"GOOD MORNING" BY JACK LAIT

(Copyright, f916, by Jack Lait.) THE baby sneezed at just ten minutes past midnight. That woke Mrs. Grover Ferris from sound and unsuspecting slumber. She nestled the quilt about baby's neck. Baby wanted a drink. Mrs. Ferris went to the cooler and brought back two fingers of water. In half a minute baby was asleep and by that time mother was wile awake.

Mrs. Ferris felt with creeping hand across the bed. Nothing stopped her. By that she knew that her husband had not come home. She covered up and turned her cheek to the pillow. But sleep, freed from its all night job for the minute, had danced away. She folled about, and presently arose muffled up in a dr-ssing robe, and went downstairs to the living room.

Now, here is a new situation. One of the most commonplace episodes in sex literature, triangle construction and single standard misunderstandings, but it is nevertheless an unwritten chapter.

Skim over the novels you have read. the plays you have heard and the movies you have seen and try to recall where, if somewhere, you met it. You have been driven from the six best yallers by its aftermath, you have quit the six best theatres because of its consequences; you may have forbidden your nousemaid the neighborhood movie palace because of too many scenes showing why husband is not home and what happens when he returns. But what transpires between the awakening and the reckoning is elided by space between chapters, an intermision during which the sun rises and the scene sets or the slide that made indigent greengoods ommoners indecent barons-"Next Morning."

No Bara has yet developed and no Barrymore yet converted who can register doubt. They may, more or less shrewdly or cruelly, convey fear, grief petulance, disappointment, temper, temperature, indignation or indiger tion. But doubt is speechless, expressionless and useless. An X-ray might reveal it, but a projection machine cannot, It must be a woman! The agony born after the hours of tearing uncertainty is almost a relief: -it grows-it painitates. A woman! and I don't understand-" What woman? What matter? would like to know, though: Young? clear now-a woman-a-hat covers a handmade, hand-me-down against ordinary cross examination; you? look to see how she looks; his smile time." es where it sits, and he tries to brow on the reverse with a puzzled yourook to put her on the detensive so That is detail enough.

Here the curtain rises and whatever happens now is an old, familiar song whatever the story man's version may be to sandwich twixt the denouement I have ever seen. Go to bed-you look and the happy ending. The incident tired. I shall leave word with the either "brings them closer together" maid to serve your breakfast." or eventuates in her freedom so that "Leave word?"
she can marry the rejected lover who "Yes," she said. "I shall not be ruly worshipped her all the time as Christian girl should be worshipped That final hug or that final shrug that ollows what follows that long dark light has made playwrights rich and thraries popular

But that situation-the grim wait and hours before countered that? No, nor shall you out, so let the story begin.

was trying to certify an N. S. F. look too deliberate." f puzzled interrogation to throw her the defensive so that, instead of tting her draw the indictment and ry him then and there, he could enter snap plea of not guilty, and, before isue could be joined, turn upon her, eize and handcuff her on a charge t doubting him, storm over the inustice of it and have her explaining nstead of him, and her apologizing nstead of him: he would forgive her t last-of course he would-then he is own defense, an airy outline of his I libi, slap on a platitudinous assurance hat he had done nothing he was shamed of (true), and then yawn and wing tambiguous but ambidexrous) and tear for bed,

By the time he would get up rould have cooled considerably. ould add a few more items on his ersion, grab a look at his watch, say hat he had to hurry to the office. iss her and call her his little girl; ring home a bottle of ripe olives and he was hungry enough to eat a ay he was hungry shough to eat a folf. By that time the statute of limg: "Now, dear, let's not bring that again; let's not refer to it any more,

That was his scenario, subject to ire. But she switched plots before the only one." had come downstage to center. The flash expression he had formed was," howled Ferris. cent front was of glass and see? nscience; the faint color of Hubiint, foreign to the Ferris boudolr, d the flesh-tint powder mark on the stscript kiss-seemed like the agavatingly palpable "plants" of a cub aysmith.

Good morning, honey." cackled erris, donning a transparent grin. What made you wait up so long? did you get up early, hon?

me is it, anyway?"
She stood where she had stood when door had opened. She looked at m and through him. He had never en her so before. He had stayed vay before, and once or twice sh questioned him-and believed him. was all different this morning. mething had come over the woman. e long wait through the night-

Another woman," said she, not hys. ically, not explosively, but as though words tasted not good. Why, Edith! What are you

" he blustered, blowing scarlet of face, then fading ash-pale about at—I said Another woman."

But, Edith—my dear dear girl nk what you are saying."
I am thinking," said she. aking how to say it. But you know Of course I do. That is, from the

The agony born after the hours of tearing uncertainty is almost a relief; it lives-it grows-or it palpitates. A woman! What woman? What matter?

inference. And, that is very rash and her to him. She raised her hands slow-could, "I am not going to ask you on the forehead. Younger than she? Most likely; oppo- who or what she is; I hope she is a site complexion, too, probably, he has chorus girl-or a-a woman I do not a whisper. jested about it too often. Yes, now know and shall never see. But whothat she brings it back, there was a ever she was you and she might have carried her to the chair. He sat her of me to let him. He took me in his in the jests, why spared me the length of this suspense, on his knee, fought her for her head arms and swore in that silky voice of hadn't she noticed it then? It is all so A gentleman might be delayed by and as she lowered her face in resist-The door opens; he comes in; there amour, I suppose. But no gentleman She lay a moment on his breast. He wouldan absurd exuberance in his smile should keep a lady waiting for hours crooned and stroked her sleeve. Then when he knows she is expecting him, she sat up. fitted and perfected You knew I was expecting you, didn't Your rudeness is quite unfor- am I that I should judge you?" she jumps to her feet; he says "Morn- givable, even taking into consideration ing, honey"; he is painfully debon- the famous fallibility of your sex and "Never speak of this again," she said, air and simperingly blithe; he shoots your constitutional rights to a 'good putting her hand over his mouth, "Why, Edith-I'm flabbergasted at

> "No, your're not, dear," she interposed, and he knew it had not been stab in the dark. He felt that she knew. He knew that she knew, "You're flabbergasted, and quite naturally so clear-the clearest and the hardest

He jumped for her, gripped her arms understand. in his hands, turned her about against

You're not thinking of-" "I did my thinking before you came." she answered. "It is very simple. n the wings, offstage, through a thou- have been patient and indulgent. But -I have made a mistake, too.

for the you cannot ask me to tolerate such an seroic dialogue—where have you en- extended offense. It could not by any down on hers, and he spun her 90 destretch be palliated as an impulsive infatuation or a sudden slip. One cannot Millicent' Ferris has just played it slip until daylight. You have had time Where to reflect. That makes it quite impossible for me to be here any longer. I it any harder than it is-for both of He (Grover Ferris, her husband) could never trust you again. It was us. I have - there has been another

Ferris released her unresistingly. backed to a chair and fell into it. He massaged his forehead with the palm of his hand and swayed and rocked in ous lie." spasms. She started for the stairs. he called hoarsely. opped but she did not turn. though she would listen, knowing it was to no purpose.

"Honey," he exclaimed. ould submit a brief, thin skeleton of know what crazy devils made me do it. started drinking with my dinner That must have got me off. remember half that happened after Don't be hasty, dearie-don't ay he was beastly tired, kiss her on go away. I need you. I'll promise-She spun around.

"I heard you promise at a sacredly solemn and memorable time, duly fixed for such promises," she shot back 'You don't need me now any more than you did then. It is possible that you want me. But I deeply regret it if you truly need me, because you can no longer have me."

"I do need you," cried Ferris, bounding toward her. "I want you, tooations would have run and he would more than ever I wanted anything in wow the case put of court by say. all my wretched, idiot life. Forgot this rotten thing I've done. Here I am, back to you. If I loved any other ease," and the action of Ferris vs. woman-if I preferred any other womerris would be stricken from the an I'd be with her now, wouldn't I?

ocket, outlawed for want of prosecu- If I didn't love you-"Please don't make it worse, Grover. I have no pride in my comparaiterpolated "ad lib business" as ques- tive standing and scarcely more in the ons and sub climaxes might re- superlative. I had fancied that I was

That's all there ever "You are. register honest heartiness photo- thing is all over. It never began, It aphed sheepish shame; the boldly has nothing to do with you. Can't you A man may adore his wife arough it glared the crimson on his idolize her-and yet-at the same time -sometimes-"Yet at the same time sometimes loved you any less. Good heavensexactly explain it. No man can. If 99 out of 100 women knew the whole truth about their husbands-"But each woman thinks she is the undredth." "The hundredth is the one who finds ave told you, anyhow. I'm sure 1 would have. Now, forget this thing, Forget it and I'll promise it will never, my own way so that you may undernever happen again and I'll be home stand the circumstances, not like a very night and I'll never drink another cocktail as long as I live, and it every answer must be 'Yes,' 'No,' or a will never, never happen again, and I'll let you know where I minute of every day, and I'll be here with yo nevery minute of every night, and-I tell you that woman means nothing to me. No other woman means anything to me never, never happen again." Edith Ferris took a hesitating step toward him. "Forgive me, honey.

"I tell you the one thing has nothing to do with the other. It isn't that I there was nothing like that.

Won't you' Can't you?" he begged, and a sob came and he had a plausible way of proving with M.

Ferris flung his arms about her and chance or even by a premeditated ance, he kissed the back of her neck. me to tell him that I loved him and

"Yes, I forgive you," she said. "Who

"Baby!" was all he could gasp whereupon he kissed it. "And let us never again discuss, either, what I am

He looked up, puzzled, querying. "I forgave you because I understood, Now you will forgive me, I feel, bethe recrimination, the denunciation. But you must not try to 'Why, Edith has nothing to do with the other. Mar- and right to kill him. Yes—" riage does bring us so close that no other can really destroy it—that is, this morning if I can find him.' when a man and a woman have really loved, like you and I. It is too big, too He lives on this street. strong, too wonderful to be torn by a single transgression. So I think I can tell you everything and you will

> "What's this?" asked Ferris emphat her will, and they stood nose to nose. "I have suffered, too-more than you have, because I am a woman and these

I things are more terrible to a woman, I Ferris flew to his feet, setting her

"What are you trying to tell he demanded. "Don't," she pleaded. "Don't make man in my life. Ferris seized her wrists

"It's a lie!" he shouted into her face. "It's a contemptible, preposter-

"No-it's true," she moaned. "Don't hurt me, Grover-you're hurting my She wrists so. No-it's the truth. I was tapped her moccasin on the floor as young. He was so handsome, so gifted and so sweet to me, and-oh, he could make wrong seem right." "You're lying. You're just trying me. It's a game. You can't mean it. She nodded solemnly-three timesand turned away her eyes. He brought them back with a wrench of her wrists. "You-you don't mean that youthat you crossed the line that no woman may cross-and-"And no man, either. Don't-you're breaking my wrists." "A man is all different-a moment's nsanity-but you couldn't-you didn't -come-you haven't told me-you-"Yes. You're crushing my wrist! res-I did-I did."

With a mighty snarl of rage he reeased her and pitched her aside. He made the stairs in two strides, disappeared and was back. In his hand there was a revolver. She shrank. He nozzled it downward to indicate that she need fear no violence.

"Tell me his name," said Ferris "I asked you no names," said she. "Tell me his name," he cried savagely. "I'm not going to have any guesswork about this. I want it from you. Tell me his name, I say." "If-if I do," said she, brokenly, will you forgive me?" "No. I'll forgive nobody." "There were circumstances. sorry, Grover. I never realized till this morning how awful it was. Don't be hasty-you may be wronging me." "I'd rather wrong you and lose you than let you wrong me and lose that man. I don't care about anything now.

want that man. Out with it-his "I'm afraid. I don't want a murder

"I suppose you think if you don't tell kill you both before I stand for that. ut the truth-like you did. Heaven man I've got to kill you leave it. His that he work during the war. name?

"Very well," said she, "Put down that pistol. I shall tell you and then But I'm going to tell you in ago. I'll go. bullied witness in a courtroom where name, date or place. Sit down.' He glowered at her. He tossed the revolver on the table. He danced with erupting impatience. "Please sit down," she said

With a look of protest over the delay and the detail, and with forced resignation he threw himself into the chair. "I met him-this other, man," she began, "when I was too young to comprehend. He was bright and alluring anything he wished-And he-he robbed me of my resistance. It was this coming Memorial day.

too late to undo it when I realized that his honor was a fraud and that I had given myself to a stranger-to a narrow, weak, small, mean, cruel, selfish treacherous-

"The woman's story, always. Never the remorse. Go on. was he?" "Wait. I never could have married that man. What I dreamed of in a husband was a man-broad, kindly. good-good enough to sympathize; big ance. Prior to 1872 Oregon's legislaenough to forgive."

"That's wasted, whether flattery or Who was the first one?" until after marriage that I met this er measures.

"What?" screamed Ferris. "After we were married? Merciful saints. This gets richer as it goes along. Why, you just said-what did you say? don't know what you did say. I don't care now. I don't want any more of this confounded story book talk, either. I want you to tell me the name of that man, or I'll choke it out of you," and grant. he pressed his two hands on her two

"Sit down." said she. "You can't force me to do anything. I shall tell without molesting me.

In disgust Ferris sat again. napped his fingers frantically, then the Willamette valley for $9000. biffed his fist upon the arm of the chair.

terest you-I met him the first night transferred from Salem to Corvallis home past midnight and said to Jacksonville, on had taken a customer to a train." "Where?"

"Under my own roof-in my own earing. I never dreamed of anything Go on Get out his name. "Almost before I knew it he had me in his arms.

"Stop. You're not going to drag me very—very—entirely unjustified, child, ly and brought them to his cheeks. She hy kiss, in every miserable particular, and I don't understand—" her to him. She raised her hands slow—through the story inch by inch, kiss by kiss, in every miserable particular, started to kiss him on the lips, shit My wife, in my own home, when I'm "Grover," said she as calmly as she her eyes and gulped-then kissed him away one evening, for the first time, and on business - why, it's-it's-" to shut out the picture.

"I didn't realize how criminal it was his that he loved me-and he forced granted to the university.

"The first night? The first hour he knew you? He works fast, that snake. But he'll never play the game again in another man's home. isn't short enough and the world isn't big enough for that man to get away from me, I tell you. And now cut the child's play. I want that name!"

"In just a minute now. I'm coming to it directly. I want to tell you everything, and I know you won't stay to listen after I tell you the only thing Professor Arnold asked Judge Thompyou seem to care about. And when I tell you I'll not try to hold you, cause you understand. Perhaps you and I won't ask you again to forgive "You bet it is. And I'll kill him

"You can find him. He is home now. "Carter!" he shouted.

"No." said Edith; "not Carter." "Hillis! Charlie Hillis-and thought he was my friend. man on earth-' have never even shaken hands with Hillis," said she.

"Then who? For mercy's sake end house. the abominable torture—this ghastly

"In just a moment, now man who blackmailed me out of my nonor because I wanted my nome and my baby and my husband was-" "Who?

"You. of passion. "Me? What are you raving You said — never mind now. Who was the other one? I don't want any explanation. There were two. I was one. Who was the other?" "The other," said Edith, "was the man I thought you were. Now, go to I'll be here when you wake up. Marriage is a mighty solemn thing, Grover. I'll trust your promises. My -there's the baby crying. I've got to run! Come on.'

A Memorial Day Entertainment

By Dame Curtsey.

UNIVERSITY OF OREGON BY FRED LOCKLEY

and that idea was wrong," said Disraell, in speaking of a man who was distinguished for his ignortors seemed to have but one idea about the location of the state university. and that was to use its location as "Not the first one, Grover. It wasn't trading stock to secure votes for oth-

On September 27, 1850, congress passed an act granting two townships of land in Oregon toward the establishment and maintenance of a state university in Oregon. The territorial legislature of 1851 appointed a board of three commissioners. Harrison Linnville, Sidney Ford and Jesse Applegate, to select the land under this

Later the university commissioners accepted five acres from Joseph Fried ley, at Corvallis, as a site for the state university. They let the contract force me to do anything. I shall tell the building and spent about $3000, you nothing until you listen to me The commissioners who had selected the university lands had sold approximately 4000 acres of fertile land in

The legislature which met on first Monday in December of 1854 im mediately began wrangling about the "All right," said he, "Spill your location of the public buildings. Southpretty story in your own pretty way. ern Oregon claimed that, inasmuch as only get it out and over with, because that section of the state paid a consid-I've got a very important little piece erable portion of the state taxes, It of unwritten lawing to do this morn- would hold up all appropriations onng," and he glanced at the revolver less they were given their share of the public buildings. J C. Avery who "Some time after our marriage, while represented Benton county, consented we were still the best of companions to having the state university taken —in fact, before the honeymoon had from Corvallis, provided they were really worn away—I met this—this given the state capital. This trade ther man. I met him-this may in- was made, and the seat of government you staid out late-that night you while the state university was moved

When told that the location was to far from the center of the state, the member from Jackson county said: my own roof-in my own don't expect the university to stay in Good Lord-this is worth Jacksonville, but before it can be changed, we will have the spending of the fund, $12,000, with which we will put up a university building. We can use it as a courthouse when you move the state university to some other section of the state. Corvallis remained the capital until the legislature met the following Deember, when the legislature passed an act removing the capital to Salem. "I'll forgive you," she said straining and he covered his eyes with his hands state until 1872, when it took up its permanent abode at Eugene. A paltry $100,000 was realized from the sale of the 46,000 acres of land was set aside as an irreducible school fund whose interest was to be used it the maintenance of the university.

In the summer of 1872 there was some talk of Eugene having a high Ben F. Dorris and W. J. Scott were school directors. These two directors met one evening in August, at the schoolhouse with John C. Arnold, one of the school teachers; County Judge J. M. Thompson and S. H. Spencer to discuss ways and means of securing a high school for Eugene. son if he thought the county would donate a block of land as a site for the high school, and if their representathe legislature would help toward establishing a high school, and spoke of the fact that Professor T. F. Campbell whose son, P. L. Campbell, is now the president of the state university) was after the state university for Monschool?"

J. J. Walton and T. G. Hendricks. started to tell you, and as I would have was decided at this meeting to ask the of the following nine members: B. F. it was too late. I tried to reconcile Judge J. M. Thompson, Ben F. Dorris Strahan, of Albany; Dr. S. Hamilton of paign for very simple living, which will myself to a wrong, unnatural life. I and J. J. Walton were appointed to pre-Roseburg, and Judge J. M. Thompson enable students to spend a year very ouldn't shake this intruder off. He pare the necessary articles and take and T. G. Hendricks, of Eugene. had a wihp over me. He could break such other action as should be necesmy home and take away from me the sary. The committee decided to name other man-the man I really loved, the corporation the "Union University and Professor Mark Bailey were select- family can provide him with at least Grover, dear-the only man I ever Association," and to issue $50,000 worth ed as his assistants. These three $75, which would be spent if he were at body or his clothes, so the university oved." And she held out her hands of stock. The following were the in- teachers composed the first faculty, home for clothes, and that he can earn is more than a group of buildings and o him; then, remembering, she dropped corporators: Judge J. M. Thompson, J. them again as though they were lead. J. Walton W. J. J. Scott, B. F. Dorris, - "It's no use," said he. "Go on." J. G. Gray, J. B. Underwood, J. J. Com-J. G. Gray, J. B. Underwood, J. J. Com-"This stranger-this interloper-this stock, A. S. Patterson, S. H. Spencer, E. L. Bristow, E. L. Applegate and A. W. tion were signed and acknowledged on departments. August 30, 1872, agreed to prepare a bill to be submitisstate wide and its graduates are fill- proven very successful during the last builte of fair play; he should apply to ted to the legislature. The bill, among ing positions of trust, honor and re-eight of ten years. We are loaning athletic and other contests the prinfor the location of the university at the 89 students in the collegiate course no losses. on a building at a cost of not less than should be managed by nine directors, creased its usefulness till it now has simply a question of giving them right current from a light socket has been three of whom should be selected by the following organization: Graduate standards in life.

On October 23, 1872 the incorporators of the Union University association organized and elected J. M. Thomp- and a summer school. son chairman and Joshua J. Walton secretary. A committee to solicit subscriptions to the amount of $20,000 was cation, appointed, consisting of the following: Greek, M. Thompson, J. J. Walton, W. J. J.

May's last special day comes on the 30th—Memorial day. It is worthy of recognition by every loyal American citizen and should be a day honored reverently by old and young.

It is, with all its sedness, a day of great thankfulness, inasmuch as the great thankfulness, inasmuch as the "gray and blue" are united as one "gray and blue" special to raise $30,000.

J. M. Thompson, J. J. Walton, W. J. J. Scott and B. F. Dorris. After strenulation, after strenulation, physician special, physician says Ordinary Muzated Iron three times per day after mony; zoology and various other special to university including plano, voice, violin and harmony; zoology and various other special courses.

Deady Hall, named for Judge Matthew P. Deady, the first president of the board of regents, was the first building erected on the campus. Vilspicial science, public speaking, Romance languages, law, medicine, music, including plano, voice, violin and harmony; zoology and various other special courses.

The bill to locate the state university at Eugene passed both houses of the legislature and was signed by the governor. A bill was also passed authorizing the county court to levy a special thew P. Deady, the first president of the board of regents, was the first building erected on the campus. Vilspicial science, public speaking, Romance languages, law, medicine, music, including plano, voice, violin and harmony; zoology and various other special to find the follows.

The bill to locate the state university at the state university and the state university and the state university and the first president of the board of regents, was the first president of the board of regents, was the first president of the board of regents, was the first president of the board of regents, was the first president of the board of regents, was the first presi Stripes.

An occasion of unusual interest is being planned for next Tuesday night by a devoted daughter of an old solder. It is to be a "camp fire" to which six men of the Loyal Legion are bidden as honored guests. Each location of the university. So stranged to raise $30,000.

This action assured the state univerage and entirely get rid of lard hall was built in 1885, and was built in 1885, and was said: "If you were to make an action assured the state univerage and their strength and entirely get rid of lard hall was built in 1885, and was named for Henry Villard, one of the university to Eugene, but it was the begin named for Henry Villard, one of the university of their strength and entirely get rid of their symptoms of dyspepsia, liver and said: "If you were to make an action assured the state university to Eugene, but it was the begin named for Henry Villard, one of the university in some cases been doctoring for the west of the west of the west of the wonderful collection of fossils and geological properties. This action assured the state university of their strength and their strength and their strength and their strength and the west to make an action both in this country and thurdless the said: "If you would probably be greatly as tonished at the exceedingly large number who lack iron and who are ill for no other reason than the lack of iron the mount in the most generous contributors to the university sendowment. In it is the wonderful collection of fossils and geological probability of their strength and their strength and their strength and the probable who has studied widery both in this country and thurdless in from the most generous contributors to the university said their strength and their strength and their strength and their strength and the probable with their strength and their stren kill you both before I stand for that. I'm not going to be the joke in the club and the pet pity of the street. I won't touch you or harm you if you tell menow. This house belongs to me. And when you've told me the name of the wear something (if he has anything) when you've told me the name of the wear something (if he has anything) when you've told me the name of the wear something (if he has anything) when you've told me the name of the wear something (if he has anything) when you've told me the name of the wear something (if he has anything) when you've told me the name of the wear something the war. The committee with power to act as to the and mining. The west wing of the power to act as to the and mining. The west wing of the power to act as to the and mining. The west wing of the power to act as to the and mining. The west wing of the power to act as to the and mining. The committee with power to act as to the and mining. The west wing of the passes through your system like corn host is to receive in his uniform (cap- selection of a site. The committee con- architectural hall was built in 1931, and through a mill with the rollers so wide tain's) that was made for him in a sisted of Dr. A. W. Patterson, B. F. the east wing was built in 1914. The apart that the mill can't grind. As a southern city nearly half a century Dorris E. L. Bristow W. J. J. Scott Uhrary building was put up in 1907, result of this continuous blood and southern city nearly half a century Dorris, E. L. Bristow, W. J. J. Scott library building was put up in 1907. and J. G. Gray. The committee decid- The men's dormitory was built in 1893, The rooms are to be decorated with ed to compromise the matter by the later, and also in 1914. The Mary of conditions, One is too thin; and diverged the discovery of the good. But with there is to be a big wood biaze in the later, and also in 1914. The Mary of conditions, One is too thin; and diverged the discovery of the good. But with the discovery of the good of of the go flags and pictures of war heroes, and selection of a site midway between the later, and also in 1914. The Mary of fireplace. The refreshments are to be a 10 acre tract on the D. R. Christian The Engineering hall was put up in hard-tack, coffee, grilled bacon sand-place, just south of Eleventh street, be 1969. There is also a men's gymnasium some think they have dyspepsia, kidney or liver trouble; some can't sleep wiches, pie, doughnuts, pickles and tween High and Oak streets. In place and one for the girls. The most recent day.

Would that every old soldier throughout the length and breadth of our fair land could receive a personal hand-clasp and a smile of recognition on this coming Memorial day.

So, to settle all local controversy, the campbell said. I am extremely all local controversy, the campbell said. I am extremely all local controversy, the campbell said. I am extremely all local controversy, the campbell said. I am extremely all local controversy, the campbell said. I am extremely all local controversy, the campbell said. I am extremely all local controversy, the campbell said. I am extremely all local controversy, the campbell said. I am extremely all local controversy, the campbell said. I am extremely all local controversy, the campbell said. I am extremely all local controversy, the campbell said. I am extremely all local controversy, the campbell said. I am extremely all local controversy, the campbell said. I am extremely all local controversy, the campbell said. I am extremely all local controversy, the campbell said. I am extremely all local controversy, the campbell said. I am extremely all local controversy, the campbell said. I am extremely all local controversy, the campbell said. I am extremely all local controversy, the campbell said. I am extremely all local controversy the campbell said. I am extremely all local controversy the campbell said. I am extremely all local controversy the campbell said. I am extremely all local controversy the campbell said. I am extremely all local controversy the campbell said. I am extremely all local controversy the campbell said. I am extremely all local controversy the campbell said. I am extremely all said and controversy the campbell said controversy the campbell said. I am extremely all said controversy the campbell said controvers blind boob I've been-Charlie, the last "Why not get the state university for members of the board visited all sites realize this important fact. I believe as a whole, from the primary grades Eugene, in place of trying for a high under discussion, heard the arguments they will be aroused to a keener inter- through the graduate school of the uni-They decided to call a meet- of those who urged their selection, and est in the development of higher eduing for the next evening at the court- selected the 18 acre tract offered by J. cation in Oregon and actively take a H. D. Henderson. This tract was pur- hand in directing the course which the The same group met next evening chased for $2500, and is the present lo- i niversity, the Agricultural college and with a few others, among whom were cation of the state university buildings. the State Normal are pursuing. The first board of trustees consisted finished long ago if you had let me tell | legislature to locate the state univer- | Dorris, J. J. Walton and George Hum- higher education is for everybody. my confession my own way, this out- sity at Eugene, and to offer a free site phrey, of Eugene, selected by the Uni- old theory was to educate a few lead- benefit of all the people. sider came into my life on a lonesome for the university building. At this versity association, and six appointed ers. A broader democracy of intellect night when I was alone and weak and meeting it was also decided to prepare by Governor Grover, as follows: Judge is a much safer foundation for the susceptible. When I realized what I articles of incorporation, and a com- Matthew P. Deady, of Portland; Lewis state, had done—what had been done to me— mittee of three, consisting of County L. McArthur, of The Dalles; Reuben S. "We > ident and Professor Thomas Condon of clothing. We believe that the boy's all of them." with the addition of Mrs. Mary P. Spill- and save at least $75 during the sum- a faculty. The spirit of the university er and Miss Elizabeth Boise, who had mer, and that we can arrange to pro- is one of service and fair play. In life, The university opened its doors on Sep- the student loan fund. We should urged to be good losers, as well as good tember 16, 1878, with 89 pupils in the want to select the boys and girls with winners. In the code issued to stu-Patterson. The articles of incorpora- collegiate and 123 in the preparatory the assistance of the principals of the dents is this pregnant paragraph: "The > other things, provided that, in return sponsibility all over the west. From about $5000, and so far have suffered cipals of fair play and gallant conduct Eugene, the Union University associa- in 1878 the attendance has grown to "In connection with the high think- course of centuries, and which constition would select a site and erect there- nearly 2000. From the five instructors ing' which is, of course, the primary tute the lasting glory of the English-$50,000 on or before January 1, 1874, to more than 80, with 79 additional em- to bring out clearly in the minds of the and turn it over to the state. It fur- ployes. From the high school course of students the great motives which unprovided that the university the early day the university has in- derlie the movement for thrift. It is the handle of a safety razor and take the University association and six of school, college of literature, science and whom should be appointed by the gov- the arts, school of architecture, school of commerce, school of education, school of medicine, school of music, school of law, school of correspondence take work in art, architecture, botany, chemistry, commerce, economics, edu-English, geology, German History, journalism, Latin mathematics, physics, psychology, po-litical science, public speaking, Ro-

Above-Johnson hall, University of Oregon, an administration and class room building completed in June, 1915. Below, left to right-Library, Deady and Villard halls, University of Oregon; President P. L. Campbell.

"The great trouble is the muss of our fellow citizens do not realize that a comfortably at the university on a to John W. Johnson was appointed pres- tal expense of $250, including the cost, the people, and for the people- and for charge of the preparatory department. vide a loan of $100 a year for him from as well as in athletics, the students are high schools, and the substantial as- good sportsman is a good loser and a From this humble beginning the state sistance of the towns in which they generous winner; he should be quick to Judge M. P. Deady was seen and university has grown till its influence live. Our loan fund experiment has resent injustice; he should fight the of the early day the faculty has grown object of the university, we are trying

"The educational system of a state nature has endowed them. It is supported by all the people, and is for the it to the system is the limit of the desire of the people for opportunities of enlightenment and training, and the fisources. It must always be borne in mind that the educational system, like

Just as an individual is more than his which have become established in the

Astonishing Power of Iron to Give Strength to Broken Down Nervous People

nerve starvation people become gener-ally weakened, nervous and all run at night; others are sleepy and tired and the wives of the six soldier guests sides fell foul of the committee over the committee over and serve the refreshments, but this is a surprise, so let us hope none of ers was to approve the choice of a little addition to the buildings is Johnson and sides fell foul of the committee over hall or Administration hall, erected last year.

In speaking of the relation of the such cases it is worse than foolishness is a surprise, so let us hope none of ers was to approve the choice of a little addition to the buildings is Johnson all day; some skinny and bloodless, but all last year.

In speaking of the relation of the such cases it is worse than foolishness. and serve the refreshments, but this is a surprise, so let us hope none of the surprise, so let us hope none of the men will read "Dame Curtsey" toso, to settle all local controversy, the Campbell said: "I am extremely anxfagging vital powers for the moment, but when you come down to hard facts there is nothing like good old iron to put color in your cheeks and good, sound, healthy flesh on your bones. It is also a great nerve and stome is also a grant the best blood builder in the world. The only trouble was that the old forms of inorganic iron. often ruined people's teeth, upset their stomachs and were not come. Nuxated Iron, for example, in plegant to take, does not ficial NOTE-The manufacturers of Nuzated Iron have such unbounded confidence in its potency that they authorize the announcement that they will forfeit $100.00 to any Charitable In-stitution if they caunot take any man or they will forfeit $100.00 to any Charitable In-stitution if they cannot take any man or woman under sixty who lacks from and in-crease their strength 200 per cent or over is four weeks' time, provided they have no serious organic trouble. Also they will re-fund your money in any case in which Nursted from does not at least double your strength in ten days' time. It is dispensed in this city by The Owl Drug Co., and all other drougists.