To Give Dance—Anchor Council, No. 746, Knights and Ladies of Security, will give a card party at the Wednesday evening, Forester hall, 129 Fourth street. These dances are always well attended and everyone is assured a good time.

School Directors Ousted—Harriman, Or., May 22.—Lester W. Hamilton, county superintendent of schools, has removed School Directors T. B. Hill and R. J. Haines of school district No. 12, at Waskam, District No. 12 voted last fall to erect a new building. Haines and Hill, it is charged, wanted to divide the district that they could have a school near the home of D. A. Brakeman, to call a special school meeting. May 27, to elect two directors to fill the vacancy of the two directors removed from office.

Spring Salad Peel, chill and slice tomatoes. When ready to serve, cover each slice with thinly sliced new onions and radishes, cut in the same way, to give crispness to each mouthful. Instead of a table and rub it thoroughly with heated cornmeal. Then wipe it off with a cloth dipped in gasoline. Both corks until they are thoroughly softened, and while still hot press them firmly into the bottles. When cold, the bottles will be tightly sealed. Wash your sinks with a cloth dipped in kerosene at least every other day and they will keep their peculiar white shine.

Homecraft Hints When potatoes or other vegetables are cooked, drain and cover tightly, then wrap them in newspapers and set in the oven without fire. They will keep steaming hot for an hour or longer. To clean a window shade, spread it on a table and rub it thoroughly with heated cornmeal. Then wipe it off with a cloth dipped in gasoline. Both corks until they are thoroughly softened, and while still hot press them firmly into the bottles. When cold, the bottles will be tightly sealed. Wash your sinks with a cloth dipped in kerosene at least every other day and they will keep their peculiar white shine.

For the Invalid Honey lemon on make a good cough syrup for children. A flannel dipped in boiling water, then sprinkled with turpentine and put on the chest as soon as possible will often relieve a cold. Baked lemon and sugar is also a good cough remedy. An old fashioned cough syrup is made as follows: A pint of molasses and a spoonful of sugar, half a cup of butter and one cup of vinegar. Cook slowly for an hour. Eat a spoonful, hot, every few moments. It is sometimes a good thing to break up a cold to soak your feet in

Ask for the Highest Quality Table Butter And any grocer who carries "tip-top" goods will immediately hand you Maid O'Clover Butter. Let the family have one taste of this really good butter, and they'll detect the rich, fresh appetizing flavor. Its purity and extra flavor is an irresistible invitation for more.

Maid O'Clover Highest Quality Table Butter is pasteurized—made positively pure. You don't pay any more for this health insurance. The extra precaution we take to insure the purity of our butter, is just one step in the production of an established excellence. BUTTERMILK—Pure and refreshing. Every drop pasteurized. Fresh every day at our plant.

Bed Time Tales BY CLARA INGRAM JUDSON

How the Baby Gaters Hatch. HARDLY has the young alligators hatched out of their eggs before they waddled down to the river and plunged in. They seemed to know by instinct just where the water was and how to get into it and swim in it when they found it.

"Funny," mused Miss Chameleon. "I didn't see anybody tell those creatures where the water was—their mother was not even around!" (Which was exactly true.) "When she comes back she will be worried to death about them."

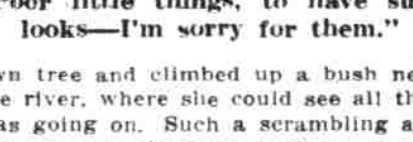

But Miss Chameleon need not have borrowed trouble about that. Mrs. Gater and her worries, for Mrs. Gater, wise mother that she was, didn't have any worries—not a single, solitary worry. Which was perhaps a very good state of mind for a mother of 20 or 30 youngsters, wasn't it?

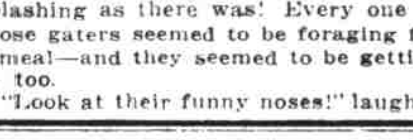

After her 12 weeks of careful watching, Mrs. Gater merely made sure that all the eggs were hatched out; she poked around the rubbish pile a bit to make sure that every little gater had cut his or her way through the hard shell, and then she went down to the river to have a good time of her own. Probably she thought that baby gaters who had been tended as carefully as hers had been ought to be able to look out for themselves.

Miss Chameleon ran down from her own tree and climbed up a bush near the river, where she could see all that was going on. Such a scrambling and splashing as there was! Every one of those gaters seemed to be foraging for a meal—and they seemed to be getting it, too.

"Look at their funny noses!" laughed Miss Chameleon. "I'd hate to be as ugly as they are! Poor little things, to have such looks—I'm sorry for them."

"Sorry for whom?" said Aunt Chameleon, who happened to climb up that very bush in search of her dinner. "I don't see anybody to be sorry for." "I'm talking about those baby alligators," exclaimed Miss Chameleon, delighted to find somebody to talk to. "Oh, no, those noses are not ugly—they're useful. And usefulness makes anything interesting, even if it may not be beautiful. If the baby gaters had no sharp noses they would never get out of their shells."

"No?" asked Miss Chameleon. "No, indeed," said Aunt Chameleon, decidedly. "You see, alligator shells are hard, very hard, and the baby alligators have those knife-like noses so that they can cut their way out into the world. I saw a whole family of gaters hatch out—it was a long time ago, but it was a sight I shall never forget. Each tiny gater cut a round hole in the end of the shell just as neatly as you have seen plinkers cut open a tin can. And then out through this hole crept the gater, up through the sand and rubbish he crawled, and down to the river he waddled. It was most interesting."

Tomorrow—Aunt Chameleon Tells a Story.

Omaha Call Is Accepted.—Winnipeg, Man., May 22.—(U. P.)—Rev. W. J. Hindley, Congregational church, declared he had practically decided to accept a call to Omaha, Neb.

Police Watch Poker Game Being Played

O. P. Church, Poolhall Proprietor, and Four Patrons Are Arrested and Booked on Charges of Gambling.

Police on a nearby roof looked through an open window and saw poker being played early yesterday morning in the rear of the poolhall of O. P. Church, 614 1/2 Williams avenue. They heard bets made and raised, and saw money pass, according to the report of Sergeant West, who was one of those on the roof.

Then they raided the place and arrested Church, charging him with conducting a gambling game, and Joseph Hart, Abe Bloch, Thomas Jones and James Wilson, whom they charged with gambling. Patrolmen Davis and Barker assisted Sergeant West.

THROW AWAY HAIR DYES
Apply Q-Ban Instead—All Your Gray Hair Then Turns Dark, Lustrous Without Dyeing Hair.
When your hair turns gray, streaked with gray, premature or just turning gray, or if your hair is falling; if you have dandruff and your head itches, a few applications of Q-Ban Hair Color Restorer to hair and scalp quickly turns all your gray hair to its youthful dark shade. Entire head of hair becomes clean, fresh, lustrous, wavy, thick, soft, full of life, evenly dark and handsome, without a trace of gray showing. Q-Ban also stops itching scalp, dandruff and falling hair, and promotes its growth. Q-Ban is harmless—not a dye—but a delightful hair color restorer. Give it a trial. Sold on a money-back guarantee. Only $6 a big 7-oz. bottle at Huntley Drug Store, 232 Washington Street, Portland, Ore. Out-of-town folks supplied by mail. (Adv.)
