FRANCE STANDS AGAINST PEACE. CLAIMS VIENNA

Following successful conclusion of the submarine negotiations, the United States declares an absolutely free position in the event of being asked to mediate in behalf of peace. Early peace is as important for the neutrals as for the belligerents.

"I believe peace is on the way. It might be many months in coming, or only a few weeks."

Others Getting Busy.

The "Inquirer," May 27.—(U. N. S.)—(Special to the London Daily Mail.) Berlin dispatches declare that not only the pope but King Alfonso of Spain and possibly the Swedish government is seeking grounds for intervention in favor of peace negotiations.

The messages hint that unless President Wilson takes prompt action on a basis of bringing peace will go to another power.

Berlin Says Peace Impossible.

Berlin, May 27.—(U. P.)—President Wilson should not make an attempt to intervene in the war at present, it was declared here today.

Two neutral ambassadors told the United Press today that peace this summer is impossible. Recent exchanges between the belligerent capitals indicate both sides are too confident of winning to listen to peace proposals now.

One envoy said he believed fighting would cease in October, basing his opinion on a conversation with Kaiser's fighting would indicate an unbreakable deadlock on all fronts. Peace suggestions could then be carried through the winter, taking at least one year for their consummation.

Ambassadors believe some neutral ruler other than President Wilson has a better chance than he to conclude peace. President Wilson's stand on the allied blockade will answer the question of whether he is satisfactory to Germany as a peace maker.

Smash, Then Peace, is Hope.

Rome, May 27.—(U. P.)—A terrific smash, aimed to eliminate the Turks and the Bulgarians from the Balkans, is the plan of the allies to bring peace, according to general reports current here.

Heavy blows by the allies from Saloniki to Mesopotamia will be followed by a tremendous simultaneous offensive against both the Austrian and German lines in an effort to win a victory over the central powers before winter sets in.

Enormous forces of French, Italian, British and Serbian troops have been concentrated at Saloniki and are awaiting the word to strike what the allies hope will prove the deathblow of the cause of the central powers.

In the near east the Russians are pressing forward toward Bagdad.

Despite reports of initial Austrian successes in the Tyrol drive, the Italian public is confident that the outcome of the struggle will spell victory for the Italian for 25. It was stated today that when the Austrian offensive began, King Victor Emmanuel's troops backed guns heavy enough successful to cope with the Austrian cannon, but this deficiency has now been remedied.

Wilson's Speech Ready.

Washington, May 26.—(U. P.)—President Wilson's speech, which he is to deliver before the League to Enforce Peace tonight was completed Friday. It will require but 15 or 20 minutes to deliver.

Officials close to the president believe the time is near when seeds of peace may be sown. Wilson's address at Charlotte, N. C., was described as the first step toward this end. Tomorrow he will go further, it was declared, showing that the belligerents are apparently deadlocked.

It is even believed the president may go so far as to indicate that a cessation of hostilities would not await an overwhelming victory by either side. Some think President Wilson is feeling his way cautiously on this subject.

MAYOR IS ABSOLVED BUT CHIEF OF POLICE MAY BE HELD LIABLE

Court Makes Ruling in Suit for Damages for Personal Injuries Sustained.

If someone puts a nickel weighing machine on the sidewalk and a man scumbles over it and breaks his leg the mayor cannot be held responsible. The point as to whether the chief of police can be held liable is not so clear.

These were the conclusions of Judge Kavanagh, voiced today in connection with the suit of Charles V. Sanders against Mayor H. R. Albee and Police Chief John Clark for $5000.

Judge Kavanagh sustained the demurrer to the complaint by Mayor Albee and Police Chief Clark. He held that the chief of police cannot be held liable for the negligence of a weighing machine on the sidewalk.

"Yes," said Attorney John Ditchburn, "but if a weighing machine is set over town and we cannot find out who owns them."

"Are you suing us because you cannot find anybody else to sue?" asked Deputy City Attorney Stanley Myers, who was representing the city officials.

Myers argued that no one but the property owner is responsible. The weighing machine in question was at Second and Yamhill streets and on November 12, 1915, Sanders fell over it and broke the bones in his knee.

Suit was brought against the mayor and chief of police, Ditchburn said, because an ordinance had been passed providing that these officials should be responsible for keeping the city streets and sidewalks in repair and free from obstructions.

He said he had been unable to find out who owned the weighing machine at the corner or any of the other places in town. "I have even considered stealing one of the machines to see who would claim it in order to find out the owner," he said.

FRANCHISE RULE FOR JITNEYS CONSIDERED BY UTILITIES OFFICIAL

Idea in Mind Is to Secure a
More Dependable Service,
It Is Explained.

SUBJECT BEING DISCUSSED

Franchise System Would Probably Apply
Only to Certain Routes in the City Limits, It Is Declared.

To insure dependable service and give the city more adequate control it is possible that plans will be worked out for putting jitneys on a franchise basis.

Commissioner Daly has the idea in mind and has talked with several leaders of the jitney movement on the subject.

The idea in the rough is to give franchises to companies or associations or other units pledged to give a fixed service. These units having franchises would be held responsible for the individual jitneys under their control.

Franchises would probably be given for certain fixed routes, the person holding the franchise being responsible for all the jitneys on the route.

It is found almost impossible to control the independent jitney as it now operates, even though licensed individuals by the city. Under a franchise the jitneys could be made to maintain service.

At the present time, however, the proposed step has not gone beyond the stages of discussion.
