the rails and took an active part, Baldwin and American opening over the close and gaining fraction-

Ackerson Expalins

Charles W. Ackerson, candidate for delegate to the Republican national convention, has written the following signed statement regarding the effort being made to secure the election of delegates who have refused to abide by the preferential vote for president: "In the convention of 1912 the Republican delegates from Oregon were instructed for Theodore Roosevelt. Some of these delegates violated their oaths and used their utmost endeavors to bring about the nomination of Taft. It was the action of these delegates that caused the serious split in the Republican party.
